

Lt. Wyatt Dodges Bombs in England

On his first trip to London, Lt. Hal Wyatt, assistant director of the bureau of municipal research, Portland branch, experienced one of their frequent air raids. He was more concerned with driving in the blackout than with dodging bombs, he told Herman Kehrl, director of the bureau, in a recent letter.

There was really no cause for alarm, he said, because the girl chauffeur did a marvelous job of driving.

A graduate of Reed college, Wyatt was with the bureau from 1938 to 1942, when he joined the army. He served as acting director for a few months while Mr. Kehrl was in Washington.

The lieutenant is with the civil affairs section (military government) of the army.

Highland Teams Beats Kappas by 27 to 2

Highland house walked all over Kappa Kappa Gamma to run up a score of 27 to 2 in the softball intramurals held Thursday afternoon. Other games played were much closer with Rebec-Hilyard beating Alpha Delta Pi 3 to 0 and Birch lodge eking out a win over Alpha Phi 12 to 11.

Today Delta Delta Delta will meet Highland house in a re-scheduled tennis match.

First Place Assured Student Union Building

Assuring students that the Student Union building is number one on the University's building list, Acting President Orlando J. Hollis, at the installation assembly yesterday morning in McArthur court, stated that a building committee from the state board of higher education would be on the campus April 30 to make a survey.

Mr. Hollis expressed personal thanks to outgoing student body officers and particularly to Nancy Ames, and stated his anticipation of the same attention to duty from the new officers.

Speaking of the recent election, Hollis remarked that "I cannot recall any election on this campus which has not involved the judiciary committee. If we did not have guests today, I might make more of this point."

Mr. Hollis dispelled rumors to the effect that the University will not be open next year, that some of the departments and schools will be discontinued, or that the University will merge with "another unit of the state system of higher education."

Gene Vandeneynde, president of the Oregon Dad's association and guest on the platform was introduced by President Hollis. Mr. Vandeneynde brought greetings from the Oregon Dads and assurance of a 100 per cent backing from that organization. Mr. Hollis then introduced the guest speaker, Judge Arthur Douglas Hay, of the Oregon supreme court who administered the installation oath to the new officers and addressed the assembly on the topic, "The Undergraduate and the World at War."

Nancy Ames, outgoing president, reviewed the year's progress, giving special honors to Jean Friderger and the war board, Carol Wicke and the Red Cross, Jean Page and the soldier student coordination committee, Marty Beard and the Saturday night canteen, and Gene Conklin and the Student Union committee. She then introduced Marie Rogndahl, winner of the western regional division of the Hour of Charm contest for the "Undiscovered Voice of America." Miss Rogndahl once again charmed her audience with her beautiful rendition of Strauss' "Voices of Spring" and, as an encore, sang the popular favorite "The Italian Street Song" from "Naughty Marietta."

Starting off the assembly, Audrey Holliday, newly-elected ASUO president, acting in the capacity of president of Phi Theta Upsilon, presented the 29 new members. They are: Virginia Wright, Bibbits Strong, Dorothy Godknecht, Esther Griffiths, Charlotte Calder, Jannette Douglas, Dorothy Manville, Margaret McGee, Ann Graham, Phyllis Evans, Anita Young, Barbara McClung, Mary Bush, Nancy Brownell, Annamae Winship, Mary Corrigan, Bernice Granquist, Mary Sherman, Gloria Malloy, Alpha Paul, Sidney Ecklund, Sally Twohy, June Johnson, Marilyn Holden, Maureen Conklin, Dorothy Rogers, Mary McCandless, Esther Quier, and Betty Lou Siegman.

Flattened Tin Cans—Today's Scrap Demand

Tin cans will be collected from all campus living organizations this afternoon at three. According to Bibbits Strong, co-chairman of the scrap department of the war board, the truck is scheduled to pick up boxes of flattened cans from each house. The amount collected, plus the houses contributing the most, will be announced in tomorrow's Emerald.

'Recruits' Enter Pill Palace Gates

A new set of recruits have entered the gates of the pill palace according to the enrollment for April 21. Gracing the proverbial cement blocks are: Harriet Farr, Gaynor Thompson, Betty Ann Zemon, Virginia Travis, Elsie Finn, and Mary Winn. Those in olive drab are, Bart Dannenfeler, Robert Pollard, and Richard Foss.

Welcome Sign Out

According to Joyce Whittle, chairman of transportation, mothers in Portland and that area who have room in their cars or who desire transportation to Eugene, should contact Mrs. Perrie Dolph, MURdock-4890, 6213 N. Haight. Transportation from the Eugene train depot to the campus will be provided by the Mothers' Weekend committee.

Clips and Comments

Oregon State college at Corvallis is fortunate in having forty-five 17-year-old ASTRP men arriving on the campus. The majority of these boys come from California, have some junior college education, and have passed the regular ASTP qualification tests. The reserve inductees' uniforms carry the ASTP insignia and they are under the same general military regulations as the advanced engineers with whom they are housed. After fulfilling the requirements these boys will be inducted into the regular army and given basic. . . . Be nice to have some here, occasionally—sorta young though.
