Milne's Works
Are Featured In
"Kiddies" Display

"United Through Books" is the theme for children's book week, November 12 to 18.

The library has arranged a display this week of children's books, featuring the work of A. A. Milne, to promote interest in national book week. Most of the collection belongs to Clarice Krieg, acting librarian and was assembled by Miss Krieg and Miss Dorothy Randall, display chairman. Among the books on exhibit are "Now We Are Six," "Winnie-the-Pooh," "Once Upon a Time," and "The House at Pooh Corner." Several records and books of children's songs are also shown.

The theme, "United Through Books," was chosen as an attempt to promote the teachings of racial unity throughout the nation to children of school age. Racial prejudice has arisen as one of the greatest postwar problems and the idea of overcoming this problem through education of children is being attempted all over the nation. Public libraries are doing more extensive work on this book week than the university libraries but the display here is to draw the problem of unity to the attention of University students, says Miss Bernice Rise circulation librarian.

Phi Beta Elects
Two Officers

Marilyn Miller was elected vice-president of the campus Pi chapter of Phi Beta, national music and dance honorary, and Melba Chehak was named reporter, at a recent meeting. Both women are seniors majoring in music.

It was announced that the United States Rubber company was recognized as the sponsor of the "most outstanding radio music program of the year," the New York philharmonic symphony orchestra, and was presented the annual Phi Beta radio music award on November 1.

A mobile canteen unit was presented to the Red Cross in Jacksonville, Florida, recently. Each chapter of Phi Beta in all universities contributed toward this project.

The next Phi Beta meeting is scheduled for Thursday afternoon at 4 in the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Have a "Coke" = Welcome back

... or giving a returned soldier a taste of home

There's an easy way to make a soldier on furlough feel right at home. It's to offer him refreshing Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke" is always the hospitable thing to say. In many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —has become a happy symbol of hospitality, at home as everywhere else.
