Girl Scout Camp Needs Counsellors

Several openings on the staff of Camp Cleawox, which will be open this summer for campers from the Eugene-Lane county organization of Girl Scouts, who were announced this week by Miss Marjorie Stewart, Girl Scout representative in Eugene.

Unit leaders, assistant counsellors, and water front staff members are needed. Positions are also open for people with senior life saving certificates, and those trained in boating, canoeing, and special crafts.

Salaries will be paid depending upon the skill and knowledge of the individual. Volunteer work may also be done, if only one or two weeks are available for such summer work.

The camp is located two and one-half miles south of Florence. Further information may be obtained from Miss Stewart, whose office is located over the Western Union office on Willamette street.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

"Postwar Planning" will be the topic for a panel discussion Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Westminster house. Emphasizing the attainment of economic and social freedom, the discussion will be led by Harlow Hudson, instructor in architecture, W. R. B. Willcox, professor emeritus of architecture, and Jim Bryant, of Westminster.

Captain Bob Hamilton, who has never lost a varsity game to OSC, will lead the Ducks in McArthur court tonight, when Oregon will try for their sixth straight win over the Beavers.

HIS SIXTH STRAIGHT LOSS?
Bernie McGrath, floor captain of the Beavers, will try to help end a two-year losing streak to the Webfoots.

taken over by Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary. These girls in white sweaters and skirts will be behind the coke stands at all games and concerts in the future. Students are asked to leave their coke bottles in the halls, instead of taking them back to the bleachers.

"To climax this really sensational weekend the Citrus Mix will blow the top! Del McKay has planned a super program and the decorations and music are the kind you've been waiting for all year," Chairmen Marguerite Wittwer and Jack Craig asserted Friday.

A Juicy Event

The "postwar" Citrus Mix, strictly stag, after the lemon-orange game, is sponsored by the ASUO for both Oregon Webfoots and Oregon State Beavers. Immediately after the game all spectators will move to Gerlinger where tickets may be purchased at the door for 35 cents. Campus clothes will be worn.

Among entertainers featured on the program are Orin "I spill the dirt" Weir and his "Made in Taylor's" trio, Erna Gawehn and her hula, Marylin "Rhumba Queen" May, and Barbara "Miss Lane County" Bentley. Other numbers on the program are part of the secret.

Although Dads' weekend as originally planned, is not possible because of an ODT ruling, the members of the Oregon Dads' executive committee will hold a luncheon meeting in the Regents room of John Straub hall at 12:15 a.m. today.

Meeting at 5:30 p.m. at the Eugene hotel, the University alumni council has invited dads who are on the campus or in Eugene to a banquet. The dinner will be devoted almost wholly to reports by Dr. Will V. Norris and Dr. Abbott Lawrence, who recently toured the United States to collect material on other student unions. Lynn A. Parr, alumni association president, will preside, and Anse Cornell, University athletic manager, will be introduced.

At 10:30 a.m. Sunday in 106 Deady hall, a special session of the alumni advisory committee for the student union will be held to discuss the project in detail.
