

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Everyone is invited to go on a Saturday afternoon hike starting at Westminster house at 3:30 p. m. to hike out to the H. E. Cully home on College Crest for a pancake supper. Wear hiking clothes and bring your friends.

The "Cotton Fling", dance and party sponsored by the Wesley Foundation group will be held at the YMCA this evening immediately following the game. Everyone is invited and campus clothes will be in order.

The regular open house at Westminster will not be held this evening as the group is invited to the Cotton Fling.

Beginning January 27 there will be open house at the YMCA for soldiers on the campus and their dates, every Thursday from 9 until taps.

Deadline for turning in entry blanks for the badminton tournament has been extended to Monday. All entries should be turned in to the cage in Gerlinger. Only three houses have entered the contest and unless two more are entered it will be discontinued.

The Town & Gown club will meet at 4 p. m. Monday at 2263 University street, for all girls interested in learning about activities of the YWCA at the University. Mrs. Robert Earl will speak on Y activities in Portland and tea will be served.

BOMBS AWAY CONTESTANTS . . .
 . . . pass the ammunition to the fighting men. Through the sale of these bonds a "Bonds Away Girl" will be selected. Eleven of the candidates shown above are: Margaret Murphy, Thomasine Rundell, Lois McConkey, Irene Gresham, Sue Stater, Marilyn Sage, Lois McDonald, Jean Villair, Jean Carkin, Nanette Holmes, and Annabel McArthur.

Bailey's Band Beats Out

 men will dress it up in new clothes which promises to score a hit.

Regular feature of Campus Serenade, the appearance of "The Little Band", Bailey's six-piece Dixieland combo, will offer an impromptu jam session on some popular tune.

ASTU Quintet To Meet

 Coach Warener will probably start Nail and Moylan at forwards which ought to give him plenty of height and striking power.

So far the greatest scoring power has come from the forward positions so the G.I.-Webfoot offensive will depend upon the accuracy of Nail and Moylan's "eyes". Kulesh at center and Worth and Kramme at guards ought to spark the team with their passing and their shooting too.

One of the strongest ASTU weapons thus far has been their tight zone defense which ought to prove even more effective on the "postage stamp" size court at Salem. This will be the Army-Duck squad's sixth regular game and they hope to make their record four for six.

Huskies Slap

 C, 12; Robinson, C, 2; Mar, G, 7; Haug, G, 3; Codd, G, 21.

The Washington Huskies and the Oregon Webfoots will clash tonight on the Igloo floor in the last game of their annual four game series. The outcome of this series will help to show how capable either of the teams is of taking the championship of the league.

The starting lineup for Washington will probably be Mallory, Nichols, Mar, O'Neil, and Haug.
