Dr. Rebec In Hospital

Enroute from Tucson, Arizona, to Portland for an operation due to a returned attack of phlebitis, Dr. George Rebec, professor emeritus of philosophy, is at the White Memorial hospital in Los Angeles. Friends in Portland and Eugene received telegrams Tuesday saying that his trip had been interrupted by the necessity for an immediate operation.

Since no further word has been received from him, friends here assume that his condition is favorable.

The former head of the department of philosophy and dean of the graduate division of the state system of higher education has been spending his winters in Arizona since he retired several years ago. While at a hospital in Tucson he was attacked with phlebitis. Rather than have an operation there, he insisted on going to his physicians in Portland. He started for Portland, where arrangements had been made for him to be taken directly to the hospital.

First Spring Scrap Drive Set for Friday

"Get hep to the fact that the first spring term scrap drive is this Friday," said Florence Hintzen, chairman. "Flatten out those tin cans and get the waste fat from your house kitchen." The scrap truck will stop at each house on the campus Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to collect tin cans and fats.

Several weeks have elapsed since the last drive and all houses have had an opportunity to accumulate scrap and, according to the chairman, it is expected that they will be able to contribute more than their usual amounts.

FRANK KRAŚNOWSKY . . .

. . . will play the part of William Brown in the University theater's spring term show "The Great God Brown," opening tonight on the Guild hall stage.

Jewelry Dinners Order of the Day

Houses will "Go Native" Wednesday night, April 5, with South Sea dinners designed to collect costume jewelry to be used by servicemen in their trading with natives in the South Seas.

Sponsored by the campus war board, each house is being requested to use the tropical theme during Wednesday night, especially in the clothes worn to dinner, and with a special emphasis on costume jewelry.

After dinner the "hat" will be passed and the girls may donate some or all of the jewelry they

Kappas Tops in Drive For Red Cross Funds

Kappa Kappa Gamma, contributing $109 to the campus grand total of $945 in the 1944 Red Cross membership drive, is the winner of the cup to be presented to them at the Mortar Board ball Saturday night by the war board. Alpha Delta Pi, $57.69, came in second place, and Alpha Chi Omega receives honorable mention with $51.

Dorothy Rasmussen and Mary K. Minor, chairmen of the drive, reported that the contest was determined on the percentage basis as was previously announced and Kappa Kappa Gamma won with their average contribution of $2.79 per member. The ADPI's gave an average of $1.46 per person, and Alpha Chi Omega was close with $1.23 per member.

Although their support was not added to the campus total of $945, the soldiers contributed generously to the Red Cross, according to their officers. The air corps gave between $150 and $200, and the AST's (including those which have left the campus recently) added $392.61 to the total of $567.61 from the army.

Orides were the only non-living organization which contributed to the drive—$9.62. From boxes in the Co-op and the Side $3.57 were collected. The thirteen houses who went 100 per cent are: Kappa Kappa Gamma, $109; Alpha Delta Pi, $57.69; Alpha Chi Omega, $54; Delta Delta Delta, $52.50; Alpha Gamma Delta, $44; Pi Beta Phi, $44.

Hall May Be Swamped With Mortar Board Bids

Maybe this will start a landslide, but reliable reports have it that about 100 air corps fellows are moping around Hendrick's hall waiting for their heart's desires, any of a number of Oregon coeds, to call them up with invitations to the Mortar Board ball Saturday night.

In case the coeds don't know a likely date, they may call Cy Bernstein, social chairman for the air corps detachment. How long this supply of dates will last is anyone's guess.

Vespers To Feature Early Church Music

Early church music will provide the atmosphere for the University's Palm Sunday vesper service at the music auditorium, 5 p.m., April 2. Dr. Samuel Haig Jameson, professor of sociology, will relate resurrection legends of different countries as the meditation. He will conclude with the Christian Easter story.

Two music groups will take part. The all-girl vesper choir, under the direction of Helen Luvaas, will sing "Laetamini in Domino," "Crucifixus," and "Benedictus." The songs will be in Latin and will be translated by Rollin Calkin. The choir will sing from the balcony.

A string quartet, composed of Marion Saltness, Elizabeth Wohler, Joyce Whittle, and Ruth Baker, will play "Sonata de Canera" of Corelli.

The student religious council sponsors the services, which are presented on the first Sunday of each month.

Ushers will be the officers of the council.

Mortar Board ball is the annual girl-date-boy dance, and leap year makes it particularly timely. Girls buy tickets, which are 60 cents a couple, from Phi Thetas or Kwamas in their houses, or when they enter McArthur court Saturday night.

Feminine escorts won't swirl their escorts, or be swirled, around the floor in formals to the music of a swing band. War conditions mean that it will be a short silk affair and that music will be "electrically transcribed."

A man who has never been on a Mortar Board ball date has missed something. With everything in the reverse, girls take the fellows to dinner, help them with their coats, open doors, check coats, give boutonnières if they wish, and extend every other courtesy they can conceive.

The usual custom of tapping Kwama and Mortar Board members during the dance intermission will not be carried out, as it is too early in the year. The ball was usually the last dance of spring term.

Marilyn Campbell is chairman of the affair.

War Correspondent To Speak Thursday

Speaking before an all campus assembly Thursday, April 6, Mrs. Lise Lindbaek, former war correspondent, will discuss her experiences in Europe's war theaters. The assembly will be held in Room 205 Chapman.

Particular emphasis in the talk will be given to Norway, Mrs. Lindbaek's native country. Mrs. Lindbaek came to the campus to teach Norwegian to foreign area and language students shortly before the ASTP was dissolved.
