Fourth Exec Position Open Spring Term

Martha Jane Switzer, secretary-treasurer of the ASUO executive council offered her resignation from the council at its meeting Wednesday afternoon. Her resignation was accepted and will be effective spring term, because of her early graduation.

The council passed recommendations and tentative approvals on various questions which may affect student government in the future.

Announcement was made that petitions for Mother's Day chairman must be turned in to Jean Page, before noon next Thursday. An eligibility slip must accompany petitions. Students from any class may present petitions.

The council received a report from the newly-formed Student Union building committee and granted Chairman Gene Conklin, permission to investigate the situation regarding collection of Co-op receipts.

Discussion was held on a proposal that a booklet containing the ASUO constitution, description and information about student committees—all phases of student government—be printed under the auspices of the council.

The proposal was passed tentatively, and will become official if such a booklet's publication is possible. It was explained by Nancy Ames, president, that this book would augment the limited "Welcome Book" issued to incoming students, and would help committees and the students as a whole to understand their duties and privileges. Not all the details are clear, but it is probable that the booklet would have to be financed through the educational activities board.

The council was also asked for suggestions on next year's "Welcome Book", which will be published spring term.

Civil War Wages Over F. Sinatra

Civil war invaded Hawthorne lodge Monday, and the struggle, which at its peak threatened to destroy all house unity, was finally brought under control by house council members who threatened to call the fire department to quell the near-riot.

Coeds to Mark X's Today For 1944 King of Hearts

Today is "King of Hearts" voting day so girls should be sure to vote for their favorite candidate. Tickets purchased for the Hop serve as ballots.

The ballot box will be placed in front of the Side and a girl will be in charge there between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. Choices should be written on one half of the ticket, that portion torn off and dropped in the box. Results will not be announced until Friday.

Chairman June Johnson reminded Oregon coeds that they have only 36 more hours to snag a date for the Hop. It is suggested that if girls wish to go and don't wish to 'leap year' it, they may have the social chairman of their living organization contact the social chairman of any of the men's living organizations, military or civilian.

In previous issues one of the candidates from the air corps has been listed as Gerald Douglas. That name is incorrect; the proper name is Stuart Douglas.

The Heart Hop will take place from 9 to 10:30 Friday at the Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Gamma, Chi Omega, and Pi Beta Phi houses. The coronation will take place at the Delta Gamma house at 10 o'clock.

All Heart Hop ticket representatives are asked to turn in their remaining tickets and money to Anne Graham at the Theta house by this evening.

LAME DUCKS WIN MEET

The Lame Ducks won the final intramural swimming meet of the term last night, eking out 55 to 41 lead over their closest competitors, the ADP's.

Gamma Phi Beta won third place in the meet with 80 points and Highland house fourth with 18.

Landreth Wins $1000 Medical Scholarship

Winner of the 1944-45 Kenneth MacKenzie $1000 memorial scholarship in the University of Oregon and the medical school at Portland is Eugene W. Landreth, sophomore in liberal arts. Acting President Orlando J. Hollis announced the award given on the recommendation of the pre-medical advisory committee headed by Dr. Harry E. Yocum, professor of biology.

Landreth has a grade point average of 3.53 which is considered an exceptional mark in this field. As long as he maintains his outstanding scholastic record, the award will be continued at $200 a year covering the student's last year in pre-medical work at the University and for his four academic years at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland.

Due to the wartime speed-up program now in effect in both the University and the medical school, the four $200 awards will be available in a three-year period. Landreth will enter the Portland school in October and will have completed the course in 1947.

Robert D. Koler was last year's winner and entered the medical school this January.

The scholarship is financed from the $250,000 bequest by Mildred Anna Williams of New York City, as a memorial to the late Dean MacKenzie of the medical school.
