

Film Study Portrays War On Tarawa

The free movie scheduled for 7:30 tonight in Chapman hall will feature "I Was There—Tarawa," a film portraying the marine engagement on that island, and "The Negro in Wartime," a study of Negroes in the army which was brought to the campus at the request of students interested in racial problems, Horace Robinson, acting director of educational activities announced.

The free movies will be shown in 207 Chapman hall in two continuous showings, the first starting at 7:30 p.m., and the second at 9. Selected short subjects include "Youth Power," and "Donald Duck Goes to War."

This is the second in the weekly Wednesday night series of educational motion pictures sponsored and financed by the educational activities board and free to all students, faculty members and townspeople.

Homer Rainey Leaves Texas

A former University of Oregon faculty member, Dr. Homer P. Rainey, has been dismissed as president of the University of Texas, according to a news account in Time magazine.

George Turnbull, acting dean of the University school of journalism, recalled listening to Dr. Rainey, who was here from 1924 to 1927, sing several Negro spirituals in old Villard hall. One of the songs was, "It's me, it's me, it's me, O Lawd, standin' in the need of prayer . . ."

The published accounts of the Texas trouble indicate that it is not the deposed president but the bereaved institution that needs the prayers at present, comments Mr. Turnbull.

Today's World

The Holland front flamed into action Tuesday with massed artillery bombardment from the British lines as a prelude to penetration of Germany from that sector.

Yank troops gained four miles in their encircling drive on the fortress city of Metz.

Military installations around Manila bay were left in blazing ruin from an attack by Rear Adm. Frederick C. Sherman's forces. In addition to many planes damaged on the ground, 28 Jap aircraft were shot from the skies. None of the American surface craft suffered damage.

Heavy fighting continues on Leyte as Jap reinforcements are reportedly being annihilated.

Russian troops wiped out the last enemy bridgehead south of Budapest on the east bank of the Danube, while violent street fighting has again broken out in the city's southern suburbs.

Pi Phis Lead Campus In War Stamp Sales

Mu Phis Seek Record

Mu Phi Epsilon has made a call for the record, "American in Paris," by George Gershwin, which is needed for the record concert Sunday, November 19, in the browsing room of the library. Any student in possession of the record and willing to lend it for the concert should contact Miss Bernice Rise, head of the circulation department at the library, immediately.

By purchasing 90 war stamps Monday night, girls of the Pi Beta Phi house ranked first in "dime dinner" participation, Jean Watson and Martha Thorsland, chairmen, announced. Kappa Alpha Theta came next by spending $6.40, and Gamma hall was close behind with $6.30.

As yet, men's houses have not participated in the weekly "dime dinner" plan, and the chairmen urge presidents of men's organizations to appoint students to handle this project.

Results should be telephoned by house chairmen immediately after each dinner to Miss Watson, 2340, or Miss Thorsland, 947.

Other houses netted the following returns: Alpha Chi Omega, $3.70; Alpha Delta Pi, $5.00; Alpha Gamma Delta, $4.00; Alpha Omicron Pi, $3.20; Alpha Phi, $2.99; Alpha Xi Delta, $2.40; Delta Delta Delta, $4.00; Delta Gamma, $4.90; Gamma Phi Beta, $5.00; Kappa Kappa Gamma, $3.70; Sigma Kappa, $3.70; Sherry Ross hall, $4.10; Sigma hall, $2.70; Alpha hall, $3.05; Zeta hall, $2.30; Hendricks hall, $4.30; Susan Campbell hall, $4.35; Hilyard house, $2.00; Highland house, $2.45; and University house, $2.90.

Dr. Schwering Dead; Result of Heart Attack

Dr. Charles Leslie Schwering, Eugene dentist and husband of Hazel P. Schwering, University dean of women, died at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday, of a heart attack, while driving north on Alder street.

Dr. Schwering was driving from his home at 1096 East 20th street to the Sacred Heart hospital to see Mrs. Schwering, who is seriously ill. He lost control of route, J. R. Flater, driver, reported. The car and swerved into a signpost at the intersection of 17th and Alder streets.

Witnesses Bonnie Umphlette, Gail Edinger, Mrs. Westerfield, Mrs. Rapp, Esther Quire, and several other unidentified persons, reported that he slumped over the wheel as if from a heart attack, immediately before losing control of the car.

The Arrow ambulance company was called immediately. Dr. Schwering was removed to the Sacred Heart hospital, but died enroute. Funeral arrangements will be made from the Veatch-Hollingsworth funeral home, where the body was taken.

Dr. Schwering took his pre-dental training at the University of Oregon from 1917 to 1921 and then transferred to the North Pacific College of Dentistry in Portland where he received his degree. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Dr. Schwering is survived by his wife, Dean Schwering, and his mother, Mrs. D. E. Yoran, of 511 East 12th street.

Robert Schmitz Praised By Emerald Reviewer

By BETTY JANE BENNETT

Impressing students and townspeople alike with the variety and sparkle of his program, E. Robert Schmitz, pianist, played to a large and enthusiastic audience Tuesday evening in McArthur court. His program was unusual in its arrangement, with French music predominating.

