

Many Moms, Dads Expected To Attend Junior Festivities Scheduled for May 5, 6, 7

A large number of Oregon Moms and Dads have responded affirmatively to the invitations of their coed daughters and joe college sons to visit the campus this weekend, according to Gloria Malloy, mother's chairman. She reminded students that last-minute invitations should be mailed early this week so that the visitors may arrive in time for the events beginning on Friday.

"We feel sure that your parents will enjoy coming to the University and we have planned a memorable weekend especially for them," Miss Malloy maintained, "so be sure to write or phone your Mom and Dad today if you have not already done so."

The committee urges all living organizations to cooperate in extending the welcome to the visitors by displaying large "Hello Mom" signs in front of the houses. This year the customary practice of awarding a prize to the house with the best sign is being canceled due to the war, but it is hoped that the usual enthusiasm will be carried on without the incentive of competition.

The following program, especially for the mothers, is to be held in conjunction with Junior Weekend events:

Registration

Headquarters: first floor of Johnson hall. Friday registration is from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday late-comers may register from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Friday, May 5

2:30 p.m.—Mothers executive board meets in the men's lounge in Gerlinger hall.

6—Dinner with sons and daughters in the student living organizations.

Saturday, May 6

10:00 a.m.—Annual business meeting of the Oregon Mothers. Guild theater in Johnson hall.

12:00 noon—Luncheon with sons and daughters in the living organizations.

3:00 to 5:00—Tea for Oregon Mothers. Sponsored by the associated women students, Young Women's Christian association, Eugene Mothers club. In Alumni hall, Gerlinger.

9:00—All mothers who would like to watch the Junior Prom at McArthur court will find a section reserved for them in the balcony and punch will be served there.

Sunday, May 7

8:30 a.m.—Meeting of Oregon

(Please turn to page four)

Chi Omega Hours Top Week's Work

With the spring sunshine keeping many would-be Red Cross workers away from Gerlinger last week, the total hours of bandage rolling reported was not up to par, but Chi Omega turned out for 28½ hours of work and wins top rating for them. Alpha Omicron Pi, three times first place winner, came in second with 18 hours while Alpha Delta Pi with 15½ hours and Gamma Phi Beta, 14½, were almost tied for third place honors.

This week's schedule, released by Dorothy Rasmussen of the Red Cross board: Tuesday, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Laurel lodge; Thursday, Lombardy Laure and Pi Beta Phi; Saturday, Rebec house and Sigma Kappa.

Carol Wicke, Red Cross chairman, reminded coeds that despite suntan weather here, the armed forces have not stopped fighting and men are still in need of surgical dressings. With the forthcoming invasions and new assaults on all fronts, all girls are urged to respond to the Red Cross call for workers.

Busy Weekend Ahead For Students, Visitors

A full program awaits students and visitors to the campus this weekend, when the junior class, under the co-chairmanship of Anne Craven and Edith Newton, presents the 1944 Junior Weekend, "Mother Goose Goes to War." Almost every hour of the three days, Friday through Sunday, is filled with entertainment.

The program begins Friday afternoon at 1, when a chemistry exhibit will be on display in McClure hall. The exhibit will be available to the public until 3. From 3 to 5 Friday in Gerlinger pool, "The Story of a Lifeguardess" will be presented by Amphibians, women's swimming honorary.

From 8 o'clock until 10 Friday night comes the All-Campus Sing. Competition between the 19 contesting houses will be keen, for long hours of careful practice has been done. Marie Rogndahl, Oregon's Hour of Charm district winner, will sing, and skits will be presented by various members of the student body. The name of the winning house will be engraved on the All-Campus Sing cup.

Saturday's program begins at 3 o'clock with a dance on the library terrace. The day of fun then goes into the campus picnic, which has been timed from 5 to 7 so that army students may enjoy the fun. Queen Anita and her court will be formally presented to their subjects and crowned at the picnic. Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will tap its new members, as will Asklepiads, men's medical fraternity, and Friars, senior men's honorary.

The crowning point of the weekend—the traditional Junior Prom—follows the picnic. It is scheduled to run from 9 until 12, Saturday night, at the Igloo. Tickets per couple are $1.50, plus tax. A special section of seats in the balcony will be reserved for parents on the campus for the weekend.

Sunday afternoon will see the close of Junior Weekend, with the presentation of the musical program, Sunlight Serenade, in the bowl to the rear of the music school. The serenade begins at 3 and will be concluded at 4:30.

With a full program, and an entertaining one, the co-chairmen promise that Junior Weekend this year, in spite of wartime difficulties and the shortage of manpower, will be exciting, and in keeping with the traditions of former peaceful years.

Five Coeds Enter Race

Five senior women have announced their intention to compete for the annual Failing-Beekman-Jewett oratorical contest to be held May 27, Mr. W. A. Dahlberg, director of the speech and dramatic arts division, announced Monday.

