

Prisoners of War Request Books

While helping clean the campus for Mothers' and Junior Weekend, the campus war board has asked that students clean out their libraries and donate their old books to prisoners of war. Florence Hintzen and Bibbits Strong are co-chairmen of the campaign to collect books which are sent to the world student service fund in New York and from there relayed to about 6,000,000 prisoners throughout the world.

Books may be in any language. Special requests have been made for college or preparatory textbooks, standard detective stories, language books, standard works in English literature, and books on professional subjects. "Please send us difficult books. We have time enough to spend a day on a page," the prisoners say.

Students are cautioned that German censorship regulations forbid sending magazines and newspapers, or any books having military significance or advanced technical books published since 1938.

Books criticizing existing military, political, economic, and social institutions, or identified with anti-Nazi activities or histories that discuss European or world history since 1914 are not allowed.

Each house is being asked to turn in 25 books which will be picked up Thursday, April 4. It has been requested that the teachers donate two books apiece if possible. These may be turned in at the Co-op to Mrs. Eyer Brown at the textbook counter.

Alpha Chi Omegas Beat Alder 15 to 2

Alpha Chi Omega garnered its first win of the season by defeating Alder lodge 15 to 2 and University house continued in the win column with an 11 to 0 score over Kappa Kappa Gamma in the closing laps of the girls' softball intramurals.

Gamma Phi Beta nosed out Rebec-Hilyard 3 to 2 in the tennis matches and Lombardy defaulted to Pi Beta Phi.

In the boys' softball intramurals, Boyds beat Campbell club 14 to 3 and Hamilton Leaders won their game from Steiwer hall 9 to 6.

On schedule for today are three tennis matches: Kappas vs. Sigma Kappa; Alpha Chi vs. Alder lodge; and Highland house vs. University house.

Softball games are: Delta Gamma vs. Alpha Phi; Thetas vs. Hawthorne lodge.

Miss Taylor to Give Graduation Recital

A full course of music study at the University will be climaxed tonight as Phyllis Taylor, senior, gives her graduation piano recital. She will commence her program at 8 o'clock in the music auditorium.

Miss Taylor will feature Bach's "Italian Concerto," and Beethoven's "Sonata, Opus 22" on her program. She will play the chorale "Jesu, Joy of Men's Desiring" by Bach, arranged for piano by Ness; "Gavotte in A-minor," by Hopkins; Brahms' "Rhapsody in C-minor"; Debussy's "Evening in Granada"; the march from "The Love of Three Oranges" by Prokofieff; "The White Peacock" by Griffes; and the "Rhapsody in C-major" by Dohnanyi.

Miss Taylor is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and of Delta Phi Alpha, German honorary, as well as of Phi Beta and Mu Phi Epsilon, music honoraries.

Women's Names Sought For Service Plaque

As soon as possible the plaque containing the names of University of Oregon women who are now in the service will be hung in Gerlinger hall. There are 186 names now to put on it, and others may be turned in to the dean of women's office. It is generally planned that the plaque will be hung in the lobby of the building, but this is not yet definite.

The plaque is being sponsored by Phi Theta, but will be dependent upon other organizations and individuals for financial support, too. Contributions will be gratefully accepted by the committee in charge.

A Slip of the Lip

Glenn Baird seems to be occupying most of Marion Schaefer's thoughts lately. That Jean Gilkason-Norm Reubens romance seems to be keeping cupid busy. What happened between Susan Vilas and Jim Stakkestad? Guess it's civvie Hamilton as no. 1 man now!

A spring romance has blossomed at the Eugene hospital between Nurses' Aide Mary Decker and a certain good-looking orderly — could it be the reason that she works there almost every evening?

Flashes?

Did you know that: Frances Brobert recently skipped down to Medford to marry Ensign Richard Scherhard who is now stationed near San Francisco? . . . that Bud Grice, Sigma Nu, now a lieutenant in the army air corps came down to Eugene during his leave just to see a certain Alpha Phi? . . . that Marguerite Wittwer's one and only is Ralph Holzwarth, former ASTP student now stationed at Camp Cooke? . . . that Vada Davis and Ervin Webb seem to have a very advanced case of spring fever? . . . that Carolyn Wells' heart seems to be captivated by a mystery man known only as "Nez"? . . . that Phi Psi Don Kresse was in Eugene on furlough looking mighty nice in his uniform?

Marine Hero

"On four separate occasions during the night under heavy machine gun and rifle fire he voluntarily traced the communication lines, repairing damages caused by enemy grenades. His conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

The decorating officer was Lieutenant Colonel Max Cox, USMC, commanding officer of the recruit training regiment in San Francisco.

Curtis got his B. S. degree in architecture and allied arts and did some graduate work in the art school after his graduation. He joined the marines in 1942.
