The Webfoots today are anxiously awaiting the time when they will know what men will come with Hec Edmundson when his Washington Huskies make the invasion of the Willamette valley to play a series against Oregon, Friday and Saturday and against Oregon State, Monday and Tuesday. It may be that the navy-marine trainees are eligible for the game Saturday night and if that is the case it will be doubly difficult to win this one.

Also, if the trainees come they would be eligible for this game only and that would leave the squad short for the rest of the games. A conference rule states that a travelling team can not have more than ten men on it and these same ten men are the only players that are eligible for the games regardless of the number of injuries that may be suffered. In view of this it is very improbable that the Huskies will have any trainees with them.

Even if the Huskies have only their civilian team when they play the Webfoots they will still have a team that will be hard to beat. At guard they have a pair of speedy boys in Al Mar and Johnny Codd. The forward positions are capably handled by Don O'Neil and Jim Mallery, who scored 13 points against Western Washington last Saturday. Jack Nichols, one of the finest players in the league, is at center and is expected to be the spark of the team.

Because of their fine performance against Oregon State, Ernie Danner and Bob Hamilton are the only Oregon players sure of starting the coming games. The Huskies are a tall team and Bray and Borrevik will be needed to combat this. Henwood, Wimberly or Koch may alternate with Phillips at guard.

With the team in their present condition it is probable that they can enter the games this weekend on even terms with the Huskies.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

The campus war board will meet at 4 p. m. today.

Alpha Delta Pi Meal Nets Bond

Falling into line with the fourth war loan drive and backing their candidate for "Bonds Away Girl," the Alpha Delta Pis collected enough money for the purchase of a $25 war bond at their weekly "dime-digging dinner" held last night.

The house followed the plan suggested by the campus war board, in which each girl buys her way into dinner with the purchase of a ten-cent defense stamp, but "raised the ante" so that the total amount contributed equalled $18.75.

The house is donating the bond to the Student Memorial fund.

Mary Bentley, chairman of the war bonds and stamps committee, urged that every house cooperate in the drive by holding the dinners regularly each Tuesday.

Miss Bentley again reminded war board representatives in women's living organizations that they are to call Bea King at the Delta Gamma house to report the results of each victory dinner held immediately following the meal.

Other houses which reported cooperation in last night's dinners were Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Highland house, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and University house.

Infirmery Released From Isolation

Ten civilian and army students found themselves looking out from infirmery windows at Tuesday's sunshine. Since the infirmery is no longer in isolation, they could have visitors.

Civilians include: Adrienne Moffat, James Lund, Jerry Bercovitz, Barbara Ayer.

The six army men confined are: Warren Olsen and Orval Peterson, Company A; Lyle Larson, air corps; Tom Stem and George Rechmar, Company B; and Walter Mayo, Company C.

Released Tuesday were Donald Ness and Bill Glikbarg, both of the air corps.

Forum On India Set for Wednesday

A forum under the auspices of the AAUW & YWCA will be held at 4 Wednesday afternoon in the YWCA bungalow for all students interested in learning about the present situation in India.

Dr. Andrew Fish, professor of history, who was born in Great Britain, will speak on "Problems of India" and lead the discussion on this timely subject. This forum is open to everyone on the campus.

Table Tennis Players Begin Tournament

An individual elimination table tennis tournament for all women will open soon, Pat Howe, in charge of the tournament, announced. Anyone wishing to enter should sign up in Gerlinger by Friday. Games can be played any time, and equipment can be obtained at the cage in the women's locker room.

Go and try to disprove death. Death will disprove you, and that's all!—Turgency.

SIDE PATTERN

By SUE WELCH and PATSY MALONEY

Seen sittin at the SIDE . . .

Betty Sailor, wondering which one will walk in first . . . Gamma Phis playing bridge as usual . . . Several people trying (?) to study . . . Bud Pence mooning over those two suppressed desires (and one unsuppressed one) . . . Annabel McArthur eating ten cheese sandwiches in thirty-five minutes . . . Harry Gester making eyes at all the waitresses . . . Marilyn Sage talking to every one as usual . . . Thetas . . . (so many of them that one of them suggested calling a house meeting) . . . Heide DeRose talking about "her man" . . . Everyone enjoying cake, coffee, or cokes . . . Harold Robinson looking for his Chi O dream girl . . . Roy Rolls dreaming about "that beautiful long blonde hair" . . . Gerry Robison courtin' the cute Theta pledge, Becky Fish . . . M. M. Ellsworth looking pretty as usual . . . Lotsa new pins after the weekend's initiations.

Have you noticed . . . That Jerry Bercovitz has been missing lately . . . Jerry has been in the hospital with a very serious case of pneumonia, but we're all hoping he'll be back on the SIDELINE soon . . . That Rodney is back with us after a week's rest in the city pound . . . That they have ash trays at land, Kay Slocum . . . That apparently immovable yellow Ford coupe sitting around the corner . . . That they have ash trays at the SIDE and you don't really have to use the floor.

Didn't you kinda go for the way Oregon walked all over the Beavers at Saturday's game . . . the final score was 52 to 33 . . . And how about the fine game the A.S.T.U. fellows played against the Coast Guard Sunday . . . Which all leads up to the fact that you shouldn't miss the game with U. of Washington on Dad's weekend . . . Speaking of Dads, is your's coming this weekend? . . . If so, be sure and bring him into the SIDE to meet your friends after the game.

Have a "Coke" = Come, be blessed and be happy

. . . from Idaho to Iceland

Have a "Coke", says the American soldier in Iceland, and in three words he has made a friend. It works in Reykjavic as it does in Rochester. Be sure you have Coca-Cola in your icebox at home. 'Round the globe, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes — has become the ice-breaker between kindly-minded strangers.
