

Two More Houses Go All Out For Red Cross Membership

The 1944 Red Cross membership drive gathered momentum yesterday when two more houses added to Tuesday's four reported 100 per cent membership: Alpha Delta Pi with $48.50, and Alpha Omicron Pi, $43.80.

According to co-chairmen Dorothy Rasmussen and Mary K. Minor, nine more houses turned in the results of Wednesday's collections: Laurel lodge, $21.50; Hillcrest lodge, $20; Birch lodge, $17.75; Hilyard house, $15; Alpha Gamma Delta, $15; Casablanca, $13; Chi Omega, $10; Kappa Alpha Theta, $10; Highland house, $5.50.

The fact that the competition is being judged on a percentage basis was stressed by the chairmen. The house, no matter how small, whose members contribute the most money individually will receive the first prize cup awarded by the war board. Second prize of records totaling $2.50 will go to the next house, also rated on a percentage basis.

Dorothy Rasmussen reported that today is the last day when the Kwamas will be stationed at tables before the Side and in the Co-op to receive contributions there. All students not living on the campus should avail themselves of their last opportunity to support their campus drive by making their donations at the Kwama tables today. For the convenience of men living off the campus a box has been placed in the YMCA buildings for their contributions.

Emphasizing again the extensiveness of the services rendered by the Red Cross and the importance of generous support of this war fund campaign, the officers of the campus drive remind the students that in wartime the Red Cross must do for the individual soldier what his own family and friends would do personally. "The best way to reach your serviceman with your help is through the Red Cross. Wherever he is, the Red Cross is at his side and your contributions will give him the food, medicine, cigarettes, blood plasma, and morale building entertainment he asks for."

It is not only the soldiers and sailors on actual duty that receive aid from the Red Cross, however. When disaster strikes on the home front the 3756 chapters of the organization are ready to assist in rescue and medical care and provide food, shelter, clothing, and rehabilitation. Last year when scores of families in Eugene's neighbor community, Springfield, were left homeless and destitute after the Willamette river flooded their district, the Red Cross was ready with blankets, warm food, and medicine.

Postwar Rehabilitation Discussed By Miss Schrottsky for Assembly

"One of the greatest problems will be the rehabilitation of the home," stated Oleda Schrottsky, leader in the national dramatic department of the Girl Scouts, in her speech at the AWS assembly yesterday.

Miss Schrottsky discussed problems coeds will have to face now and after the war. She cited examples of homes where both parents are working in defense industries and the children are left more or less to shift for themselves. "We have so little time today for the little niceties of life."

Public Administration Fellowship Offered

Dr. F. M. Davenport and Dr. Institute of Public Affairs will be on the campus March 28 to interview applicants for their annual fellowship, Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, announced Thursday.

The fellowships of the National Institute of Public Affairs, approximately 40 of which are given each year, provides for a year's internship in public administration work in Washington, D.C.

Schools, she commented, are unable to adequately provide a background upon which children could base their living. The speaker described a school in Willow Run which she visited as an example. There were 900 pupils and only 20 teachers. The principle of the school had assured her that the influence of the Boy and Girl Scout organizations was extremely important. "Today, more than ever before, we need scout leaders," asserted Miss Schrottsky.

Conklin Fills Post

Gene Conklin, chairman of the all-campus Student Union committee, was elected by a majority vote of the ASUO executive council Thursday to fill the junior representative spot on the council. Conklin fills the post left vacant when Phyllis Horstman was upped to the position of secretary of the council on the graduation of Martha Jane Switzer.

Conklin was tapped for Friars, senior men's honorary, at the sophomore Whiskerino. This is his first year on the campus. In 1941 he attended George Washington university in Washington, D.C., and at the same time worked in the bill clerk's office in the house of representatives.

Conklin's sophomore year was spent at Eastern Oregon College of Education where he was busi-

Committee Chairmen Chosen For All-Campus Sing Contest

Committee heads for the All-Campus Sing to be presented during Junior Weekend have been announced by Arliss Boone, chairman of the sing.

