

Girls Will Vote For Favorite

"Only girls will be allowed to vote for King of Hearts," announced Louise Fletcher, Heart Hop chairman. All women on the campus are urged to buy their tickets now and cast their votes for their choice as king at booths in the Side and Co-op from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday and from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday. Tickets will serve as ballots, therefore it is essential that all voters have their tickets in their possession when they wish to cast their votes.

As Wednesday the 14th approaches competition for king grows keener and campaign managers are now working with increasing fervor to enhance the popularity of their king candidate. Propaganda in the form of posters, serenades, and person to person plugging is as prevalent on the campus as it was in the days of the '44 election.

Of the nine contestants pictured above, seven have pictures posted in the Side. "Three others have yet to receive their photos from Wacac overseas," said posters chairman, Betty Mack. Contestants number 11 in all including Hal Ford, candidate supported by fraternity men on the campus and Bill Lindley, chosen to represent the journalism school, both of whom were unable to appear in the official photo.

College Student Body Heads Discuss State Building Fund

Sign Request For Increase in Appropriations

Spurred to action by the $1,-273,000 cut in proposed appropriations for state system of higher education buildings, four state system student body presidents met here Saturday and drew up a resolution appealing to the legislature to "fully consider present proposals for future development."

Called together by Audrey Holliday, ASUO student body president, the group discussed the state board of higher education's request for $2,273,000 which has been cut to $1,000,000 in the budget now before the ways and means committee of the house. In light of expected increased enrollments from regular sources and returning veterans, the leaders agreed that the bill was entirely inadequate. The following resolution was passed:

"We, the student body presidents, representing the students of the state institutions of higher learning, do hereby propose the following resolution:

"To the people and to the state legislature of Oregon—Resolved: That because of the inadequate appropriations for maintenance and development of the state institutions of higher education during the past 15 years, the state legislature should and must fully consider present proposals for future development."

It was signed by George Dewey, Oregon State college; Audrey Holliday, Oregon; Warren Michael,

VOTING PROCEDURE in the world organization was decided upon but details of the solution will not be revealed until China and France are consulted.

Council to Promote Freshmen Activities Set Up by Kwama

A revolutionary method of promoting the extra-curricular activities of freshman men and women will be introduced and explained at the meeting of the freshman council at 7 o'clock tonight in the Villard assembly hall.

Sponsored and supervised by members of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, this organization will seek to further the participation of each freshman, Independent or Greek, in student activities.

Under the new plan, prospective activities have been classified under various headings. At tonight's meeting, which every member of the class of '48 is urged to attend, students will enter their names under the activity classification in which they are interested. These names will be kept on file under the direction of Chief Co-ordinator Margery Skordahl.

Kwama Has Lists

In the future, when help is needed by any of the departments, organizations, or committees on the campus, Kwamas in charge of the various activity preference lists

UO Scholarship Blanks Available

Students who wish to apply for state fee scholarships for the academic year 1945-46 now may procure the blanks from Mrs. Frances DeFrest in Johnson hall. Although applications may be turned in as late as April 1, students are urged to pick up blanks, fill them out, and turn them in as soon as possible in order that references may be contacted, and the applications put in final form for review by the scholarship committee.

Students who rank high in scholarship (GPA 2.50 or higher) and are in need of financial assistance are eligible to apply. A fee scholarship carries a value of $22 a term, or $66 a year for a resident student; for an out-of-state student it carries a value of $72 a term, or $216 a year. This allowance covers tuition, laboratory, and course fees, but the recipient must pay matriculation, incidental, building, and special fees.

The awarding of state scholarships is limited to 2 per cent of enrollment, and 50 per cent of the total number of awards is made to entering freshmen. After scholarships have been awarded to those ranking highest in grades, an alternate list is prepared from which vacancies are filled as they occur in the regular scholarship list. This list is usually exhausted by the end of a school year.
