

Miss Lane County Hails From Tule Lake Ranch

By FLORA FURROW

From the agricultural basin of patch-built farmlands in the Tule lake bed region comes the smiling University of Oregon coed of this week, Barbara Bentley, Miss Lane County. "It seems so unreal" she exclaims in speaking of winning the title at the McDonald theater last week. On her 21st birthday, November 2, she will tour shipyards and the Victory center in Portland and November 3, will make an appearance at the Broadway theater.

Near Klamath Falls, Oregon, "Bent," an only child, lives on a 60-acre potato ranch and rides her black horse "Sandy" when not attending the University of Oregon.

A mezzo soprano, Barbara started voice lessons "about eight years ago when Mother asked if I'd like to take them." The charming blonde, a music major and student of Sigurd Nilssen, has been singing ever since for the Klamath Falls Rotary club, other organizations, weddings, and at the Portland Art museum.

Brought up in a rural community, the only opera Miss Bentley has yet seen is "Carmen," brought to Klamath Falls by the San Francisco Opera company during her high school senior year and which she thought was "wonderful." The musical miss generally prefers classical and semi-classical works. "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" is one of her all-time favorites.

From her high school days at Tule Lake high (with about 200 students and near the present Tule lake Japanese relocation center), Barbara remembers skiing from the rim down to the lodge at Crater Lake. Besides skiing she likes chocolates and red roses like the two dozen presented her by the Eugene Chamber of Commerce when she became Miss Lane County.

Hopes to Be a Traveler

Having lived on a ranch all her life, Barbara has traveled only as far as California, but hopes to go east after her graduation in June to visit relatives and friends in Pennsylvania, New York, and Tennessee.

Upon entering college four years ago, the five feet, seven and one-half inch Alpha Delta Pi and president of Phi Beta music honorary thought perhaps she'd like to teach high school music. After visiting San Francisco points of interest last summer, however, Miss Bentley has become more interested in radio. Besides, she thinks San Francisco has a wonderful atmosphere... would like to live there someday... maybe as a radio singer.

Daze of Ophelia

By MARGERY SKORDAHL

Friday night, October 27, 1944, Ophelia saw men... eleven at a time... several times. Her watery eyes crossed as she watched them calisthenic down the field. Decided to quit college and enter Eugene high or Corvallis. Tall men, real men... Ophelia fell in love with Wilbert, the water boy.

Halfway through the game Wilbert dashed out to the team... no Wilbert. Someone kept yelling, "Send a substitute!" Ophelia said that would be all right, but she... never got the substitute. Just a little bitter, our able dolly hung on the goal posts... pushed back every one of Eugene's goal kicks... score, 18 to 0... Ophelia heh-hehed all the way home. Saturday night she spent the evening sending telegrams in the evening at the Hallowe'en dance. A speedy little messenger, she sang all the messages... to the wrong people. As a result, refereed every battle... "In this corner we have..." Love-ly dance.

A touching scene occurred... some big, huge, brawny, immense man with shoulders (all of 5 ft. 1/4 in. in his dress shoes) picked Ophelia up... all of her... struggled to a corner... planted her among the pumpkins and cornstalks. Everyone said she was the best looking scarecrow at the dance. Miss Glamour Ghoul of 1944, 1945, etc. Ophelia's cabbage leaf hair wilted under the emotion of the moment... she blew her red nose... redder. Kicked herself for not trying out for Miss Lane County.

Had to study on Sunday... went to the library to study... changed her mind... went to the Browsing room to sleep. Just as she was dozing off... heard beautiful music... fifth symphonies and stuff like that... There was a pause for station identification and then someone said... in Ophelia's ear... this is the sixtieth movement of Beethoven's... "Oh yes, I know that one" chortled Ophelia. Gracefully she hefted her feet and double-jointed around the room.

Ophelia will never understand what happened next. Ungentle hands grabbed her in the middle of a pirouette and a song... splintered through the venetian blinds on her way out. "I Wanna Dance With the Dolly With the Hole in Her Stocking" begged Ophelia.

Purdue university has revived an old regulation calling for cash fines for students who walk on the campus grass.

Have a Coca-Cola = Soldier, refresh yourself

...or a way to relax in camp

To soldiers in camp, from the Gulf Coast to the north woods, Coca-Cola is a reminder of what they left behind. On "Company Street" as on Main Street, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes. Ice-cold Coca-Cola in your icebox at home is a symbol of a friendly way of living.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
