

House Singing Order Listed

The order in which houses competing in the All-Campus Sing will present their selections was announced Thursday by Arliss Boone, chairman of the Sing.

Choice of times was made today at the Emerald office, where song leaders from the various houses drew lots to find their places on the song program.

The order is: Alpha Gamma Delta, Steiwer hall, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Alder lodge; Sigma Kappa, Alpha Chi Omega, Hillcrest lodge; Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Casablanca lodge, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Gamma, Hilyard house, Alpha Delta Pi, Highland house, Pi Beta Phi, and Chi Omega.

Skits, which have this year been added to the list of entertainment presented at the sing, will be chosen Saturday, April 1. Several groups of people on the campus are now working on their skits, which are expected to be completed and ready for rough presentation on Saturday at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Student Union committee meeting at 4 p.m. Monday in Room 101 Johnson will include the chairmen of the three class committees, it was announced by Gene Conklin, general chairman.

Dr. Knight to Lead UO Sunrise Services

Willamette university's new professor of religion, Dr. John Knight, will speak at Easter sunrise services at 6:45 a.m. April 9 in McArthur court. Dr. Knight is a native of Tennessee, a graduate of Boston university, and received his Ph.D. from Vanderbilt. His topic has not been announced.

Featured music will come from the a capella choir of Eugene high school, and the University stringed ensemble will furnish incidental music. Glenn Griffith, musical director at Eugene high school, is in charge of music.

Twenty-five girl reserves from Eugene and University high schools will be in charge of the offering—to be given to the World Student Relief fund. Ushering will be taken care of by the two High-Y clubs.

Others appointed at a meeting Wednesday are: Eleanor Scott, retiring president of the student religious council, program; Mrs. J. D. Bryant, adviser on program; Doug Moore, arrangements; Dr. Robert Cushman, adviser on arrangements; Charlotte Calder, promotion; A. L. Holman, adviser on promotion.

Sponsor of the program is the student council on religious education.

It is possible that there will be folk dancing between 8 and 9 under the direction of Rosamund Wenkworth.

To satisfy the hungry element, Mary (Pete) Lawson, chairman of the food situation, has promised that hamburgers, donuts, apples, Habit will have to be broken on the St. Catherine's college campus, St. Paul, Minn., because the doors in the main exit of Whitby hall have been fixed to swing outward by order of the state fire marshal. The doors have swung inward ever since the building was built in 1914.

Fee Scholarship Grants Made to 8

Eight University students have received state fee scholarships for spring term through the alternate list.

Those who have received the scholarships are: Beryl Robertson, senior in liberal arts; Esther Quier, sophomore in liberal arts; Ruth Kay Collins, junior in journalism; Eileen Brenneman, sophomore in education; Helen Wohler, sophomore in liberal arts; Nancy Craven, senior in liberal arts; Anne Craven, junior in journalism, and Edith Newton, junior in journalism.

Students have one more day in which to turn in their state fee scholarship applications for 1944-45 to Mrs. Frances DeFreest, secretary in charge of scholarships.

Of the applications received from students, a number of the applicants will receive scholarships immediately and others will be placed on the alternate list, their names listed according to their grade record. Alternates can be almost certain of getting a scholarship if they are high on the top of the alternate list, Mrs. DeFreest said.

Mrs. DeFreest cautioned applicants to check their applications thoroughly before handing them in to her as she has received many applications unsigned and incorrectly filled out, and the time is limited for correction.

and cokes will all be sold during the evening.

First fun night of the term, it is being sponsored by the WAA cabinet, with Margaret Wake in charge of arrangements.
