

Barbara Bentley Picked to Represent Lane County

Barbara Bentley, 20-year-old Alpha Delta Pi, was last night chosen Miss Lane county in the final contest on the stage of the McDonald theater. Blonde Miss Bentley, who sang "Cibona" by Lecuona, was greeted with round after round of applause when she appeared on the stage as queen of the contest, and was presented with a spray of red roses.

Over KORE Tuesday

Sue Welch, Alpha Phi and winner of Monday night's contest, sang Bizet's "Habanera," from Carmen. Red-haired Nancy Kirkpatrick,

Kappa Alpha Theta, followed Miss Welch on the program when she sang "One Kiss," by Romberg. Thursday evening's winner Betty Joyce Ditto, Sigma Kappa, sang "Can't Get Out of This Mood." These girls, with Miss Lane County, will be presented next Tuesday night at 7:30 over Eugene radio station, KORE. Miss Emily Rhodes at the piano accompanied the contestants.

Goes to Portland

Miss Bentley will go to Portland November 2 to compete in the final judging for Miss Oregon. The Eugene junior chamber of commerce will sponsor Barbara's trip to the city. Barbara, who, coincidentally, will celebrate her 21st birthday on November 2, will appear on the stage of the Broadway theater on November 3.

UO Receives
Army Citation
—See col. 1

OREGON DAILY EMERALD

Another
Holy Alliance?
—See page 2

VOLUME XLVI

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, SATURDAY, OCT. 28, 1944

NUMBER 27

Army Cites UO Record Of Service

Those of the University staff concerned with the administration of the army program on the campus last year saw their work recognized Friday when Acting President Orlando John Hollis was presented with a "certificate of service" award from the commanding general of the army air force western technical training command.

The citation recognized the "outstanding service of the University of Oregon in the training of meteorology students for the army air forces." The program terminated last May when more than 200 khaki clad graduates after a year of training.

Major Visits

Major John E. Laybourn, deputy for administration and services, headquarters 3711th AAF base, Seattle, Washington, came to the campus Friday to make the presentation on behalf of Major General John F. Curry, commanding general of the command. He was accompanied by Captain Le Grande Anderson, of the Seattle unit.

Those present when the award was made were: Dr. Earl M. Palette, executive secretary of the University; J. O. Lindstrom, business manager; Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, director of dormitories; George Jette, assistant academic director of the army programs; and Major W. S. Averill, commandant of the University ROTC unit.

Radar Training

The certificate was signed by General Curry, and Lieutenant
(Please turn to page four)

Conklin Appoints ISA Committees

Permanent ISA social, freshman, and war committees were appointed yesterday by Senate Chairman Gene Conklin. Each committee consists of a chairman, two members from the senate, and one representative from the executive cabinet.

Jack Craig, chairman, Virginia Harris, cabinet representative, Doris Dodge, and Betty Thorpe were appointed to the social committee. They will arrange for at least one major dance, to be held in January, as well as several mixers this term.

The freshman committee, consisting of Joe Chiamonte, chairman, Barbara Wells, cabinet representative, Gloria Smith, and Gwen Carter, will assist and encourage all independent freshmen to participate in activities.

The campus war board will be assisted in its bond and scrap drives, Red Cross work, and other home front projects by an ISA war committee comprised of Grace Edwards, chairman, June Fine, cabinet representative, Dorothy Zeller, and Charleen Wilbur.

Red Cross Center Open to Workers

The Red Cross center will be open for workers today from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. All students interested in helping in the war effort, as well as increasing their house Red Cross service points, are urged to participate.

Dorothy Rasmussen asked that each girl remember to bring a cotton dress or blouse, and a bandana. This is necessary to keep lint and other irritants from falling into the surgical dressing as they are rolled.

Any coed wishing to put in a full hour of work, must be at Gerlinger not later than 10:30.

Diners to Buy War Stamps

Monday night dinners will cost students a dime starting next Monday, October 30, in accordance with a plan revived this year by Jean Watson and Martha Thorsland, war bond and stamp sales chairmen. Representatives in each living organization will sell war stamps, and through a drawing at the meal one house member will win all the stamps. This plan was inaugurated last year.

The representatives, chosen by each house, are: Alpha Chi, Mary Lou Diamond; Alpha Delta Pi, Paula Blanton; Alpha Gamma Delta, Carolyn Hinson; Alpha Omicron Pi, Peter Hawkins; Alpha Phi, Claire Sering; Alpha Xi Delta, Martha Cool; Delta Delta Delta, Patty Jordan; Delta Gamma, Pat Berg; Gamma Phi Beta, Becky Burkes; Chi Omega, Joanne Luke; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Elizabeth Powers; Kappa Alpha Theta, Gloria Grenfell; Pi Beta Phi, Sue Simmons; Sigma Kappa, Jill Leachman; Hendricks hall, Virginia Foster; Susan Campbell, Margaret Griffith; Highland house, Karen Martin; Hilyard house, Shirley Priestley; Alpha hall, Joanne Utz; Gamma hall, Barbara Schetky; Sigma hall, Helen Steel; Zeta hall, Shirley Reiten; and Sherry Ross hall, Mary Ruchmen.

