

Dunkers Summon Victims

In keeping with traditions concerning the "Whiskerino," and the punishment meted out by Skull and Dagger to the non-conformists to the no-shave rule, the following beardless men are "requested" to appear in front of the Side today at 4 p.m. to receive their dunking:

Harold Bailey, Lloyd Johnson, Bryce Thalman, Ken Chapman, Ed Murphy, Elliot Hassan, Bill O'Hearn, Bob Moran, Winston Carl, Dick Dalstrom, Steve Gann, Keith Anderson, James "Bones" Windus.

Wanted: Fats, Cans

Add to ways of helping the war effort on the campus, smashing tin cans and saving waste fats. Right now is the time for all living organizations to get busy on these projects, Florence Hintzen, drive chairman, announced Thursday. The salvage committee will pick up Thursday, November 16, all the scrap that living organizations can collect.

Prizes of records to the value of $5 and $3 will be awarded the winning houses.

After securing the tins, collectors are asked to wash them, remove the labels and lids, and flatten them. The lids are inserted in the flattened can. Then, gathered in a box, they're ready for collection.

Cooks can cooperate by saving fats.

Coordinating the "scrapping" in the houses will be representatives of the war board. Miss Hintzen expressed hopes for as large a showing as in the recent paper drive. Six tons of paper were collected bringing the war board $36.

Former Students Appear In Boston

Phyllis Gray Knox, Ruth Baker, and Elizabeth Walker, former students of the University school of music, performed October 30 in an advanced recital at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Knox, a senior at the conservatory, was a student of Aurora Potter Underwood, associate professor of piano at the University. Before going east this summer Mrs. Knox was presented in concert in Portland.

Miss Baker and Miss Walker are both graduate students at the conservatory. Miss Baker was also a student of Mrs. Underwood's while studying here, and Miss Walker studied under Rex Underwood, professor of violin.

Cyclists Plan Trip Saturday

"Webfoot Wanderers" of the Outing club are planning a bicycle trip Saturday afternoon. The girls will meet in front of Gerlinger at noon and bring lunches. They will return in time for dinner, according to Nayda Ramp, chairman.

In case of rain, lunches will be eaten indoors at Gerlinger. Girls must bring their own bicycles, or they may rent them from the bicycle shop near Eleventh and Hilliard street.

By participating in the activities of the Outing club, each girl receives WAA points as follows: hiking, one point a mile; bicycling, one point every two miles; cook-outs, 10 points; overnight trips, 25 points. Fifty points is required for membership in WAA.

Today's World

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd army stormed the outer defenses of Metz in a powerful pincers drive aimed to cut off the fortress city from reinforcement and supplies.

Southeast of Aachen, American 1st army troops continued to inch ahead in the Hurtgen forest area against very heavy enemy resistance.

The Leyte offensive continued, despite slow-downs caused by a raging 100-mile-an-hour typhoon sweeping the island. Fresh Jap troops have been poured into the battle against the water-drenched Yanks.

In a 15-mile advance in Burma, British and Indian troops have captured Fort White.

Berlin and Moscow both reported last night that a gigantic winter offensive by the Red army is imminent.

Legion to Fete War Veterans

The American Legion, Eugene Post No. 3, wishes to invite all war veterans to a meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall, Friday night at 9. The veterans are also invited to bring their wives to an auxiliary meeting the same evening. Refreshments will be served, and the purpose of the meeting is to create a feeling of friendship and hospitality.

All veterans interested in attending this meeting should contact the dean of men's office and state whether or not their wives will attend.

Frosh Display Musical Skill

Elida DeBortoli, vocalist, and Fran Olsson, pianist, took first and second places in the amateur show at the freshman activities association meeting last Tuesday. Miss DeBortoli was accompanied on the piano by Doris Craig.

The other contestants, all vocalists, were: Nikki Johns, Jerine Newhouse, Shirley Priestley, and Dorothy Schuler. Wilma Wilson and Sylvia Killman were accompanists.

Volunteers to work on the script for the Thursday morning assembly program were: Dick Trethaway, Lois Herrington, Bernice Schroeder, Claire Webster, Del Jones, and Betty Watkins.

Donna Mullarky and Barbara Wells were appointed to the refreshment committee, and Thelma Chaney, Elida DeBortoli, Joyce Davis, and Del Jones were chosen for clean-up duty.

'Gay Nineties' Theme Revealed for Mixer

Frosh Turn Back Time; Can-Can Heads Program

Webfeet will return to the "Gay Nineties" tonight at the Frosh Mix in Gerlinger hall. A can-can number will be presented by "dazzling beauties" Peter Walsh, Keith Anderson, Dean Bond, Paul Smith, Wally Johnson, and Bob Runyan. A female barbershop quartet is also on the program.

In cooperation with the sophomores, who are sponsoring a "Whiskerino" Saturday night, all unshaven men will be admitted without question.

The mixer, a no-date affair sponsored for the freshmen by Phi Theta Upsilon, is from 7:30 to 10:30, and campus clothes will be worn. Swing music, refreshments, and a novel atmosphere will be offered.

Students who attend the pre-season basketball game are urged to drop in after the game.

Phi Theta, Co-chairmen Bobbie Fullmer and Orin Weir, and the freshman committee look forward to seeing the social calendar of the class of '48 start off with a bang!

"All committees who are working on the dance deserve a vote of thanks," said Signe Eklund, president of Phi Theta Upsilon.

