

Audrey Holliday Wins First

Greeks Swing Into Top Positions in All Classes

By a slim margin of 91 votes, Audrey Holliday, ISA backed candidate, was elected president of the ASUO for 1944-45. Of the 1243 votes cast, Miss Holliday polled 667 and Phyllis Horstman, Greek candidate for the position, gathered 576. Miss Horstman will be the new first vice-president. Coming in as second vice-president is Jean Taylor, Greek candidate, who received 343 number two votes. Secretary-treasurer for next year will be Adele Riggs, ISA candidate, who received 319 number two votes.

AUDREY HOLLIDAY . . .
. . . new ASUO president.

All other top positions were won by the Greek candidates. For the senior class, Marty Beard, Greek, took top honors with 65 votes and Alice Harter, ISA, was elected vice-president with 44 votes. Arliss Boone, Greek, was elected for the number three spot and Edith Newton for the number four spot.

Virginia Wright, Greek, is the new junior class president with 193 votes and Esther Griffiths will be vice-president. She polled 99 votes. Marilyn Holden, Greek, was elected secretary, and Charlotte Calder, treasurer.

Barbara Pearson, Greek, received 225 votes to win the sophomore class presidency, followed closely by Alice Buckingham with 195 votes. She will be vice-president. Jean Lawrence, Greek, won third position and Elizabeth Haugen, ISA, fourth.

Since only two persons were up for each of the two representative positions on the ASUO council, the votes were not tabulated. Senior representatives will be Alysone Hales, Greek, and Anne Craven, ISA; junior representatives will be Gene Conklin, ISA, and Phyllis Evans, Greek; sophomore representatives will be Leon Williams, ISA, and Florence Hintzen, Greek.

In the Co-op elections, Marilyn Sage was elected as sophomore representative to the board by a vote of 597, as against Gay Edwards' 499 votes.

The position of junior representative position was more hotly contested with Ed Allen, 652 votes, and Joe Holstead, 642 votes, winning posts on the board. Mary Margaret Ellsworth had 615 votes.

PHYLLIS HORSTMAN . . .
. . . new ASUO vice-president.

Poetry Contest Deadline Today

Deadline for the Burgess-Kidd poetry contest will be reached today, April 19, and any contributions turned in later will not be accepted by the judges for the contest. Material is still coming in and today will probably mark the greatest returns, according to the judges.

This is the first time this contest has been held on the campus and it probably owes its main inspiration to Odeon, the annual creation. (Please turn to page four)

Installation of Officers Set for Thursday at 11

The annual ASUO assembly for installation of new ASUO officers will be held Thursday, April 20, in McArthur court at 11 a.m. Classes for that hour will be dismissed, Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, announced.

Judge Arthur Douglas Hay, of the Oregon supreme court, will address the students on "The Undergraduate Student and the World at War." Judge Hay graduated from the University of Oregon Law school in 1911. He is an officer of the Oregon Dad's association and has been an active member of that organization for several years.

His two sons, John, '39, and Douglas, ex-'42, and daughter Margaret, '37, also attended the University.

Nancy Ames, outgoing student body president, will preside at the assembly, introducing the new student officers and presenting awards and recognition of honors. Miss Ames will also introduce Orlando J. Hollis, acting president of the University.

New members of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, will be presented by Audrey Holliday, president of the organization.

Music will include a vocal solo by Marie Rogndahl, winner of the western regional division of the Hour of Charm contest for the "Undiscovered Voice of America"; and selections from the University of Oregon band.

Mrs. Reynolds Resigns Post In Panhellenic

In protest against the methods employed in this year's campus elections, Mrs. Marjorie Reynolds, executive secretary of the Oregon chapter of Panhellenic, resigned her post early Tuesday afternoon.

"I believe no national sorority would foster or tolerate the procedure of the Greek bloc campaign in this election," she said, "and I feel that the tactics of the bloc in the election are degrading to sororities and beneath their standards of conduct."

Mrs. Reynolds felt that it was unfortunate that sororities on the Oregon campus have united in a manner that would bring censure upon them rather than bend their efforts in projects worthy of Greekdom.

"I have enjoyed very much working in the Panhellenic in the last four years. However, I have a limited amount of time and energy to devote to activities outside my home and position in the library and I prefer to use it in some cause commanding my complete respect," she stated.

Mrs. Reynolds wished to make it clear that her action was taken not because of her feeling towards any of the candidates in the election, but because of the tactics used.

