'Miss Lane' Choice Due

One of the 22 University girls entered in the statewide Miss Oregon contest may become Miss Lane county in the final eliminations next week. The Eugene junior chamber of commerce, sponsors of the entries for this county, have expressed their hopes that the potential statewide winner be a UO girl, and 19 living organizations for women have given the sponsors a material basis for this hope.

Harold Wyatt, manager of the local McDonald theater and co-sponsor of the Miss Lane contest for this community, has requested that the girls report to the McDonald theater at noon Saturday to be personally interviewed and to have a group picture taken. This photograph will be on display next week in front of the theater, where all students of the University may observe it and choose their favorite contender.

Nineteen women's houses had turned in the names of their contestants as follows: Gamma Phi Beta, Maxine Cady; Alpha Omicron Pi, Jean Carlin and Esther Johnson; Highland house, Betty Carter; Sigma Kappa, Betty Jean Ditto; Pi Beta Phi, Erna Gawehn; Chi Omega, Norma Green; Orides, Alice Harter; Omega hall, Nikki John; Sherry Ross hall, Thelma Kincheloe and Margaret McMurtry; Kappa Alpha Theta, Nancy Kirkpatrick; Alpha Gamma Delta, Rose Zena Latta; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Gayle Nelson; Gamma hall, Frances Olsson; Delta Gamma, Yvonne Prather; Zeta hall, Noreene Kay Sauve; Susan Campbell, L. Lu Simmons; Hendricks hall, Helen Webb; Alpha Phi, Sue Welch; and Hilyard house, Annabelle Wilkerson.

Miss Lane County, who will be chosen from the stage of the McDonald theater, will be sent to Portland, all expenses paid, to participate in the election November 2 of the 1944 Miss Oregon.

ASUO Assembly Features Rally Squad, Soprano

Opening the ASUO assembly Thursday morning, Audrey Holliday, student body president, presented a spray of flowers to Marie Rogndahl, soprano.

Joan Holstad, chairman of the rally committee, directed the singing of "Oregon," and the rally squad, headed by cheer leaders Hal Schick and Bill O'Hearn, led two Oregon yells in practice for the coming basketball season. Other members of the rally squad assisting with the yell leading were: Anita Fernandez, Ruthe Foreman, Lois McConkey, Gay Edwards, Dorothy Davis, Marilyn Rackow, Virginia Harris, Bob Smith, Bob Moran, and Cliff Mallicoat.

The entertainment began with a skit by Bob Moran and Cliff Mallicoat. A boogie trio—on the piano, on the drums, and on the base viol—played five selections. Evans Cantrell, Oregon's own "Frankie," sang "What a Difference a Day Makes," and "Going My Way," accompanied by Jean Taylor. Two original ditties entitled "Little Rabbit Song" and "Ode to an Old Maid" were played and sung by Bob Moran.

Bobbie Pearson and Bob Smith, co-chairmen of the Bricker rally, explained the procedure and purpose of last night's non-partisan rally and announced that a Life photographer would be present.

Hobo Convention Due Friday Night

On schedule for Friday evening at Wesley house is a hobo convention to which all students are invited. Those planning to attend are requested to come attired as tramps.

The convention will begin at Wesley house at 8 and the students will divide into small groups there. From Wesley the hoboes will go to the homes of various Eugene people asking for handouts. They will meet again at a designated time and place to build a bonfire (if weather permits) and to pool all food received in the handouts. Folk games and singing are also on the program.

Scheduled for Sunday evening at 7 at Wesley is a talk by Dr. Q. Breen, professor of social science and history. He will speak on "How Much Did Luther Leave?" which is taken from Sir Thomas Moore's most recent book. All students are invited to attend.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1944

Dessert, Ball Dates Fixed By Committee

Announced at the student affairs committee meeting yesterday were details of the year's major dance schedule, information on exchange desserts, and rulings on the revival of Greek letter fraternities.

Chairman of the committee, Dean Karl Onthank, reported that the dance schedule will be as follows: Sophomore dance, November 11; Senior ball, January 6; Military ball, if it is held, February 24; Frosh Glee, April 14; Junior Prom, May 5, and the Mortar Board ball, May 19. All are on Saturdays.

A resolution "to clarify the procedure by which fraternities which have become inactive by the departure of their members may again become active on the campus" was adopted by the committee. When a fraternity can show a membership of four or more members who were initiated before January 13, 1944, whose initiations are on record in Dean Earl's office, and have been recognized by a national officer of the fraternity, it may open again.

An interfraternity council can be formed when 12 national fraternities are in operation on the campus. With the setting up of an interfraternity council, approved by the student affairs committee, pledging rules and regulations will be made.

Another important point cleared up at the meeting was that of exchange desserts. Last year in order to accommodate the ASTP and air corps soldier students studying at the University, special arrangements were made, open house being held between 9:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. This year Wednesday night desserts will return to the old schedule of 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Names Make "Confuse;" Girl Tries To Clarify

"Cracker," she said, looking demurely at the professor.

Professor Allton of the school of music returned her glance, slightly puzzled.