Mr. Schmitz' opening group of Bach numbers was played with the sharpness of detail and the clarity of theme necessary for a clear understanding of the contrapuntal style. The two "Preludes" and "Fugues," in G minor and A minor, proved a contrast to the simple chorale "I Call on Thee, Lord," which Mr. Schmitz played with strength and unbroken legato line. He interpreted the "A minor Fugue" in grandiose and cathedral-like tones and yet with great agility. Chopin's B minor sonata with its great wealth of material was played with brilliance. Especially moving was the "Lento" movement, although the faster moving "Scherzo" and "Finale" exhibited strength and power and held the listener breathless to the end as the sharply-etched runs and octaves built up to the great climax. The audience responded especially well to the French group as Mr. Schmitz conveyed to them his perfect understanding of the French style. Warmth and pathos were contained in the "Pavane," by Ravel, while his "Jeux d'eau" sparkled with water-clear brilliance. Also contrasting were the exquisite "Clare de Lune," and forceful toccato. Mr. Schmitz' own transcription of the de Falla First Spanish dance from "Le Vida Breve" presented a variety of rhythms. Though popular and familiar to the audience, Gershwin's three preludes were played none too accurately. A strong climax to the program was the toccato by

Scrap Drive Starts Soon; Prizes Offered

Tin cans and waste fats will be picked up from the porches of campus living organizations tomorrow by the Lane county salvaging committee.

Cooperating with the committee in the drive, the campus war board will award $5 worth of records to the house turning in the most scrap. Second prize is $3 worth of records.

Last year tin cans were collected on alternate weeks, but efforts will be concentrated in several big drives this year.

Mexican Movie Coming Thursday

A "pistol packin' mama," who is also a voodoo enchantress from the Venezuelan plains, heads the list of characters in "Dona Barbara," Mexican produced, Spanish-dialogue movie scheduled Thursday evening at the Mayflower. The film is sponsored for campus and townspeople by the University chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, National Spanish honorary, by the Eugene high school Spanish club and the theater management.

The novel, of man-hating Dona Barbara, was written by Romulo Gallegos, known in Venezuela as an outstanding writer and a former candidate for the presidency of that country. The book, Gallegos' third, became a "best seller" in Latin America, and was filmed by Clasa Mexican picture corporation, in 1943. "Dona Barbara" was again proclaimed a hit and in Mexico the picture received the title of "most outstanding" for 1943.

The prize-winner is the first Mexican-produced film to be shown this year for University students, and two showings are promised "if the audience warrants." Tickets are on sale for 50 cents in Spanish department offices or may be purchased at the theater.

Odor to Attract Oregon Appetites

For those who miss breakfast today, the YWCA Activators have the answer with fresh, warm doughnuts. Booths will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the pastries will sell for five cents. The aroma of bakery goods will be traceable to the library, the Co-op, Friendly hall, and Oregon hall.

Proceeds will go to the Activators committee, headed by Sally Bosch. Last year Phi Theta sponsored a similar sale.

Two Positions Open

Petitions for Junior Weekend co-chairmen should be turned in to Marilyn Holden, president of the junior class, by Tuesday noon, November 21. One junior boy and one junior girl will be chosen.

Coke Date With Profs Ends Drive

Dressed in a white apron and wearing a chef's hat, Horace Robinson, manager of the educational activities board and professor of speech and drama, will scoop sundaes, jerk sodas, and serve cokes to all students who visit the College Side Inn tonight between 9:30 and 10:30.

To climax the world student service fund drive, W. A. Dahlberg, director of speech and dramatic arts, will be at the Side to buy drinks for all the Pi Beta Phis in his mass-coke date with sorority members who paid $85 for the privilege at the WSSF auction November 9.

Ten per cent of all profits made by the food sold at the fountain by Mr. Robinson will be donated by Roy Whytall, proprietor of the Kops restaurant, to the World Student Service fund.

All students are urged by Marguerite Wittwer, WSSF chairman, to be at the Side between 9:30 and 10:30 tonight to buy cokes from Mr. Robinson in order to boost the WSSF total beyond the present $1,131 mark.

"This auction ought to provide fun for everyone, and we hope that everyone supports the drive by attending. Alpha Delta Pi members who 'bought' Mr. Robinson at the auction are entitled to one free coke each," said Miss Wittwer.

Drive Ends Today
The World Student Service fund drive ends today with the incomplete returns totalling $1,131. A few living organizations still have contributions to turn in, according to Douglas Moore, treasurer for the campaign.

Delta Gamma heads the list of contributing organizations with $124.75. Ranking next, are Alpha Chi Omega, $106.25; Gamma Phi Beta, $87; Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta, $85.

As the students' part in the war effort, the WSSF is a relief agency for victims and professors who are victims of war all over the world. In China, Russia, and India, as well as the rest of Europe,

Annual Art Bazaar Set For December

Drusilla Johnson, general chairman of the art bazaar, requests that art students begin working on their products for the annual sale on December 7. The bazaar will open at 4 p.m. Thursday in the court of the art school. It will be a good place to do Christmas shopping, Miss Johnson said. Plans include music, a food booth where coffee, donuts, and hot dogs will be on sale, and a special feature, "Art in Action." Also for the first time this year, faculty members have been asked to contribute.

Art work on sale and the people in charge are: ceramics, Mary Woodhurst; metal jewelry and weaving, Katherine Fonker; painting, LaVerne Erickson; drawing and lithographs, Margaret Jacobson. Other articles are water colors, gay boxes, and Christmas cards. Jean Villaire is in charge of decorating the Christmas tree. Dorothy Hansen and Drusilla Johnson will run the food booth, and Bob Hiatt will be cashier.