Dean Schwering Comments on 'Debunker'

Declaring that the "scurrilous" pink sheet printed and distributed on the campus the morning of elections was "disillusioning," Dean of Women Hazel P. Schwering Tuesday afternoon said that it was a "sad commentary on college women and their future that they would stoop to such action."

She promised that a full investigation was being carried on and that as soon as enough evidence was found the matter would be brought up before the disciplinary committee.

New Red Cross Heads Announced by Board

Elizabeth Gilmore, freshman in journalism, has been appointed chairman of the disaster relief committee for the Red Cross, Jean Mellies, junior in liberal arts, chairman of the sewing committee, and Annamae Winship, chairman of the first aid committee, according to an announcement by Carol Wicke, Red Cross chairman.

The selections were made at a board meeting Tuesday afternoon. Positions are still open for the nurses' aide, home nursing, scrapbook, or nutrition committee. Miss Wicke announced that anyone wishing to become chairman of these committees should get in touch with her, telephone 1309.

Miss Wicke said that Elizabeth Robertson, Red Cross field worker, may be on the campus some time this week to see what has been done so far in the local chapter.

Classes, Housing Offered Students In Summer Work

By PEGGY OVERLAND

Designed to accommodate students interested in industrial work during the summer, the Pacific Northwest Student YMCA and YWCA groups are sponsoring projects which will be established both in Portland and Seattle, according to H. D. Willits, regional secretary for YMCA and YWCA in the Northwest. "This is not a project organized to enroll students in (Please turn to page four)

Latin American Critic To Lecture April 25

Louis-Alberto Sanchez, Latin American literary critic, will speak on "The Latin American Novel and Its Social Content" in a lecture on Tuesday, April 25, in 207 Chapman hall.

Mr. Sanchez is a lawyer, writer, special lecturer, and has served as a faculty member of universities in Panama, Chile, Cuba, and Argentina. He is now a professor at the University of Chile and assistant manager of Casa Ercilla, a large publishing house. His visit to the campus is a part of a special trip to the United States to tour the country under the sponsorship of the Institute of International Relations.

The 43-year-old lecturer is a native Peruvian but is in exile because he is a member of a liberal movement called Aprista. He was exiled in 1932 by President Cerro and again in 1934 by President Benaderiz.

Star Sings In Igloo Tonight

Bidu Sayao will sing operatic numbers and lighter songs tonight at her concert in McArthur court at 8:15 sponsored by the educational activities board. Students will be admitted on their activity cards. Reserved seat tickets at $2.40, $1.80, and $1.50, and general admission tickets at $1.20 are on sale at the office in McArthur court and will be on sale tonight. Soldiers will pay 50 cents.

The first section of the program will include "Amarilli" by Caccini, the "Aria of Serpin" from "La Serva Padrona" by Paisiello, "Ariette de Zemire et Azor" by Gretry, and the aria "Batti, Batti, Bel Masetto" from "Don Giovanni" by Mozart.

"Ed Mercado de Las Esclavas," which the Brazilian coloratura will sing at tonight's performance, is a song heard by a friend of the singer's in an encampment of Spanish gypsies. The version was made from her recollection by Miguel Sandoval.

Other numbers in the second section are a minuet from the Tondilla, "Los Amantes Chasqueados" by Blas de Laserna, "El Jilguerito con Pico de Oro"; "Dos Cantares (Please turn to page two)

Wild Life to Invade Court

Word has just been received from sources close to Frank Buck that rare and admittedly ferocious animals, lions, tigers, bears, and textbook devouring crocodiles, are planning an excursion to the Oregon campus to summon University males to the all-men's smoker in McArthur court Friday night, Bill Buell, promotion director, revealed Wednesday.

Negotiations with Mr. Buck have been under way for quite some time now, Buell said. All that stands in the way of the wild animal invasion has been the obstacle encountered in India when plane priorities for the jungle entourage were temporarily refused by Lord Louis Mountbatten, allied commander in India. The matter has been referred to Air Chief Gen. H. H. Arnold for immediate attention, Buell iterated.

Meanwhile Charles Politz, smoker general chairman, reports that final preparation are rapidly being molded into shape.

The faculty German band is reported to have wired Adolf Hitler at his Berchtesgaden retreat requesting a list of his favorite tunes.

Open House Called Off

Open house will not be held by women's living organizations tonight because of Bidu Sayao's concert. The Wednesday night event will be resumed next week.