

Deadline Pending for ASUO Petitions; Nomination Meeting Set for April 13

By ANNE CRAVEN

Certificates of intention to run and certificates of eligibility of those to be nominated for ASUO and class officers must be turned in to Nancy Ames, president of the ASUO, at her office in McArthur court by midnight April 10. Nominations will be made at an assembly April 13 and according to the ASUO constitution, the petitions must be in by midnight on the second day before the nomination assembly.

So far there have been no dark horse candidates but there is still a week before nominations and anything can happen. It is probable that someone will elect to run at the last minute since that seems to be the thing to do. For instance in the 1942 elections, John Busterud ran for ASUO president as a dark horse candidate without backing from either the Greek or the ISA bloc.

To be nominated for an ASUO office after the assembly, a petition must be turned in with 50 signatures, plus the intention to run and certificate of eligibility secured at the dean of women or men's office. These petitions must be in by midnight two days after the assembly.

As things stand now, the Greek bloc and the ISA have decided to nominate only those candidates that will get the office regardless of how the vote goes. Thus, according to preferential voting, one of the number one candidates will get the presidential post and one will be vice-president. There are four ASUO offices and two candidates will be nominated from each side. This leaves no one out unless

Jeweled Coeds to Go Native at Patriotic Meal

Oregon coeds will go to dinner Wednesday night dressed as South Sea islanders and beladen with jewelry of all kinds to be turned in to the USO. Sponsored by the campus war board, the girls are being asked to donate all jewelry for which they have no further use to the soldiers to be used in trading with the natives.

Phyllis Horstman and Mary Jane Dunn, co-chairmen of the collection, have suggested that the girls wear native type costumes to dinner that night and that decorations, and possibly some entertainment, may be used in keeping with the theme.

During dinner the jewelry which each girl wishes to contribute will be collected and the co-chairmen stressed the fact that the jewelry is badly needed by fellows overseas and everyone should give as much as possible. No quotas are being set, however.

The contributions must be turned in at the Delta Gamma house before 10:30 Wednesday evening. Thursday they will be taken to the local USO to be shipped by the Red Cross to the Pacific war theater.

Any kind of jewelry is acceptable. Collection in the individual houses will be handled by the social chairmen.

Odeon Writers to Obtain Readers

Students whose work has been selected for presentation at Odeon, the all-campus creative art show to be presented April 8, are advised to make arrangements for readers of their work, according to Norris Yates, general chairman.

It is preferred that contributors should read their own selections, Yates said, but it is realized that some will undoubtedly elect to have others read their work. All should turn in their choices, as well as the names of their readers.

Open House Tonight

Open house will be held at five girls' houses again tonight. Those open for soldier and civilian students are: Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Hawthorne lodge, and Highland house.

Junior-Senior Breakfast Set

Oregon's annual YWCA junior-senior breakfast, traditional campus event to which junior women invite senior students, will be held Sunday, April 30 at the Osborn hotel, Joan Dolph, recently-elected 'Y' president, said Tuesday.

Named to head organizers of the 1944 celebration was Connie Fulmer, junior in liberal arts, appointed at a meeting of the YWCA cabinet this week. Committee chairmen and members will be named within the next few days, Miss Dolph revealed.

Attending last year's breakfast, which featured as a speaker Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, were 221 University students and guests. The event is also marked by the appearance of the "Co-Edition," traditional 'Y' news sheet published each year on the campus.

VOLUME XLV UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1944 NUMBER 94

Mrs. Lindbaek to Describe War Experiences Thursday

Describing her experiences as a war correspondent in war-torn Europe, Mrs. Lise Lindbaek, Norwegian correspondent on the campus, will address an all-campus assembly at 4 Thursday afternoon in 205 Chapman.

Mrs. Lindbaek came to the University to teach Norwegian to foreign area and language students prior to the discontinuation of the ASTP and has since been working in the University library cataloging Scandinavian material. Her own book entitled "One Thousand Norwegian Ships" is the story of the part the Norwegian merchant marine is playing in the war. She is now working on a book describing the life and work of Norwegians in this country.