"Cracker," repeated the coed in the seat.

The professor had been naming off his students in the room and when he reached this girl, he had been unable to identify her. Could it be, he thought, that her name was Cracker?

"Well," she finally volunteered, "there are soda crackers, and . . ."

The quiz continued for a few moments as more and more members of the class began to get the drift. Finally Professor Allton was told that the young lady's name was Margaret Graham.

Fellows Flee-- Sans Trousers

—One was in a swim suit and shirt.

—The other was clad in long underwear, with garters.

—Both carried signs—one for Roosevelt, the other for Truman.

They were closely pursued by a howling houseful of Dewey advocates who, as they ran, waved aloft two pairs of pants.

Then the crowd surged around them, and they disappeared.

Record Series To Begin With Mexican Music

The recorded concert series in the Browsing room of the library is continuing this year with a Mexican music program as the first scheduled concert. It will be held Sunday, October 15, at 4.

Mrs. Elizabeth DeCou will give the program, and the record libraries of Dr. Leavitt O. Wright, of the department of Romance languages, Miss Margaret McGee, and Mrs. DeCou will furnish the recordings. They plan a Mexican display in the Browsing room in connection with the concert.

Assisting in this concert will be Mrs. Theodore Kratt of the Mu Phi patronesses, Miss Maxine Cady of the Mu Phi actives, Miss Bernice Rise of the library staff, Nancy Boles, president of the House Librarians group, and Mrs. Everett Harpham, recorded concert chairman. The series is sponsored by the patronesses of Mu Phi Epsilon of which Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff is president.

The concerts this year will have emphasis on various countries. Opera, concertos, and symphonic works will be presented. Plans are to tie in the concerts with the Civic Music association whenever possible.

The recordings will be selected from the record libraries of the University faculty, the school of music, students, the library staff, and townspeople.

Lt. Bud Leonard Casualty in Battle

Lt. J. E. "Bud" Leonard, U. S. marine corps, a graduate of '42, was killed in action July 28 in the Battle of Guam. A pre-law student, he was active in ROTC, and was chosen as one of two out of a class of 52 for a commission in the marines. He became a second lieutenant at Quantico, Virginia, on November 1, 1943.

Leaving for overseas duty in February, 1943, Lt. Leonard first landed on New Hebrides, and later moved on to New Caledonia. Although he received his first lieutenant's commission on September 1, 1943, the promotion did not become effective until five months later. He was hospitalized due to a jungle foot disease.

In February of this year his raiders battalion was sent to Guadalcanal. From there they took part in various "mopping up" activities in this area. The last letter received from Lt. Leonard was dated July 18, but a dispatch from Guam dated July 26 was broadcast telling of a dangerous mission in which he led his men. This was the bloodless taking of Mount Alifan, overlooking the key town of Agat, Guam.

Bricker Rally Acclaimed As "Big Success"

Press attaches and photographers traveling with Gov. John W. Bricker's party in the nation-wide tour said last night that the rally staged by University and high school students to welcome the vice-presidential candidate's train was the "biggest thing of its kind" they had witnessed.

More than 500 students carrying "Welcome Bricker" signs, waving torches and chanting "we want Dewey" were waiting on the station platform when the train arrived. The Oregon rally squad, consisting of nine women and five men, led the crowd in yells and songs.

When Bricker appeared on the observation platform, the cheering lasted 10 minutes. "This makes me wish I were back in college" said the tall, white-haired Ohio politician in a short extemporaneous address to the students.

Mrs. Bricker, Wayne L. Morse, Ralph Cake, national committeeman, and Mrs. Gerlinger, former regent of the University of Oregon and national committeewoman, were introduced by Mr. Bricker.

Organized by Barbara Pearson and Bob Smith and sponsored by the campus Young Republican club, the rally was described by the co-chairmen, "a howling success."

Smoke Haze Clouds Plans Of "Mystics"

In the smoke hazed, dimly lighted "Green Room" of the College Side Inn, 21 determined-faced representatives of the mystery-shrouded BINFSAOMUO met for the fourth time last night.

The age-old spirit of revolt and final decision filled the room as the meeting wore on and the still unrevealed chairman set forth plans which might well change the destiny of every O' Oregon man.

Discussing, condemning, condoning, and planning, the 21 ambassadors of secrecy laid the foundations for future Oregon history-making events. Bigger and even more important meetings are in the making and startling, perhaps even spectacular, news is assured by BINFSAOMUO members which includes all men on the campus.

Portland Scene Of Annual Tea

Representing the University of Oregon at the annual tea for Portland mothers this afternoon will be Chancellor and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter, Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Mrs. K. W. Onthank, and Miss Janet Smith. The tea is given each year in honor of mothers of freshmen, and is held in the Neighborhood of Woodcraft hall, Portland.

The state board, which is made up of representatives from Mothers' clubs all over the state and from California, will meet at luncheon Saturday to discuss plans for the coming year.

Alumnae from all sororities will meet with Mrs. Onthank and Mrs. Macduff in the library on Saturday afternoon to discuss mid-term sorority rushing and other sorority problems.
