

Students To Swing To Casey's Orchestra

ISA Elects Two Girls To Cabinet

June Fine is the new junior representative on the ISA executive cabinet, and Barbara Wells is the freshman representative, results of the elections held Friday in the Co-op showed. Miss Fine is a sociology major, and her aim is to specialize in juvenile delinquency and rehabilitation work. Miss Wells is a major in journalism.

Independent students cast 184 ballots for the several candidates for junior representative. More of them, 206 to be exact, marked ballots for the freshman candidates.

The completed executive cabinet will be introduced to the ISA senate, which is composed of representatives from independent houses, at Tuesday night's meeting. Committee chairmen for the year will be announced at that time.

Already plans are being formulated for a forum group and mixer. Last year the Independent students gave the first all-campus stag dance at the U. of O. For that event Gerlinger hall was packed with coeds and soldier-students.

Orides Tap 24 Pledges

Formal pledging of 24 Eugene girls and other girls living off the campus was held by Orides last Monday night in Gerlinger hall. Initiation is scheduled for winter term.

Following the ceremony, refreshments were served to the girls, their mothers, and other guests.

The following were pledged: Mildred Good, Helen McElfresh, Ann Wilson, Margaret Ann Hickman, Lorraine Cheney, Marjorie Silvis, Shirley Beamer, Barbara Barker, Roberta Gieseke, Vivian Mattson, Muriel Musich, Mary Louise Stone, Betty Coe, Ann Cassidy, Dorene Peterson, Jane-Dare Humphreys, Patricia McFadden, Joan Christensen, Gertrude Robinson, Ruth Porter, Marthe Smith, Jean Stamm, Mildred Anderson, and Betty Lou Reynolds.

Lucille Bryant is president of the organization of independent girls.

Landings 'Cut, Dried' Says Correspondent

Landings in the Pacific now are a cut and dried affair with little enemy resistance, United Press War Correspondent Don Caswell, a former Oregon student, told the senior editing class Friday morning.

He cited McArthur's Philippine invasion as a regular piece in the general's strategy, which is based upon striking at the enemy's weak points to cut off the strong forces. On some of the invaded islands there are still Japanese soldiers who have not surrendered but are wandering around living off the land and intermarrying with the natives, Caswell said. These men will present an acute post-war problem because they won't know when the war is over. The correspondent said he believed armistice terms would include a provision sending trustworthy Japanese officers to round up the soldiers and persuade them to return peacefully to Japan.

'Hello' Dance Tonight Starts Social Season

With the rhythms of George Carey's all-veteran, seven-piece orchestra and gay, welcoming decorations providing the atmosphere, Webfeet and their dates will gather tonight, 9 p.m., at Gerlinger hall, for the annual "Hello" dance. From all reports this newly-organized student band is really "hot."

Sponsored by Kwama and Skull and Dagger, sophomore women's and men's honoraries, this dance will start the year's round of all-campus social activities. "Butch" Leckie and Nick Weddle, respective presidents of these organizations, have been working for several days on plans to make the dance a success. They report that all committees have completed the arrangements in "apple-pie shape."

Tickets, which have been on sale this week at all men's living organizations for $1.20 a couple, have nearly all been sold, according to Florence Hintzen, in charge of ticket sales.

An exciting moment will come when the names of the men who have been tapped for Skull and Dagger are revealed.

Wilder's Play Opens Friday in Guild Hall

"The Ancient and Honorable Order of Mammals" will hold its 600,000th annual convention at 8 p.m. Friday, October 27, at Guild hall, Johnson hall, at the opening performance of Thornton Wilder's zany, unpredictable "The Skin of Our Teeth."

Mr. Antrobus, Lewis Vogler, mammal representative from the state of New Jersey, will attend the convention with his family, and former kitchen maid, Sabina, played by Bev Brunton.

The first act of this "Wilder-eye" view of the history of man introduces Sabina, Mr. Antrobus, Mrs. Antrobus, played by Dorothy Weygandt, and both the little Antrobuses. The children are Henry, the eternal Dead-end kid, played by Shubert Fendricks, and Gladys, Mary Rowling. Singing-telegrams, dinosaurs, and the in-

Good View, Bad Bank; Cameraman Lands In Millrace

Poetic justice tripped up the Emerald photographer Friday afternoon. Since his frosh pants were in the wash, and he had worn cords, he was walking warily (punishment is swift for all freshmen caught without frosh pants by Order of O's), across the Hilyard street bridge, "nosing for news."

Then he saw an angle that would make a good shot. Quickly he clambered down the bank, and maneuvered into a position which only a photographer can achieve. . . . Not close enough—he started to take another step—foot wavered uncertainly, then plunged. So did the Emerald photographer!

He was spared the embarrassment of a public "mill-racing."

Pot, Quill Offer Prize

Pot and Quill, womens national writing honorary, is sponsoring its annual membership contest, beginning immediately. The deadline will be announced later. A prize of $5 will be given to the writer of any short story, poem, play, or any other type of creative writing which is accepted. Approval of the judges is the only requirement for membership.

Any U. of O. woman student is eligible to enter the contest. All manuscripts submitted must be the contributor's own work. They must be accompanied by a sealed envelope with the title of the work and the author's name on it. No work will be accepted that has the name of the writer on it.

Judges for the contest will be all active members and alums of the group. Material may be turned in to Peggy Overland's box in the journalism building, or submitted to any of these girls on the campus: Peggy Overland, Claudine Biggs, Joan Dolph, Marjorie Skordahl, Virginia Lipmann, Lois Evans, Mary McClintic, Yvonne Prather.

UO Paper Collection Nears Goal

Over three tons of scrap paper were collected in the drive Friday afternoon, Florence Hintzen, co-chairman of the war board salvage committee, reported last night. Since this represents the contributions of only four houses, trucks will stop at the remaining living organizations today.

Miss Hintzen credited seven coeds with manning the collection truck. These girls are: Joanne Merwin, Barbara Puchinelli, Joan Sears, Virginia Woodward, Joan Pogson, Alda Hesby, and Christine Lamoreux.

Earlier this week living organizations were urged to bundle and tie all available waste paper so that it could start on its way to alleviate the paper shortage.

Lost Items Tell Owners

In the lost and found department is a strange conglomeration of textbooks, billfolds, notebooks, pens, pencils, gloves, knitting, kerchiefs, combs, and bottles of ink, and bathing caps. These may be claimed by owners in the heating plant building on the corner of 12th and University streets.

Following are names which have been found on different items:

Books

Purses

Marjorie Belle Smith, Fritz Ann Beltz, Jane Byerly, Marilyn Glenn.

Fall Calendar Schedule Due

Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, assistant dean of women, has announced that all dates for the fall term social calendar must be turned in to her by noon, Tuesday, October 24.

The calendar will be published Wednesday, October 25, and after publication, as other social events may be scheduled.
