

Freshmen to Elect Class Officers Today

Schott, Moore Fill Posts

Bob Schott, Greek bloc leader, and Douglas Moore, YMCA president, Thursday were selected by the ASUO executive council to fill vacancies on the council.

Schott, who was elected by a 5-3 vote, will replace Adele Riggs, secretary-treasurer, who graduated fall term. A senior in architecture and allied arts, Schott is also president of the Propeller club.

Moore will fill the sophomore representative position, left open when Leon Williams resigned. He was elected unanimously. Moore is a member of Skull and Dagger, membership chairman of Yeomen, student member of the northwest area executive council of YMCA, and active in forensics.

Because of forensics four positions on the rally squad were also open for petition. On the recommendation of the remaining members of the squad, the council named Lois McConkey, sophomore in liberal arts, as chairman, replacing Joan Holstad. Cliff Mallicoat, who has been working with the rally squad, was given a permanent position. Bill O'Hearn's new partner will be Evans Sax, and Hank Kinsell, freshmen in business administration, was also added to the squad.

The council approved Skull and Dagger's petition for permission to handle half-time entertainment at the basketball games. The members will work in cooperation with the rally squad chairman.

After a discussion of the financial straits of the social chairmen's organization, the council voted to underwrite tonight's dance, but decided to lay on the table a suggestion to incorporate the organization under the ASUO council.

Every Frosh Urged to Vote; Polls Open at YMCA 9 to 3

The class of 1948 will today participate in the first election of its college career, when freshmen go to the polls to select their class officers.

Voting will take place at the YMCA, 1225 Kincaid, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. A winter registration card (green) must be presented before the student may vote.

Freshmen candidates on the Greek ticket are Floyd Frederickson and Helen Steele; on the Independent ballot are Eddie Marshall and Patricia Geil.

Said Audrey Holliday of the 1945 elections, "I hope that the freshmen have enjoyed their campaign, and that they will go to the polls and vote for the person they honestly think is the best man."

Alice Harter, president of the Independent Students association, remarked, "All freshmen should get out and vote—no matter who for." And to the freshmen directly, she said, "Show your spirit as freshmen. So far, the politics have been on a high plane. Let's keep them so, and set a precedent for future elections."

The Greek leader, Robert Schott, voiced his hopes for freshmen when he said, "This year, for the most part, the elections were handled by the freshman class. The experiment has been both successful and enlightening. I believe that from their participation will grow a greater interest and a clearer knowledge of the political situation on the Oregon campus."

Voting will be by preferential ballot, each voter indicating his first and second choice for the top position. Thus the majority and minority groups receive representation according to their strength. Since only two candidates have been put up by each bloc, all four will win offices, the only fight being over which one wins the presidency.

Dance to Complete Tonight's Events

"Record Wrangle," a name that holds promise in itself, predicts not only an evening of the latest hits and dance tunes, but a record attendance for an all-campus swing.

The big social chairmen dance will start promptly after the WSC-Oregon game so that enthusiastic fans will just have time to trek the short distance between the Igloo and Gerlinger. (Most humble apologies for the former report stating that the dance would be held at McArthur court.)

Weary, care-worn coeds will not be required to don heels for the occasion, which is to be comfortably informal. (Males must appear in brightly ankle-bag socks, however.)

The 25 cent ticket, which incidentally is a small fee for the amount of return, may be purchased from the social chairman of each living organization or at the entrance of Gerlinger. This dance must prove the growing campus adage, "When the game ends, the music begins." "Support of this affair is necessary so that others will be possible," said Dodie Fridiger, president.

Social chairmen appointed by Miss Fridiger to help make this dance a success are: Steve Ganne, chairman of decorations; Betty

Annual 'Smarty Party' Honors Frosh Women

The Smarty Party given by the Mortar Board, senior women's service honorary, for all freshman girls with a three-point average or above, is scheduled for Wednesday, January 24, at Gerlinger.

Mortar Board members will visit living organizations during luncheon and dinner Monday and Tuesday to invite their guests.

Gerd Hansen is chairman of the party; Audrey Holliday is in charge of entertainment; Marty Beard, invitations; and Joan Dolph, refreshments.

Found At Last In Hazy Habitat

Whisps of smoke haze drifted through the mellow atmosphere of clinking glasses. The quiet talk of relaxed people and faint melodies mingled with the other sounds.

Suddenly, there she was!!! Her limpid blue eyes were pools fringed by forests of lashes. When she smiled, well . . . ! When she smiled. This was she. Yes, yes, yes, yes . . . !

"Pardon me, miss, but you have just been tapped to be one of the 30 girls running for the Dads' Day Miss Hospitality contest. May I have your name?"

All contestants are requested to submit pictures to the College Side Inn manager before noon, Monday.

A joint meeting of all faculty and student Dads' day committee chairmen will be held today, in Alumni hall, at 4 p.m.

Newman Club's Sunday Discussions To Resume

"Marriage in Wartime" will be the topic of discussion at the Newman club meeting Sunday, January 21. The Newman club is a discussion and social group to which all Catholic University students automatically belong.

