

Kerensky Declares Responsibility For Future in Youths' Hands

(Continued from page one) social reforms. The Russian diplomat expressed hope that Russia would return to this basis of policy after the war. Although he admitted that the "future was a guess."

Russian Freedom

When asked if there would be more freedom in Russia after the war, he replied that it "depended upon the energies of the Russian people."

As to what should be done with Germany after the war—"that is purely a diplomatic question. I don't know," Kerensky stated.

He believes that the Curzon line in Poland is a just boundary, and that Russia is right in upholding it. He reviewed the fact that the line was decided upon at the Versailles peace conference in 1919, by representatives of various foreign governments. The Curzon line forms a non-geographical boundary between Polish and Russian inhabited provinces. In 1937 Russia reannexed the provinces in question, which had been seized by Poland in 1902. The annexation still has four more years to run.

Chapman Hall Address

There is a distinct difference between the spiritual autonomy of the people of a democratic state and that of the people of a totalitarian state, Dr. Kerensky, former premier of the Russia republic said Tuesday to a large audience in Chapman hall in his address on "The Origin of Democratic and Totalitarian Ideologies." The whole philosophy of the totalitarian state may be summed up with the following phrase, "Chosen class here, and chosen slave there!" he added.

In the totalitarian state the individual is nothing but a tool to accomplish the aims of the state or of the class, while in a democratic country the government is the tool of the people. The real battle as to whether or not the world is going to be totalitarian or democratic will not come until after the war. It is then that the spiritual battles which will determine the political policies of the world will be fought, according to the speaker.

Dr. Kerensky will speak today in 207 Chapman at 11 a.m. on the Russian revolution of 1917, and at 2 p.m. on Russia and the Far East. All students are invited to attend these lectures.

UO Cover Girl

(Continued from page one)

Four runners-up will be named and their pictures published in the special edition to advertise new spring styles at Eugene stores.

All contestants must be at Gerlinger promptly and short silks and heels will be worn. The following women have been nominated to represent their living organizations:

Suzanne Cook, Alpha Delta Pi; Virginia Bratfisch, Alpha Phi; Evelyn Belgrano, Alpha Xi Delta; Pat Webber, Alpha Chi Omega; Bobbie Toncray, Alpha Gamma Delta; Jean Carkin, Alpha Omicron Pi; Pat Smith, Chi Omega; Mary Dixon, Delta Gamma; Jayne Kerns, Delta Delta Delta; Sallie Timmens, Gamma Phi Beta; Phyllis Van Petten, Kappa Alpha Theta; Gayle Nelson, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Erna Gawehn, Pi Beta Phi; Betty Ditto, Sigma Kappa.

Mary Lou Helmer, Gamma hall; Phyllis Kiste, Hilyard house; Marilyn Servas, Highland house; Ida Pajari, Hendricks hall; Betty Lu

MOVIE SCHEDULE

The weekly free film program in 207 Chapman, at 7:30 tonight, includes: "Before the Raid," a story of Norwegian resistance; "The Indispensible Ingredient," the story of salt in technicolor; "Architects of England," and "South Africa," a March of Time release.

Oregana Appoints Bjorg Hansen, Velita Durland

Betty Lou Siegman, associate editor of the Oregana, announced the appointment of Bjorg Hansen as assistant associate editor in charge of copy. Velita Durland was appointed assistant art editor by Edith Newton, editor of the Oregana.

Melby, Mary Spiller hall; Jean Graves, Susan Campbell; Greta Lindstedt, University house; Bonnie Hesse, Zeta hall.

Honorary Pledges Twelve Students

Twelve girls were pledged to Gamma Alpha Chi, national advertising honorary for women, Thursday night while they were having dinner in their respective living organizations.

Pledges are chosen on the basis of their interest in advertising, their enrollment in advertising courses, work on the advertising staffs of the campus publications, and scholastic standing. All pledges must be at least sophomores in the University.

Those who were pledged are: Patsy Maloney, Frances Maier, Gloria Hawley, Helen Maxim, Alyson Hales, Marge Cowlin, Anita Young, Jackie Kenfield, Virginia Harris, Dorothy Maddox, Dorothy Godknecht, and Roseanne Hill.

Initiation will be held early spring term.

OREGON DAILY EMERALD

Night Staff:
Maryan Howard, night editor
Wednesday Ad Staff:
Marjorie Fay, day manager
Mary Palmer
"Butch" Leckie
Layout Staff:
Nadyne Neet
Betty Bennett
Shirley Peters
Barbara Spangler

MAYFLOWER

"Edie Was a Lady"

Anne Miller - Joe Besser

"Nevada"

Bob Mitchen - Ann Jeffries

McDONALD

"SHADOWS OF SUSPICION"

"WINGED VICTORY"

JUST RECEIVED!
A new shipment
of Loafers, with Avon non-mark soles

GET THEM
at

KAILES APPAREL SHOP
Phone 976 Ladies' Wear 1044 Willamette

Spring Coats, Suits, and Dresses
Arriving Daily

NEW SHIPMENT
of
COTTON DRESSES and PEDAL PUSHERS

PENNEY'S
Keynotes of Your Wardrobe!

Top Off With a SHORT COAT FOR SPRING

Such jaunty three-quarter coats in wonderful, wonderful colors! The new mandarin types with big raglan sleeves and slit sides, bound in shiny black braid. Fancy monotone weaves; boxy styles in soft fleeces!

21.75

FOR YOUR ...

Before Bed Snack

Doughnuts
Cookies
Cake
Chess Pies Pies

also

Potato Salad
Macaroni
Baked Beans

Home Bakery

86 E. Broadway Phone 4118

Hogan's Grocery and Cook's Market
544 E. 13th Phone 2066