Girls' Tennis, Softball Games Start Wednesday

Wednesday, June 6, will be a day of great activity for all of the girls participating in this spring's intramural activities. At 4 o'clock the first games in baseball and tennis will be played. Every day now you see the girls from the various living organizations at the tennis courts practicing for the coming competition. A strong team to watch will be the ADPIs with Marty Beard, Barbara Bentley, Evelyn Stephens, on their team. These girls have been seen out practicing several afternoons during the week.

Another team seen out practicing of late, only in the sport of baseball instead of tennis, is the Dee Gee's, who are to be seen about every evening playing ball on the lot across the street from their house. The Alpha Phis upset the Tri Deltis in a practice game the other night by beating them 39 to 3. Two top players for the Alpha Phis are Carolyn Wells and Anabelle McArthur.

Birch lodge is also expected to turn out an excellent team this year. According to their manager Wanda Lou Payne, who is an excellent ball player herself, Virginia Scholl, Elsie Finn and Peggy Page will be definite assets to their team.

The last day for applications to be turned in for teams that intend to participate in the intramurals is Monday, April 3, at 5. These applications should be turned in at the cage in the girls' gym.

At the last meeting of the Outing club, they worked out a plan for members to earn checks for WAA by participating in their activities. According to the plan, girls may earn their points by attending the Outing club meetings and participating in the hiking. An overnight hike in the near future was also discussed.

Pilot's Wings Won By Dale E. Borgen

Dale E. Borgen, former student at the University, will receive his pilot's wings and officer's bars soon at the twin-engine advanced flying school of the army air forces, Tampa, Florida.

Borgen went into pilot training in September, 1943, and has his primary training at Muskogee, Oklahoma, and his basic at Coffeyville, Kansas. He will be assigned to duty as an instructor or as a combat pilot at the completion of his training.

Rehabilitation Program Plans Not Definite, Says Killgallon

By BETTY ROBERTSON

"General rehabilitation of servicemen in schools of higher learning is being discussed and planned for all over the United States, but until a definite plan is decided upon, the University of Oregon can only be ready and keep abreast of developments in order to take proper measures if necessary," said P. A. Killgallon, executive secretary and adviser of the rehabilitation program on the campus.

At the present time the most promising bill in Congress to provide for aid to war veterans is the legion omnibus bill, which is expected to pass both houses before Easter. This will give help not only to veterans with disabilities, but to those who wish to continue their education as before.

Each state has a board of vocational education which takes care of veterans with a ten per cent disability or more. The federal government will give those qualified four years' schooling free under the auspices of the Veterans' Administration, and a short, thorough vocation course to the serviceman who has no disability and is honorably discharged.

According to Mr. Killgallon, the government will probably include some kind of system by which war workers in essential industries will receive some of the same benefits as the veterans. The Army Institute in Wisconsin is sponsoring correspondence courses in 64 fields of study for men in all branches of the service, and they will be given proficiency certificates to prove their adeptness in these fields.

"After the war, the returning student may be impatient and demand the streamlining of many University courses," Mr. Killgallon stated. "We may have to cut out academic requirements, make the entire program less rigid, more flexible. Many upper division courses may be moved to lower division, so that the students will be able to finish in a shorter period of time."

"Everything is very indefinite now. We would like to offer untold possibilities to the servicemen, but no program has been permanently set up for them. We can only suppose."

Libe Record Concert Will Observe Easter

The recorded concert to be presented this Sunday, April 2, in the browsing room of the library will be in keeping with the Easter season. The program will be selected from the library of Miss Odelia Jungers, graduate assistant of the school of music and librarian in the Carnegie room.

The program will be as follows: Parsifal, 3rd act, Wagner; selections from Mass in B minor, Bach.

The patronesses are Mrs. Alton Baker, Mu Phi Epsilon patroness; Mrs. Phil Nordling, Mu Phi Epsilon alumnae; Miss Betty Bennett, Mu Phi Epsilon actives; Miss Virginia Alley, house librarian group; and Mrs. Corwin V. Seitz, library staff.

GIRLS!

This is your night to make an impression

Just remember the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. So before the Mortar Board dance bring him in for a dinner.

Late Boxing . . . Friday night . . . Beau Jack decisions Juan Zurita at Madison Square Garden after ten rounds. Jack hit the Mexican in the stomach when he was trying to help Jack our of the ropes. This foul blow winded the Mex, although he put up a good battle until the last bell.

Late Swimming . . . Friday night . . . Bill Smith, navy man formerly from Hawaii, broke the national A.A.U. record at Ann Arbor in the 220-yard free-style swim. Smith splashed the distance in 2:08. Previous record was 1:55.1. USC beat UCLA in swim meet 43 to 41.

Late Baseball . . . Friday night . . . The University of California baseball team is scheduled to meet the St. Mary's Pre-Flight nine today (Saturday) in a game which predictions say the Air Devils will win by a sizeable margin. The service team has several good baseballers, headed, ironically, by Lt. Bill Priest, former California mound star. The Cal team knows what they're up against, they remember the days when they had that man on their side.

The designer of Europe's largest earth dam—that at Sofia, Bulgaria—recently joined the army mathematics staff at Washington State college. He is Dr. Paul Nemenyi, Hungarian refugee from Hitlerism. He fled Europe three years ago and has since been teaching at the Colorado School of Mines.

Two non-academic members of the Randolph-Macon women's college staff, Lynchburg, Va., have been with the school ever since its founding in 1893. The two are Mr. Burks, superintendent of the buildings and grounds, and "Aunt Maria," for half a century a maid in the college dormitories.

Louisiana's state normal college backed the attack in a big way at a recent war bond rally where the $50,000 goal was exceeded by $68,000. A total of $118,000 of war bonds were bought at the Saturday night street rally.
