

Juniors Name Heads

Edith Newton, Anne Craven Chosen Weekend Co-Chairmen

Edith Newton, Oregon business manager, and Anne Craven, Emerald news editor, were unanimously elected Junior Weekend co-chairmen by the junior class officers Wednesday night. The appointment is subject to the approval of the ASUO executive council.

The co-chairmen have served on Dad's day, Mother's day, Nickel Hop and war board committees. Both are members of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary and Miss Newton belongs to Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary.

Ducks Tip Cougars In First Tussle

Oregon scored its first road trip victory Monday night as the Ducks defeated Washington State 40 to 36. The Webfoots got off to a shaky start before they settled down to control the latter part of the half. During this period the lead changed eight times.

After half-time the Cougars seemed to be a rejuvenated team. They gradually narrowed the margin and had two momentary one point leads. Oregon gained a three point margin with but 6 minutes to go and never again relinquished their lead.

Borrevik of Oregon led the squad to victory by scoring 19 points. High for Washington State was Rennick with 13. Borrevik at 6-foot-9 is a great contrast to Rennick who is only 5-foot-6.

Oregon used a zone defense that slowed the game considerably. Only four free throws were missed out of 18 tried.

Summaries: Oregon, 40—Bray, F, 2; Humphreys, F, 3; Danner, F, 2; Borrevik, C, 19; Hamilton, G, 9; Phillips, G, 4; Henwood, G, 1.

Washington State, 36—Rennick, F, 12; Brayton, F, 9; Lagers, F, 2; Gregg, C, 0; Waller, C, 0; Joslin, G, 6; Carstein, G, 6; Dickson, G, 0.

Soldiers to Pick 'Queen' As Emerald Cover Girl

An all-soldier committee will pick the Emerald cover girl and the other five finalists at 9:30 Friday night in the men's lounge, Gerlinger hall.

Twenty-three coeds are vying for the honor of a full page picture on the front page of the Emerald's annual spring edition, published February 18. The edition will be 20 pages.

The candidates should wear short silks at the judging Friday night. Judges include five social chairmen—Bob Zimmer, Co. A, Bud Pence, Co. B, Gerald Sharkey, Co. C, Howard Steers, Co. D, Sy Bernstein, air corps—and Don Dittman, Military Ball master of ceremonies, and Tye Simpson, publicity chairman of the Military Ball.

Contestants are as follows: Barbara Radmore, Alpha Omicron Pi; Helen Crawford, Alpha Phi; Dorothy Payne, Kappa Alpha Theta; Betty Lee Humphries, Alpha Delta Pi; Norma Davidson, Alpha Chi Omega; Natalie Carier, Delta Gamma; Mary Mercier, Sigma Kappa; Anita Fernandez, Gamma Phi Beta.

Virginia Cabe, Birch lodge; Ruth Van Buskirk, Alpha Xi Delta; Audrey Mathews, Hilyard house; Lois Giberson, Delta Delta Delta; Marianne Lynch, Pi Beta Phi; Virginia Schutz, Hawthorne lodge; Jeanette

(Please turn to page two)

Pointless Food Sale Slated by Phi Theta

Barbara Pearson, chairman of the Phi Theta food sale has announced that the annual Phi Theta food sale will be held February 10 and 11, from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. Alice Buckingham and Betty Towe are co-chairmen of the affair.

Twisties will be offered at the sale. Booths will be placed in front of the Co-op, Side, Friendly, Fenton, Villard and Deady halls, and the art school for selling the food; and house representatives will take shifts at clerking.

Soldiers and civilian students are encouraged to patronize this food sale as all profits will go toward the Phi Theta scholarship fund. Living organizations have already responded in turning in their orders to house representatives.

Junior weekend will be on May 6 this year and tentative plans include most of the regular pre-war functions. A musical comedy may be presented in place of the canoe fete. According to the co-chairmen the campus luncheon will probably not be held this year due to rationing problems.

Mother's day will be held as usual on Junior Weekend and the annual sunlight serenade will again be presented for their enjoyment.

Mr. Bones, End Man, Return Friday Night

"Dina", black faced darkies and southern fried chicken will feature the minstrel show entitled "Old Man Adam and His Chillun" to be given by the Wesley foundation group Friday night at 8 p. m. at the Methodist church on 4th and Willamette streets.

Everyone on the campus is invited to this "drama of the deep south" which is composed of a cast of twenty five Wesleyans under the direction of Mrs. John Worthington, leader of Wesley activities at the University.

Large Crowd Planned For GI Military Ball

Ten soldier-students have been coordinating rough drafts, and plans and outlines for the past four weeks so that a record crowd will be able to attend the Army Military Ball, Saturday, March 5, at McArthur court.

The men, representing all four companies of the ASTU, are responsible for the entire program next Saturday night.

Pill Studio Roll Shows Steady Increase

Perhaps it is the return of long-absent downpour. At any rate the infirmity patient roll has been increasing during the past few days. Wednesday afternoon there were 20, most of them army trainees, and most of them victims of minor respiratory ailments.