Leaving her native Norway at the age of 19, Mrs. Lindbaek entered the University of Naples to study archaeology but soon became interested in reporting. She covered Italy during the first five years of the rise of fascism, eventually being forced to leave that country. In following years she lived for a time in Germany, France, Palestine, and covered the civil war in Spain. She was present at the burning of the Reichstag in 1933, covered the League of Nations at Geneva for several years and was in Paris in 1939 when France fell, escaping to the United States via Algiers two years ago.

Virtually "discovered" some weeks ago Mrs. Lindbaek spoke at the last meeting of the House Librarians' association, and has since been much in demand as a speaker. The assembly is being sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary.

Alpha Chi Omega Wins First in Scrap Drive

According to Bibbits Strong and Florence Hintzen, co-chairmen of the scrap drives, last week's tin can campaign was "very, very successful." No prizes were awarded this time, but top honors go to Alpha Chi Omega who turned in seven boxes of flattened tin cans. Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Gamma each contributed five boxes of cans and win second position, while Highland house with four wins third place.

Alpha Xi Delta and Hillcrest lodge added three boxes each; Hilliard, Hawthorne, and Pi Beta Phi, two boxes; Alpha Phi, Alder lodge, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Delta Pi, Birch lodge, and Delta Delta Delta, one box.

The second spring term scrap drive will occur on Friday, April 14.

Junior Fete Queen Race Nears Start

With Junior Weekend only a month away, the time is nearing for selection of a Junior Week-end queen and her court. Carol Wicke, chairman of the queen selection committee, announced Tuesday that the names of all candidates from the houses must be turned in to her by noon, Friday, April 7. Her phone number is 1309.

To be eligible, the candidate must be a junior, hold a junior certificate, have a 2.00 cumulative G.P.A., and most important of all, must be photogenic.

The candidates will be narrowed down to eight or nine finalists by a committee, and these finalists will be voted upon at an all-campus election. The queen will reign over all functions of Junior Weekend.

Members of the committee for selection of candidates will be announced later.

April 19 Deadline Set In Burgess-Kidd Contest

April 19 is the tentative date set as the deadline for entries in the Julia Burgess and Walter Evans Kidd poetry contest offered to both lower and upper division students interested in poetry, according to E. G. Moll, professor of English, who has taken over the chairmanship of the committee since the retirement of Dr. C. V. Boyer. All entries should be turned in to the English department office in Villard hall.

The prizes which are being presented for the first time on the campus are classified into upper and lower divisions. The Julia Burgess prize of $25, which will be a permanent annual contest, is offered to all upper division students, and the Walter Evans Kidd prize of $15 is offered for lower division students. The latter prize is the direct result of last year's Odeon, which Mr. Kidd attended as guest and which impressed him so much that he offered the prize.

All types of poetry are accepted, with the only provision that short lyrics must include at least three and not more than five poems. All civilian and military students are eligible for the contest.

Judges on the committee are: E. G. Moll, chairman and acting head of the English department; Alice H. Ernst, associate professor of English, and Dr. R. D. Horn, associate professor of English.

Faith Reborn' Topic Of Easter Sermon

"A Faith Reborn" is the topic upon which Dr. John L. Knight, new professor of religion at Willamette university, will speak at community and University Easter sunrise services Sunday morning. The program will last from 6:45 to 7:45 a.m. and will be held in McArthur court.

Dr. Knight, a native of Tennessee, was graduated from Boston university and received his Ph.D. degree from Vanderbilt.

Glenn Griffith, musical director at Eugene high school, is in charge of music, and his choir, accompanied by Virgene Lindley, will sing several numbers. Incidental music will come from the University stringed quartet.

Ushering will be done by the two Eugene High-Y clubs. An offeratory, taken by girl reserves from Eugene and University high schools, will go to the World Student Relief fund.

Committee heads working on the program, which is sponsored by the student council on religious education, are: program, Eleanor Scott and Mrs. J. D. Bryant, adviser; arrangements, Douglas Moore and Dr. Robert Cushman, adviser; promotion, Charlotte Calder and A. L. Holmer, adviser.

Phi Thetas to Honor Smarties April 13

Freshman women with high scholastic records will be the honored guests April 13 at the annual freshman honor roll dinner, given by members of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women service honorary.

Marian Schaefer, junior in business administration, has been appointed chairman of the affair, assisted by Yvonne Umphlette, junior in business administration, and Ruth Van Buskirk, junior in English.

All freshmen women with a 3.5 cumulative will be guests of honor.