The five include Nancy Ames, 1943-44 student body president; Thelma Nelson, education major; Edith Onthank, architecture and allied arts; Helen Johnson, 1943-44 editor of the Oregana; and Joanne Nichols, associate editor of the Emerald.

Final manuscripts are to be submitted not later than May 15, and the contest is not yet closed. The orations must be at least 15 minutes in length.

Prizes in the contest amount to $300. The first prize, or Failing award, will be $150, the second, or Beekman award, is for $100, and the third, or Jewett award, is for $50.

Oreganas to Make Campus Debut Wednesday in Igloo

Distributed early this year, Oreganas will be handed out from 10 to 5 Wednesday and Thursday in the south end of McArthur court (dressing rooms for visiting artists). In order to get their copy, students should bring some identification with them, Edith Newton, 1943-44 business manager, said Monday. New members of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary, will distribute the yearbook.

Prime Minister Search Continues

The court of Junior Weekend is still lacking a prime minister. So again the call goes out for representatives of the air corps flights, the pre-med students, Campbell co-op, and Steiwer hall to be at the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Men who have already appeared before the judges need not be present.

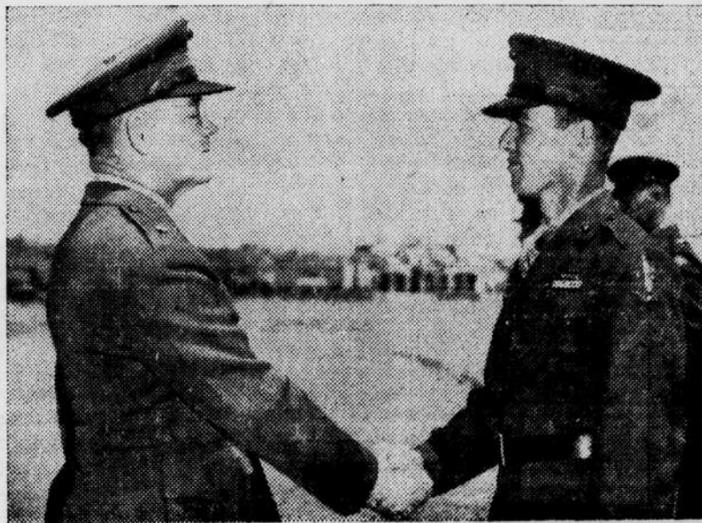

Queen Anita and her court will serve as judges in the choice of finalists. They will pick the five

(Please turn to page two)

Weekend Heads to Meet

The heads of all committees for Mothers' Weekend and the Junior Weekend directorate are requested to be present at a general directorate meeting at 4 this afternoon in the dean of women's office.

Marine Hero, Oregon Grad, Cited

CITED FOR MERITORIOUS CONDUCT . . . Marine Private First Class Earle W. Curtis, Oregon alumnus, is shown above as he received a letter of commendation from Lieutenant Colonel Max Cox, USMC, commanding the training regiment at the marine corps base, San Diego.

Marine Private First Class Earle Watt Curtis, who was graduated from the University in 1940, has been awarded a letter and ribbon of commendation for his heroic efforts during what the United States marine corps describes as "one night of hell on Tarawa."

A field telephone man, Private First Class Curtis was cited by Rear Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, USN, as follows:

"For meritorious conduct during action against enemy Japanese forces in Tarawa, Gilbert Islands, November 22, 1943. While serving as a lineman with an assault company on the night of 22 November, he kept the communication lines in repairs throughout the night and by doing so enabled his battalion commander to more thoroughly direct and coordinate the defense action of the company to which he was attached with the supporting weapons and personnel available.

(Please turn to page four)

There are a few books left and anyone who has not bought one yet and wishes a copy should go to the educational activities office in McArthur court. The Oregana will be mailed to those students who have purchased one but are no longer in school.

No longer in school. Miss Newton, who will edit the 1944-45 book, and Marge Cowlin, new business manager, announce the following appointments: On the editorial staff, Betty Tower, former assistant managing editor, managing editor in charge of arranging pictures; Betty Lu Siegelman, former co-chairman of the schools edition, associate editor in charge of writing copy; Nancy Brownell, associate editor this year, associate editor in charge of mounting pictures; and Dorothy Rasmussen, executive secretary. Miss Rasmussen served as Miss Newton's executive secretary this year in the business office.

On the business side, Annamoe Winship is the new advertising manager. She served on the advertising staff this year. Leo Weber, who served on the layout and advertising staffs, will be layout

(Please turn to page four)

Theta Sigma Phi Plot To Overthrow Emerald

Rumors have it that Wednesday morning's Emerald will not "be the same." It seems that members of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, have decided to take things in hand and put out an extra special edition of the Oregon Daily Emerald. Editor-in-chief will be Jean Wallace, senior in journalism. She refused to divulge any hints as to style or plans for the paper.