The outnumbered civilians are: Mary Felles, Ruth Cox, Dorothy McLane, and Jerry Bercovitz.

GI patients are: Co. A, Charles Bruneau, Robert Hall, Lawrence Mulvaney, Emanuel Plafkin, Charles Fluderbaum, and Harold Knight; Co. B, George Rechner and William McKinley; Co. C, Don Dixon, Helmer Swensen, Saul Katz, and John Ceseck; Co. D, William McKeivitt, and James Thayer; and air corps, Lyle Larson and Michael Sipler.

Student Union Heads Set Meet Tomorrow

Newly-elected student union committee members will get together for the first time Friday at 4 p. m. in the office of Marjorie Goodwin, Emerald editor, in the journalism building. At that time a chairman for the committee and several sub-committee chairmen will be chosen.

A background and review of student union will be given by Ann Leo, who was chairman last year and was a member of the committee for four years. She was active in putting out the student union issue of the Emerald and in organizing the budget.

New members of the committee are: Bob Hall, senior; Martha Beard and Jack Cairns, juniors; Mary McCandless and Gene Conklin, sophomores; Florence Hintzen, Martha Thorsland, Gloria Cloud, and Janet Marugg, freshman.

'Dark Victory' Tickets Available at Box Office

Reservations should be obtained now for the return performance of University theater's "Dark Victory" starring Kay Korn and Frank Krasnowsky, this Friday, February 4, Guild hall, Horace Robinson, director, said Wednesday.

Tickets may be purchased at the box office in Johnson hall, or reservations may be made by telephoning 330, extension 216.

Matrix Guests To Learn Ropes

Potential writers among University women will learn what will be expected of them when Helen Hedrick, Medford authoress, speaks on the "Present Challenge to American Writers", at the annual Matrix table, February 11. Given each year by members of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, this dinner will be held at the Osborn hotel with selected Eugene women and coeds active in liberal arts and journalism as guests.

A UO alumna, Mrs. Hedrick is now working on novels and short stories. Her first novel, "The Blood Remembers", which concerns whites and Indians of the Klamath region of Oregon and Colorado, was published by Alfred Knopf in 1941. Her first short story was published in the Saturday Evening Post in 1938.

"I Remember the Rain," one of her short stories, was used in the secondary school literature text, the "American Scene," published in 1942.

Foreign Students Open For Interviews Monday

A. Randle Elliott, administrator of the institute of international education has announced that he will be on the campus Monday, February 7.

His purpose in visiting the University of Oregon is to interview the foreign students, especially those from other American republics, and to confer with them on any problems they may have.

Foreign students wishing an interview with Mr. Elliott should make applications, the men through the dean of men's office in Johnson hall, and the women through the dean of women's office in Gerlinger.

Dramatists' Meeting Introduces New Play

Reports will be made from the advisory council, and the new play will be introduced at the University theater meeting tonight at 7:30 in Guild hall.

The meeting is of great importance to University theater members, Faculty Adviser Horace Robinson has announced, particularly because new personnel cards will be filled out in accordance with the new point system the theater is putting into operation.

Interested students who are not already members are invited to attend this regular winter term meeting.

Betty French Named Chief Night Editor

Betty French, freshman in journalism, has been appointed chief night editor on the Emerald, Marjorie Goodwin, Emerald editor, announced Wednesday. She will replace Carol Cook who resigned.

Library Display Features Books on Italy With Both Classical and Modern Exhibited

Italy, past and present, is the theme of the latest exhibit in the circulation room of the library. The exhibit features a showcase of material about Saint Francis of Assisi, one each of classical and modern Italian literature and one of art.

In the St. Francis display is the book "The Little Flowers of Saint Francis of Assisi," the first English translation, revised by Don Rogers Huddleston. This is the 262nd copy of the only 1500 printed. There is also a reproduction of "The Burial of Saint Francis" by Giotto, a painting, the original of which hangs in the Church of Santa Croce, Florence.

A line-for-line translation of "Paradise" commonly called "The Divine Comedy" by Dante Alighieri is one of the books in the classical literature section. This translation by Melville Best Anderson is in the rhyme-form of the original writing. The literature of the twentieth century is represented by "Il Fuoco" and "Francesca Da Rimini" by Gabriele d'Annunzio; "Bread and Wine" by Ignazio Silone, and "Icaro" by Lauro de Bosis.

The art display features reproductions of Fra Lippo Lippi's "Madonna and Child"; Raphael's "The Madonna Del Granduca", and Michelangelo's paintings from the Sistine Chapel in Rome, considered by many to be his masterpiece and the most powerful piece of painting in existence. In addition to the reproductions, there is a translated copy of "A Treatise on Painting" by Leonardo da Vinci.

Points of interest in Italy, particularly in Rome, are shown by pictures in another part of the exhibit. The Appian Way, constructed in 312 B. C. by Appius Claudius, is pictured as it looked when first completed and again as it is now. Allied troops are now fighting along this road, which stretches from Rome to Capua. There are colored photographs of St. Peter's Cathedral in Rome, one of the most famous churches in the world.

These exhibits are compiled by committees appointed from the library staff to serve for three months.

—W. R. L.