Art Show Forecast

A meeting of those interested in working on Odeon, student creative arts show, is scheduled today at 4 p.m., Room 107, Friendly hall.

W. A. Dahlberg, adviser, is very anxious to see a large turn-out and urges all students interested in entering original work or in helping with plans to attend.

Odeon was first presented to the University in 1943 by a group of students who wished to give recognition to students in creative arts. It received a large turn-out and was acclaimed a huge success. The 1944 show lived up to the first year's standards and scored another hit.

Vesper Choir To Sing Sunday

Donald D. Dodd, pastor of the Fairmount Presbyterian church, will lead the meditations at the vesper service, at 5 p.m. Sunday in the music building.

Mr. Dodd, assistant in chemistry, received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of California, and graduated from the San Francisco Theological seminary at San Anselmo, California.

The vesper choir, under the direction of Helen Luvaas, will sing: "Let Thy Holy Presence" by Tschesnokeft; "Bless the Lord, O My Soul" by Ippolitof-Ivanof, and "Nunc Dimittis" by A. Gretchanenoff.

Barbara Tripp will be at the organ.

Horn Sold At Top Bid

As a result of the auction held at the assembly Thursday, $291 was raised for the World Student Service fund. Bob Horn, professor of English, promising to divulge a foolproof recipe for "getting a man" and to serve as singing houseboy for one meal, brought top price of $91 from Delta Gamma.

Eighty dollars was bid by Alpha Chi Omega for an orchestra, directed by Hoyt Franchere, to play for a house dance.

Pi Beta Phi bid $85 to have W. A. Dahlberg, director of speech, escort them to the Side for cokes.

Soda jerk for an hour at the Side will be Horace Robinson, professor of speech and dramatic arts. He will serve free cokes to members of Alpha Delta Pi, who purchased his services for $35.

Audrey Holliday, ASUO president, warned coeds against walking on the campus alone at night. Girls are to report any suspicious-looking persons to the dean of men or the dean of women. A campus guard, stationed permanently at the art museum, can be reached by calling University extension 322.

J. Paul Snyder, who lived in China for 18 years told of the efforts of Chinese students to continue their education.

An appeal for books for servicemen was made by Bishop Benjamin D. Dagwell, of the Oregon Episcopal diocese.

Phyllis Perkins sang "Tess's Torch Song"; Evans Cantrell sang "Without A Song," and Jim Montagne presented trumpet fanfares.

Alpha Xis Honor National Officers

An informal dinner in honor of Mrs. Hannah Schellenbach was given by Alpha Xi Delta Thursday. Mrs. Schellenbach, of San Francisco, is the national secretary of the sorority. Mrs. Alice Macduff, assistant dean of women, and Audrey Holliday, ASUO president, were among the guests.

Delta Gamma plans a bridge party Friday from 7:30 to 11 p.m. Short silks will be worn and refreshments served. Prizes will be awarded the winners of the rubbers.

Concert Series Schedule Pianist; Schmitz to Appear at McArthur

E. Robert Schmitz, one of the most outstanding pianists in the United States, will be presented to University music lovers in a concert series at 8:15 p.m., November 14, in McArthur court.

The story of Mr. Schmitz's life reads like a fairy tale. At 10 he was a choir boy soprano. While still in his 'teens he made a concert tour of Europe. In Paris he gained a fine reputation as a music teacher and accompanist.

Later Schmitz led his own choir and chamber music organization, and he was acclaimed in Europe as an interpreter of Bach, Mozart, Debussy, and the Moderns.

The pianist first came to America in 1919 and was an immediate success. Since his debut here, he

Maple Men Open Season Tonight At 8

Tonight marks the opening of the 1944-45 basketball season for the University, when the coast guard five from Seattle step out on McArthur court at 8 p.m. to try their luck against the Webfoot hoopsters.

John Warren, Oregon mentor, declined to comment on the chances of the Lemon and Green team, saying that it is too early in the season to tell about his squad.

The local casaba players will play the northerners again on Saturday night.

The Ducks have had several scrimmages this fall in which, according to Warren, it has been difficult to predict their abilities.

This will not be the first time on McArthur court for some of the visiting players, as the "sailors" have several men, including Ted Sarpola, who played on Oregon's 1939 national championship team. It should be like old times to these boys when the yells of Oregon students echo through the Igloo.

The probable starting lineup, according to Coach Warren, will be: center, Ken Hayes; forwards, Jim Bartelt and Del Smith; guards, Bob Hamilton and Charles Butler.

W.R.B. Willcox Tells Of Sullivan's Life

W. R. B. Willcox, professor emeritus of architecture, in a lecture Wednesday night on the life of Louis Sullivan, said:

"Imitation is a trait of human nature, and the urge for it is so natural that people cannot avoid it. This is true especially of architecture, where the continued copying of a man's original and free ideas results in the formation of another style.

It was in this newly stimulated era following the Civil war that Louis Sullivan grew up. His own philosophy, that living architecture cannot be produced without a sense of freedom of the soul, influenced and helped in the freeing of European architecture, although not recognized in America. Eventually, lesser men copied, and a style evolved that is erroneously called "modern," the lecturer commented.

has toured the country annually, and has been heard over coast-to-coast networks of all the major broadcasting systems. He is now a resident of the United States.

Admission to Mr. Schmitz's recital on the campus will be free to holders of ASUO cards, and to Eugene residents who have purchased a membership in the concert series.
