

Webfoots Upset by Beavers 55-51

League Lead Sliced to One Game; Wilkins High Scorer With 19 Points

Oregon state's towering center, Red Rocha, turned out to be 6 feet, 8 inches of high-powered trouble last Saturday, when the Webfoots succumbed to Oregon State, 55-51 in McArthur court.

Both teams came out even on two-pointers, with 22 field goals apiece, and the Beavers' margin of victory was their free throws. They made 11, against 7 for the Ducks.

Rocha dunked in 18 of the Beavers' points with 7 field goals and 4 gift tosses, which wasn't quite high for the evening, but he also had a big hand in controlling the backboards for the Orange quint.

The Ducks jumped off to a quick start on a basket by Jim Bartelt 15 seconds after the opening gun. Rocha immediately tied the score with his first tip-in, and Wilkins scored for Oregon with a free throw and a basket. Two more free throws by Bartelt gave the Warrenmen their longest lead of the game, 7-4 at the 16-minute mark.

The lead changed back and forth for the next five minutes until Rocha put the Beavers ahead 17-16 with a free throw. From that point, Oregon never regained their lead as the Beavers built up a half time lead of 35-24.

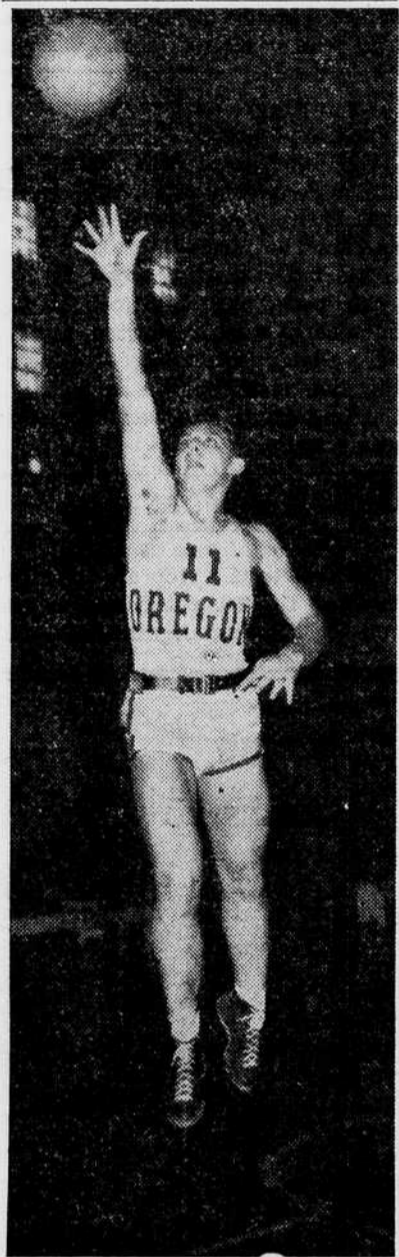

The second half was almost as completely dominated by the Ducks as the first was by OSC. Wilkins started off with two quick baskets to cut the Beaver lead to seven points. Rocha countered with four markers for the Beavers, and then it was Wilkins, Labhart for OSC, and Wilkins again.

Oregon State had built their lead back up to 12 points when little Larry West hit one with eight minutes left in the game. Bob Hamilton laid one in for the Ducks to make it 41-51, then Wilkins put on a display of ball stealing, taking the ball out of the hands of the startled Beavers, and scoring four quick baskets in two minutes. Labhart put in a basket and a gift toss for OSC during Wilkins' scoring splurge but the Ducks were only five points down, 49-54.

With three minutes left, Wilkins went out on personals. Rocha followed a minute later while the Ducks could only hit one more basket and OSC made a free throw. The game ended with Oregon fighting desperately for the ball under their own basket, but the Beavers managed to tie the ball up until the final whistle.

Wilkins was high point man for the game with counters, followed closely by Rocha of OSC, who had 18 points.

NUMBER 10
Jim Bartelt, freshman guard from Ashland, eased his way into the tenth spot in league scoring by hitting 10 points against OSC Saturday. Bartelt completes the group as all five of the Duck starters are among the top ten scorers.

Navy relief, New York City. Gentlemen: I got your letter asking is my baby a boy or a girl. Of course. What else could it be?

Flight officer: "What's the last word in airplanes?" Cadet: "Jump!"

Run to the ferry, Mary; you can give him the slip there . . .

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Kwama meeting at 4 p.m. today at the top of the Side.
* * *

Interdorm council will meet at 7:30 tonight in John Straub hall.

Jameson to Talk On Race Problems

Dr. Samuel Haig Jameson, professor of sociology, will participate as a faculty member in the Northwest Institute of International Relations, from June 7 to 15, inclusive, at Reed college, Portland.

Dr. Jameson will conduct a round table for the seven days of the institute on racial relations or the problems of minorities. In addition he will present two lectures to the entire student body relating to the general theme of the institute, "Winning the Peace," by way of analysis of racial relations.

Dr. Jameson attended a meeting of the governor's committee on juvenile delinquency, of which he is a member, February 2 and 3. At that time he also attended a meeting of the subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

Business School to Show 'The Champion Writer'

Of interest to future stenographers and executives on the campus will be the free technicolor film, complete with sound, entitled "The Champions Writer," which will be shown tonight at 7:30 in room 207 Chapman hall.

The movie will show several champion shorthand writers at work. It is furnished by the Gregg company, and sponsored by the school of business administration.

Run to the engine room, Emma. You can slip his clutch easily there.

'Taylor for King' Address Today

Don Taylor, Yeoman candidate for King of Hearts, directed by fan clubs and his impulses of fair play, will air his views to Oregon coeds in support of other Heart Hop candidates during a short chat from the balcony of the College Side Inn today at 11 a.m.

Unknowingly Don is probably as choice a candidate that Oregon women could pick for their King of Hearts, but because of his rigid modesty and sense of fairness, he cannot bring himself to the position of taking forward gestures to promote himself, and is instead a martyr so that a wise and suitable selection will be made, according to Yeomen President John Craig.

Will Read Art Newsletter Tonight

The art school's news letter is to be the topic of Mrs. Mabel Houck's interview this evening over KOAC from 8:15 to 8:30. This letter is sent to the alumni of the art school, and Mrs. Houck, who is librarian there, will read a few excerpts from the letters she received in reply. The University Journal, arranged by the senior editing class, presents these weekly interviews, which are conducted by Arliss Boone and Carol Sibulsky.

The campus recital, from 7 to 7:30, will feature Misses Edna Fisher and Betty Jean Taylor, pianists.

Following this recital, from 8 to 8:15, Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, will present his weekly talk, World in Review.