Marty Beard, junior in liberal arts, is chairman of ushering and seating arrangements for the Sing. Anyone wishing to work with her on this committee should contact her at Alpha Delta Pi house.

Spring Term Heralds New YMCA Activities

The University YMCA showed signs of new life and activity as the new student advisory cabinet held its first meeting of the spring term yesterday morning in the YMCA committee room.

Presided over by Acting President Donald Jeppesen, freshman in liberal arts, the meeting ran into a two-hour discussion of "Y" post-war planning, present "Y" conditions and various activity projects to be undertaken. Discussion of membership enlargement occupied a notable part of the meeting.

Harry Granger, freshman in liberal arts and acting secretary, and Dick Peters, also freshman in liberal arts, were appointed to make membership plans. Ervin Webb, freshman in liberal arts, was appointed.

Chairman of the men's section of the program, men's songs and those skits to be presented by either men students or soldiers, is Rollin Wood. Wood announced today that all men wishing to participate in the Sing, or to appear in skits, can reach him at Campbell club.

Among the students who are working on skits in preparation for presentation of them during Junior Weekend are Joan Dolph, junior in journalism, Betty Ann Stevens, junior in journalism, and Jean Templeton, sophomore in drama.

Miss Boone asks that anyone wishing to work on any committee for the All-Campus Sing contact her at 1307.

Houses which have not turned in their song titles for the Sing, should do so at once, as the deadline is Friday at 5 o'clock, Miss Boone cautioned.

Trap Laid for Writer

Bowing to the inevitable, the Emerald is sending out a call for sports writers with an eye to finding an assistant sports editor. Anyone interested should write a sports column, something on the order of Duck Tracks, concerning either men's or women's sports or both and turn it in to the Emerald news editor.

Adventure of an American businessman "south of the border" will provide laughs and action at the scheduled presentation of "Do New York a Huipanguillo," a Mexican-produced film to be shown at the Mayflower theater Tuesday, March 28. Announced by Mrs. Ethel B. Nichols as "a recent film hit in Mexico," the picture has also been shown with success in parts of the United States.

Negotiation of Army Contract Completed

Negotiations for the settlement of last term's army contract with the University of Oregon were completed yesterday, according to Dr. Will V. Norris, academic director of the soldier program.

Lieutenant Colonel Irwin Clawson, field artillery from Fort Douglas represented the army in the negotiations, aided by Major W. S. Averill, commandant of the ASTP.

Representing the University were J. O. Lindstrom, business manager; Dr. Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary and registrar; H. A. Bork, comptroller and acting budget officer; Paul Waldren, business manager of Oregon State college; Dr. C. D. Byrne, secretary of the state board of higher education, and Dr. Norris. Others were called in during the negotiations to represent special phases of the contract.

Contracting, housing, instruction, medical aid, and physical education expenses concerned the remainder of the settlement.

Marie Rogndahl, Now Finalist, Wins Audition on Hour of Charm

A finalist among regional winners, Marie Rogndahl will leave Sunday for Albany, New York, where she will sing on the Hour of Charm broadcast on the radio, April 2. Finalists were chosen from records of the voices of 13 regional winners in General Electric's Hour of Charm contest for the "Undiscovered Voice of America." The recording of Miss Rogndahl's voice was made when she sang at the regional contest in Portland last month.

Miss Rogndahl will be accompanied east by her chaperon, Miss Maude Garnett, an associate professor in the music school, and her mother, Mrs. Inga Rogndahl of Portland. Expenses for herself and her chaperon will be paid by the sponsors of the contest.

After a sendoff and flowers from the Eugene chamber of commerce Friday night at a luncheon at the Eugene hotel, Miss Rogndahl will leave Saturday morning for Portland. At 1 p.m. she will appear at the Victory center there. Later she will be a guest at a luncheon given by H. Q. Cox, assistant manager of KGW.

Saturday night the blonde soprano will take part in a broadcast, previewing the Four Freedoms, (Please turn to page four)
