

Duck Trackers

By JIM TUCKER

A bit of perusing in the recent papers tells us that the Randolph field fliers are the top team in the nation in both the ranks of the service teams and the college elevens. A letter recently received from the Randolph field training command tells us that Lieutenant Jack Leicht, who played for Oregon in 1940 and '41, is now holding down a regular backfield position on the fliers' powerhouse eleven.

Lt. Leicht, also a sprint start while in school, is credited with running the century dash in 9.6 seconds. Randolph's victory was a win over the Southern Methodist aggregation which they tripped up 41 to 0.

Basketball is underway at most of the northern division schools and Oregon is no exception, having started hoop drill last Friday with a total of thirty players turning out for the team. Friday's practice was given over to fundamentals drill entirely, and the next drills have been a combination of fundamental practice and the first practice games and scrimmages among the team members.

An extensive pre-season schedule is being arranged for the Ducks; Coach John Warren promises a full slate before the season begins, and is attempting to schedule a twenty-game slate for the team. This pre-season activity begins with a pair of double headers with Willamette on November 17 and 18. . . . Oregon State also reports that casaba practice has started there at Corvallis and the first drill netted 40 hopefuls. After the first two weeks of practice, the Orange coach has cut his squad down to 22, among them four returning lettermen plus some of last year's reserves and a bevy of fresh players.

Leaving the collegiate field, let us turn to the prep slate for this week's pigskin encounters. Three games find the limelight for tonight as Eugene tackles Marshfield, Albany takes on Milwaukie, and Medford plays host to the invading Klamath Falls eleven. Once defeated Eugene plays host to the Pirates from Marshfield, and after removing the Bend Lava Bears from the ranks of the undefeated last week, the Axemen are favored to annex their fourth game in five starts in making their bid for state prep recognition. Undefeated Albany tangles with the Milwaukie Maroons in the top game in the No Name league, and this game should put the winner in a good position in the state prep standings. One game in the Southern Oregon sector catches the limelight as the undefeated Medford Tigers entertain the once setback Pelicans from Klamath Falls. Both of these teams have shown good potentialities, Medford with their huge line, and fast backs, and Klamath with their able passer and pass receivers.

With sports on the campus just about nil, this winds up today's sports review and preview.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Pfc. William C. Kelly, of Silver Spring, Maryland, was on observation post duty for his front line regiment in Italy. He spotted German mortar and machine gun emplacements, reporting to artillery observer to direct fire. Hastily he advised the CP with compass directions in place of artillery technical data. A third trial round hit squarely on the enemy. We must buy War Bonds and hold 'em with the same constant eye on the enemy. U. S. Treasury Department

Versatile Opera Tenor Starts 'Artists' Series

With an operatic repertoire of more than 40 roles, Raoul Jobin, Metropolitan opera tenor who will be heard at McArthur court October 26, is noted for his versatility.

During one season alone at the Metropolitan, Mr. Jobin sang such widely contrasting roles as the British soldier, Gerald, in Delibes' "Lalime"; a peasant Tonio in Donzetti's "Daughter of the Regiment"; the title role in Debussy's "Pelleas and Melisande"; the singer in Strauss' "Rosenkavalier"; and Don Jose in "Carmen," one of his most famous roles.

Mr. Jobin is well known not only in the United States but in France, where he made his debut, and in South America. He has been widely acclaimed wherever he has appeared. In addition to his operatic roles Mr. Jobin has been guest soloist of symphony orchestras in both Europe and America.