'Skin of Our Teeth' Wilder's Play Lauded

By MARGUERITE WITWER

Beverly Brunton (in a red bathing suit) was the most spectacular, and yet human character in the University theater production of Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth" which opened last night at Guild hall.

As Sabina, eternal maid in the eternal Antrobus family, Miss Brunton did an adequate interpretation of the materialistic and fatalistic "ordinary mammal" who is easily satisfied with an occasional trip to the movies for relaxation.

Mr. Antrobus

The hero of the rather bewildering and often startling play is Mr. Antrobus, admirably played by experienced and self-confident Lewis Vogler. Antrobus is Man, is Adam, is the idealism which disregards floods and wars and persistently continues to invent wheels, alphabets, cling to the

Award to Be Offered For Outstanding GPA

Social Walls Topic Of Jew-Gentile Talk

Social barriers, not religious, was the chief topic of discussion among leaders of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at Alumni hall Friday afternoon.

Members of the panel who visited the campus were: Dr. Max Radin, professor of law at the University of California, author of "Manners and Morals of Business," and member of international law commission; Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the national conference; Father Joseph Vaughn of Loyola university; Dr. U. S. Mitchell, regional director of the national conference; and Mrs. Betty Britton Sale, executive secretary of the Oregon chapter.

"We are trying to eliminate the religious differences which conflict with social policies," said Dr. Radin.

"When one looks at the facts, instead of talking in generalities, he sees that actually there is no 'Jewish problem.' The greater number of Jewish people in industry are in the clothing industry. The largest of these in the United States is the American Woolen company, which is owned and operated entirely by non-Jews," pointed out Father Vaughn.

Interfaith marriage will work, if both persons feel that more important than their different beliefs is their enjoyment in building up a life together, was the combined opinion expressed.

Veterans Attention

All veterans report to the dean of men's office to sign payroll authorization.

'Spook' Dance, Frills 'Out'

Laying aside Saturday night formality, tin-pants-and-levis-clad lads, and gals in sweaters n' skirts will make themselves at home tonight from 9 until 12 in Gerlinger hall. They will celebrate Halloween by dancing to the music of George Carey and his orchestra.

When they're hungry they'll look for a gal in blue, a Phi Theta selling candied apples, cokes, cider and doughnuts, or ice cream.

But that's not all—the affair the social chairmen of living organizations are putting on combines a carnival with a dance. They can throw pennies, darts, rings, and baseballs. There'll be a fish pond, para-dice, and numerous other con-
(Please turn to page four)

Talons to Spend Weekend at UO

After a four-year lapse, Kwamas will revive a traditional function this weekend when they entertain the members of Talon, sophomore women's honorary at Oregon State college. As guests of the Webfoot sophomore woman's honorary, Talons will stay at various living organizations on the campus, attend the Theatre Guild production, "Skin of Our Teeth," and meet jointly with Kwama members at a banquet tonight at the Eugene hotel.

Visitors from Corvallis will include Talon president, Barbara McFadden, and members: Harriet Avery, Marge Ball, Marge McKenzie, Barbara Dewey, Lois Wagner, Pat Haynie, Eldora Green, Joanne Hoare, Marge Sutherland, LaVerne Stewart, Muriel Kellogg, Laura Jean Hampton, Merceil Person, Elizabeth Strickland, Joyce Kennedy, Becky Robinson, Betty Donaldson, Anna Jean Martin, Alpha Willock, Bette Babb, Patsy Strand, and Margaret Irwin.

Initiation of Elizabeth Gilmore, sophomore in journalism, was held Thursday night at the Chi Omega house, under the direction of "Butch" Leckie, president.
(Please turn to page four)

ASUO Sets Up $75 Freshman Scholarship

What the ASUO executive council did Thursday night:

1. Set up a $75 scholarship for freshmen.
2. Appointed student basketball managers.
3. Underwrote an all-student campus show.
4. Heard a report on the coming bond drive.

A $75 ASUO scholarship, which would be awarded to the freshman girl and boy who make the highest grades their first two terms of school, was unanimously agreed to by the executive council at a dinner meeting Thursday night.

Based on at least 30 hours for the two terms' work, the scholarship will be presented at the beginning of spring term. "I am delighted with the action taken by the executive council in setting up the ASUO scholarships. This action is concrete evidence of the interest of the student body in promoting high academic standards at the University," said Acting President Orlando J. Hollis when he received notice of the council decision.

Basketball

On the recommendation of Anse Cornell, athletic director, Nick Weddle, sophomore in physical education, was appointed student basketball manager. William Bourn and William B. Gulliford, freshmen
(Please turn to page four)

Varied Jobs Open For UO Students

University of Oregon students have a reputation for work and promptness at the Portland post office, Miss Janet Smith of the University employment service, said Friday. Miss Smith asks students who wish to work in the Portland post office during the Christmas holidays to file their applications with her soon.

A number of other jobs are open for students who would like to spend spare time working in service stations, caring for children, cutting lawns, or doing stenographic work. Miss Smith said there are so many jobs open that she can not find enough students to fill them.

Miss Smith is leaving today for Santa Barbara, California, where she will spend a two-week vacation. When she returns she will interview students who desire work.