Annamae Winship Approved Emerald Business Manager

The appointment of Annamae Winship as Emerald business manager was unanimously confirmed at a meeting of the educational activities board, Monday. The decision is subject to approval by the ASUO executive council. Miss Winship replaces Roseanne Leckie, who served as business manager since September and whose resignation was accepted at the beginning of this term.

Eugene Miller, junior in economy, was the only other applicant for the position.

The free student tickets for concerts sponsored by the Greater Artists series will be revoked unless the prevailing practice of lending the tickets to townspeople is not immediately discontinued. Horace Robinson, director of the educational activities board, announced. The tickets issued gratis to University students are sold en masse to the board on condition that they will be used only by the students.

Debating Teams Begin State Tours

The symposium team composed of Beverly Carroll, Sue Stater, and Marjorie Silvis will discuss post-war relations between the United States and Russia in a series of appearances in Oregon towns this week.

February 6 the team will speak at Reedsport high school, North Bend high school and the Coos Bay American Association of University Women. They will be heard February 7 at Bandon high, River-ton high, Coquille Rotary club, Coquille high, and the Myrtle Point Lions club. They will close their tour February 8 by discussions at Myrtle Point high, Myrtle Point Rotary club, and North Bend Methodist-Episcopal church.

Their treatment of the Russian subject will deal with the three questions: Will Russia attempt to communize Europe, and eventually the world? Will the United States be able to compete successfully in the world market with Russia's controlled foreign trade policy? and Will the United States and Russia be able to cooperate in the maintenance of peace?

The purpose of these forensic activities is to provide the students with an opportunity to appear before actual audiences and to offer the people and taxpayers of the state an opportunity to share in the information that the students have uncovered in their investigation and research of timely topics.

Dumbarton Oaks Plan

"The United Nations (Dumbarton Oaks) Plan for World Cooperation" will be the subject of discussion for the symposium composed of Alice Harter, Carolyn Jacobs, and Margery Skordahl. In a tour of Oregon towns they will appear at the Toledo Episcopal church and the Methodist church February 11, at Warrenton, Knappa-Svensen, and Astoria high schools February 12; and at Westport, Clatskanie, Rainier, Wheeler, and Tillamook high schools, Clatskanie Lions club, and Tillamook

Men to Contest For 'King' Role At Annual Hop

The contest is on! Tonight all aspirants for the title of "King of Hearts" to reign over the annual Heart Hop, Wednesday, February 14, from 3:15 to 5:15, will find themselves well on the way to fame, according to Chairman Louise Fletcher. All men's living organizations have been asked to submit the names of their contestants by 6:30 this evening to Jeanne Robinson, at the Gamma Phi Beta house. The winners, king and two knaves, have been promised dates with three hospitality girls, which proves, "you can have your royalty and date it, too!" said contest officials.

The affair is a traditional girl-date-boy dance.

Coronation of the king will be held at one of three houses chosen as sites for the dance. All votes for the king will be cast on the stub of each ticket costing 25 cents per couple.

King to Dine

The first girls' organization to reach 100 per cent on ticket sales will be granted the honor of having the king or knave as dinner guest on a designated evening. Second and third houses to hit the 100 per cent mark will receive, as consolation prizes, two dance records.

Committees for the Heart Hop, announced by Miss Fletcher, are as follows: tickets, chairman, Nila Desinger, Bernice Chambers, Geneva Davis, Joyce Davis; publicity, chairman, Phyl Perkins, Shirley Priestley, Betty Johnson, Shirley Peters; finance, chairman, Bjorg Hansen, Lois Herrington; selection of King of Hearts candidates, Norma Figone, Jeanne Robinson, co-chairmen, Patt Skinner; election

This affair, scheduled to fill a dance night vacated by the cancellation of the Dad-Daughter-Date dance, will be a short silk event, Marguerite Wittwer, dance committee head, announced. Miss Wittwer was appointed chairman of the original dance for this date by Jack Craig, former chairman for the entire Dads' Day program.

While attending Oregon he was a premedical student.

There are only 12 in the cast and no assistant director.

Today's World

THE REMAINING JAP garrison holding out in part of Manila is now surrounded as U. S. cavalry and infantry close in on the north and paratroops cut off the escape route to the south.

RUSSIAN FORCES have carved out a bridgehead on the west bank of the Oder river near Breslau and are fighting along a 100-mile front on that river. Red vanguards are within 30 miles of Berlin.

THREE GERMAN divisions have been trapped in the Colmar pocket south of Strasbourg by American tanks and French Moroccan mountain troops while on the center of the western front the U. S. 1st army is fighting 13 miles inside Germany.

Rainbow Fails to Yield 'Pot of Gold'

For centuries sage philosophers have puzzled over the grave problem of what may be found at the end of the rainbow. Be it known to all that the answer has been found, and the fortunate holder of the proverbial and ethereal pot of gold is Freshman Zona Rose Zander.

Monday afternoon following the unpredictable alternation of sunshine and showers, a rainbow arched in florescent spectrum across the campus. Miss Zander walked into one end of the arch shimmering in the air between Chapman and Condon halls.

Politics, Religion Lectures Draw Crowds

Presenting to University students and faculty members the views on world politics related to religion as expressed by three of the outstanding religious leaders among contemporary members of the clergy, the lectureship sponsored on the campus last week by the faculty committee on religious and spiritual activities drew interest throughout the state.

A total of twelve lectures was given by Dr. Paul Hutchinson, managing editor of the Christian Century magazine, Dr. Wilhelm Pauly, professor of historical theology at the University of Chicago, and Father Charles Miltner, president of the University of Portland. Among these discussions, the following examples have been selected for brief review:

A Family of Nations

By Father Miltner

There can be no family of nations because there is no society of nations. If nations were fused to one great state, each nation would be required to relinquish her sovereignty, but with a League of Nations they would maintain their powers of self-government although these powers would be limited. We had a League of Nations and it failed because one great nation refused to become a member. However the failure was only partial because the chief purpose of the league was to procure international good and many benefits were derived from it. Nations, like men, should be both individual and social. Men must not continue the questioning of other men's motives; this is a dangerous obstruction on the path of cooperation.

The Church and War-Making States

By Dr. Hutchinson

The state and not the church is at war. Total war is waged by labor and we too will become totalitarian for the duration. Modern wars cannot be waged on any other basis. However, it is apparent that
