

All Men to Assemble In Igloo

GOV. JOHN W. BRICKER

Addressing 1000 students who massed at the depot to meet his train, vice-presidential candidate Bricker said, "This makes me wish I were back in college."

U.S. Senator to Address Eugeneans From Train

The train-stop talk of Sen. Harry S. Truman Wednesday, October 18, and the appearance of Assistant United States Attorney General Norman Lytell at a party gathering October 20 promise to make this an eventful week for all politically-minded Oregon students.

The vice-presidential candidate will speak from his train platform at 1:35 p.m. Wednesday, before proceeding to Portland where he will make a major speech that evening. Chairman Elmer Sahlstrom, of the campus Young Democrats club, asks that as many students as possible be at the Southern Pacific depot to welcome and hear Roosevelt's running mate.

ASUO PETITIONS DUE
Petitions for senior representative on the ASUO executive council are to be turned in to Jean Taylor, at the Alpha Phi house, before noon today. Petitioners for the office must be seniors and prove their eligibility for the position with slips from the deans' offices.

Faculty Journal Programs Begin Tonight on KOAC

Two students, Elizabeth Schaefer, pianist, and Elizabeth Howes, mezzo-soprano, will present a half hour of music tonight at 7:30 over KOAC. Miss Schaefer will play works by Van Dyke, De Falla, Liszt, and Macdowell, and Miss Howes will sing numbers by Seitz, Moss, Vannah, Herbert, and Youmans. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Kellis.

The program, under the title Campus Recital, will be presented (Please turn to page three)

Alumni Return to Aid Former UO Professors

Three members of the class of 1944 have returned to the campus this fall as graduate assistants in several departments. They are among the 78 graduate students who have completed registration, according to records in the graduate division office.

Joining the graduate assistant staff are Miss Phyllis Amacher, psychology; Miss Beverly oGetz, physical education; Miss Patricia Howe, biology, and Mrs. Helen Olney, mathematics. Mrs. Olney was a graduate student last year and is working for an M.S. degree. The

Exec Plans Set

Council Asks For Talent, Blood Donors

Audrey Holliday, ASUO president, made the following announcements Monday:

Desserts

Wednesday night desserts will be held at living organizations from 6:30 to 7:30. They will be scheduled through Heads of Houses and in the office of the dean of women.

Talent List

Jim McGregor has been appointed to secure a talent list for future ASUO programs. All students willing to help with the entertainment shows should file their names and talents with McGregor.

Blood Donors

Students 21 years of age, who wish to contribute blood in the current plasma drive Monday, November 6, at Corvallis, should contact Ken Geiger or Sally Spiess. Transportation to and from Corvallis will be furnished by the Red Cross and donors will be back on the campus by Monday noon.

DOUGLAS B. MOORE
Sophomore in liberal arts, Mr. Moore is the new YMCA president.

"Y" Elects President, Plans Drive

By the first unanimous cabinet vote in several years, Douglas Moore, sophomore in liberal arts, was elected to the presidency of the YMCA at its first regular meeting, Sunday, October 15.

Active in the "Y" last year and understanding the organization's aims, Moore plans a full 1944-45 calendar with special emphasis on new and larger membership.

"Regardless of the seeming inactivity of the 'Y' during the past two years, it is and always has been an important cog in University activities," the new prexy commented. "It could be even more so with increased membership and stable planning."

With emphasis on the fact that the YMCA is not a "goody goody club for boys" Moore appointed Harry Granger, "Y" vice-president and sophomore in liberal arts, George Campbell, freshman, and Jim Vitus, "Y" secretary-treasurer, as a committee of three to make (Please turn to page four)

YWCA Combines Class Councils

The freshman and sophomore commissions of last year have combined into the "Y activators" this year to further the activities and interests of these two classes. Charleen Davidson, chairman of the group, has announced that, unlike last year, no definite representative will be chosen from each house. Any sophomore or freshman girl may attend the meetings.

Helen Flock has been announced as guest speaker at the Wednesday meeting at 7:30. Miss Flock will present an "over-all" picture of the activities planned for this year. Officers will be introduced and a definite date will be set for future meetings. All girls are invited to the meeting.

BINFSAOMUO Campus Mystery To Be Revealed

A mass meeting for all men on the campus, sponsored by BINFSAOMUO, has been called for Wednesday night at 8, October 18, at McArthur court by the male members of the ASUO executive council upon receipt of a formal petition signed by a majority of the men students at the University.

All signees of the petition are members of the BINFSAOMUO, the organization which was formed two weeks ago for the purpose of furthering the activity of University men.

The petition reads:

"We, the undersigned, petition the male members of the ASUO executive council to call a general meeting of all University of Oregon men, including soldiers and faculty men, at some future date at a suitable place.

"Meeting to be called by notice published in the Emerald.

Reference to this meeting will be made by use of the abbreviated name of the organization, BINFSAOMUO."

The order for the meeting was issued immediately by Gene Conklin, junior in law, and Leon Williams, sophomore in liberal arts, who are the two male members of the council.

Leaders of all men's living organizations, including all active and inactive social, living and other groups, and of all classes, and veterans and non-veterans, have combined to plan what an informed source termed "an interesting, as well as a surprising evening."

An admission of 20 cents will be made in order to defray necessary expenses. Other matters pertain (Please turn to page four)

Holden Promoted To Prexy Position

Marilyn Holden, junior in liberal arts, is the new junior class president, according to the announcement Monday by ASUO President Audrey Holliday.

Member of Kwama and Phi Theta, and chairman of the sophomore dance, Miss Holden was automatically promoted from secretary of the class to president, due to the absence of Virginia Wright, who was elected president last year.

Positions in the junior class of treasurer, secretary, and vice-president are open, disclosed Miss Holliday. Petitions for these offices, accompanied by eligibility slips from the deans' offices, should be submitted to Marilyn Holden at Chi Omega before Friday noon.

Rushing Reopened

The permanent regulation of the Freshman Week committee on rushing and pledging is that rushing and pledging may take place, anytime in the term, four weeks after the first classes begin. That is, rushing may begin October 23.