Complete Cast For Dad's Day Comedy Settled

Final casting for "Heaven Can Wait," University theater production scheduled to open February 9, has been completed and Director Horace W. Robinson has announced the cast as follows:

Mr. Jordan, Edward T. Lyons, new to the campus this term; messenger 7013, Shubert Fendrick, freshman in business administration; Joe Pendleton, John Moore, freshman in liberal arts; Tony, Donald O'Connell, freshman in liberal arts; Julia, Jo Anne Bush, freshman in art; Max, Dale Frederick, freshman in law; Bette, Annabelle Wilkerson Davis; Williams, Richard Dahlstrom; Susie, Janet Hicks; and second escort, Raymond E. Beeson, all freshmen in liberal arts.

Mr. Jordan Solves Problem

"Heaven Can Wait," a comedy by Harry Segall, concerns a sax-playing, airplane-flying prize fighter, Joe Pendleton, who gets prematurely yanked from his crashing plane by an over-zealous heavenly messenger, number 7013. The problem is taken to Mr. Jordan, a sort of administrator in the upper brackets, whose job it is to make things right with Joe by returning him to his, or someone else's body on earth. Complications arrive when Joe falls in love with Bette, who falls in love with Joe while he is inhabiting a certain Mr. Farnsworth's body.

Robert Young Played Joe

This play was produced a few years ago as a movie under the title of "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." Robert Young played Joe, and Claude Rains, the genial Mr. Jordan.

The University theater production will be given in intimate or blue room style, third floor of Gerlinger hall. Opening February 9, there will be a special Dad's Day showing February 10, and additional performances February 14, 15, 16, and 17.

AWS Officers Named

Marilyn Campbell, president of AWS, announces the appointment of two new officers. Beverly Carol, as sergeant-at-arms, will replace Bea King, and Marge Skordahl was appointed to the position of reporter, formerly held by Roseann Leckie.

Coeds Count Paint For 'O' in Essentials

Despite the fact that bright yellow traffic paint is on the priority list and painting big concrete letters on local hillsides does not seem to be regarded as a wartime necessity, the big "O" on Skinners butte received its traditional coat of paint last night when fourteen Sigma Kappas undertook the task.

The blotch of orange paint, poured on the "O" by Oregon State men (the rats!), had filled University students with horror. The very honor of the school was at stake! Such were the thoughts of the ambitious Sigmas, dressed in jeans and armed with brushes, as they climbed the butte to apply the original color of lemon yellow.

Today's World

GERMANY PROPER has been invaded by Russian troops, who crossed the border of industrial Silesia some 250 miles southeast of Berlin. The week-old attack by Soviet forces has covered one-quarter the distance to Berlin.

A THREE-PRONGED drive by the 6th army is making progress on Luzon along highways toward Manila and down a coastal highway leading to Bataan.

BRITISH FORCES Thursday advanced almost three miles into Germany along the Holland border.

THROUGH FOG and melting snow U. S. 1st army troops moved to within 4 miles of St. Vith, last Belgian road center in German hands.

PRIME MINISTER Churchill challenged the House of Commons to another vote of confidence on his policy in liberated countries, maintaining that as long as he was in office, Britain would pursue a wartime policy of interference in middle Europe.

Jean Kirkwood, Ed Allen Head 1945 Weekend

Ed Allen, junior in psychology, and Jean Kirkwood, sophomore in law, were appointed co-chairmen of the 1945 Junior Weekend directorate, it was revealed by Marilyn Holden, president of the class of 1946, Thursday. The newly appointed co-chairmen filed petitions for the position last term, and will have charge over a large number of chairmen of various committees comprising the directorate.

Several of the committee chairmen were also appointed and announced at the same time: all-campus luncheon, Betty Lu Simonson; all-campus sing, Ann Vanvalvah; junior prom, Signe Eklund; coronation ceremony, Mary Margaret Ellsworth and Maxine Cady.

A number of other positions as chairmen of committees and committee members are open. Petitions must be filed with Miss Holden, at the Chi Omega house, before Thursday, January 26, and must include certificates of eligibility.

Junior Weekend is scheduled for May 5, 6, and 7, the coming spring term.

World Traveler Desires Post War World Unity

"To be an American at this present moment is a very great responsibility," declared Madame Alfred Jonniaux, world traveler and international observer, in an address to students Thursday in McArthur court. Speaking on "World Unity; Our Part as Individuals," Madame Jonniaux stressed the importance of a realization of the need of unity in the postwar world.

Madame Jonniaux related some of her experiences as the wife of the distinguished painter to the Belgian court, Alfred Jonniaux. Mme. Jonniaux's contacts with distinguished Europeans made her aware of their feelings on matters of national interest.

Madame Jonniaux first noticed the Nazis in 1936 when they attracted considerable attention by their entertaining. The Germans and Italians entertained everyone from every walk of life at this time, she said.

Madame Jonniaux and her husband were in Argentina at the time of the Spanish civil war. "Everyone there was so acutely pro-
