

Religion Groups Will be Queried As to Purposes

Questionnaires designed to find the general and specific aims of student religious organizations, including the Student Religious Council, on the campus have been prepared by the executive committee of the council and the Religious Workers Fellowship.

When filled out, the questionnaires will be turned in to Dr. R. E. Cushman, University religious director, 214 Oregon building.

First question on the blank asks for a statement of the purpose of a student religious council. The next question deals with the problem of religious activity in which all religious groups take part as against activities by single religious groups such as the YMCA, Westminster house, etc.

Correlation of Activities

Should a student religious council discuss problems which are also the concern of individual groups, is another problem set forth in the questionnaire. The questionnaire suggests, for the purpose of organization of a campus-wide religious council, either monthly meetings or special committees and asks for other suggestions.

The questionnaire asks for opinions concerning the significance of vesper services, and then asks who should sponsor them and how could they best be promoted. After setting forth the pros and cons of an all-campus religious organization, the questionnaire concludes by asking if each individual group would actively support the organization if a majority of campus groups did so.

Play Contest End Will Be March 25

The March 25 deadline for entries in the Sally Allen one-act play contest sponsored by the Eugene Very Little theater signifies that students desiring to enter manuscripts should set about preparing them soon, members of the sponsoring committee have declared.

It is emphasized that work submitted should be typewritten, double spaced, and typed on one side of the paper only. The name of the author should not be entered on the manuscript proper but should be submitted on a slip of paper in a sealed envelope with the title of the play on the outside.

Entries should be submitted on or before the deadline date to any one of the three members of the committee, which includes Mrs. Clara Lynch Fitch, secretary of the campus graduate school, L. K. Shumaker, general supervisor of Eugene public schools, or Mrs. A. H. Ernst, associate professor of English and committee chairman.

The winning manuscript will be produced by the VLT group. In addition the author will receive a cash prize of $10.

Dr. Jameson to Talk Informally at His Home

Students will have another opportunity to become personally acquainted with professors in their home atmosphere when Dr. Samuel H. Jameson, professor of sociology, holds open house Sunday, March 4, at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Town and Gown group of the YWCA, this is the second in a series of open house evenings at the homes of faculty members.

Dr. Jameson's residence is at 1039 East 21st street. All students interested in attending should notify Liz DeCou at Kappa Alpha Theta or at the "Y" bungalow.

MARY CORRIGAN

SIGNE EKLUND

New head of the YWCA will be Mary Corrigan, junior in sociology. An over-all AWS president for 1945-46 will be Signe Eklund, junior in liberal arts, and present president of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary.

'Jap Troops' Driven Out

An enemy reconnaissance patrol occupied the ROTC barracks without opposition early Thursday, March 1, but a successful counter-attack by four Omega hall stalwarts forced the Japanese sympathizers to withdraw from their objective.

A Japanese flag flew over the post while members of the general staff were off duty but the Omega quartet saved Major William S. Averill the embarrassment of removing the enemy flag at sunrise by their quick action.

If Major Averill is interested in apprehending the culprits it might be worthwhile if he would check on the whereabouts of all cadets from 12 to 1 a.m. Thursday morning.

The four who caught the vandals are: Del McKay, Joe Chiamonte, Harry Waggoner, and Louis Hlapcich.

Post-Game Hop Planned by ISA For Gerlinger

With a special welcome extended to visiting students from Oregon State, members of the ISA dance committee have planned an evening of fun, dancing, and entertainment for everyone at the annual ISA "Winter Mix" in Gerlinger hall tonight after the game from 9:30 to curfew time.

According to dance co-chairmen, Doris Spearow and Harriet Farr, "the winter mix will be the last chance for everyone to get together under normal social conditions before finals."

The general theme and atmosphere at the mix will be highly informal with decorations, music and lighting combining to provide the elements of two hours of escape from March, 1945—war and finals.

Tickets for the mix will be sold at the door of Gerlinger directly after the game. Admission price will be 40 cents per person.

Girls to Add To Activities

"Presidents of independent girls' organizations are urged to appoint activity chairmen to encourage participation in campus activities," Signe Eklund, president of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, announced Thursday. The chairmen will cooperate with the Phi Theta activity committee in promoting a better understanding of the activity setup.

The Phi Theta committee, composed of Signe Eklund, Janet Douglas, D. L. U. Simonsen, Charlotte Calder, and Dorothy Godknecht, has visited all independent houses this term explaining petitions, honoraries, openings, and the qualifications for activity positions. Activity chairmen are asked to contact one of the committee for additional information on activities.

Phi Theta is asking also for petitions for chairmanship of their annual twisty sale, scheduled April 11 and 12. Only freshman women are eligible. Petitions must be handed in by Saturday noon, March 10, to either Signe Eklund or Janet Douglas.

Cigarette Sale Nets Sum in War Stamps

Six packages of cigarettes were auctioned at the Side Friday at 4 p.m. for war stamps. The person bidding the largest amount of stamps received a package for his stamps plus the regular price of the cigarettes. $9.50 in stamps was sold, Phyllis Perkins, chairman of the auction, said.

In all war stamp sales this term, $102.70 has been sold at assemblies, basketball games, concerts, and the WAA carnival. The campus goal to purchase a Red Cross field ambulance is $1950.

The basketball attention of the Northwest turns to Eugene and McArthur court tonight, as an estimated capacity crowd of between 6,000 and 7,000 expectant fans await the "civil war" battle between Oregon and Oregon State.

A snowball rally will start at 4:30 p.m. today, beginning at Gamma Phi, and the Tri-Delt houses, and ending at the SAE house, where an open-air dance will follow in the tennis courts.

Both teams go into the final round of their annual four-game series, deadlocked with ten wins and five losses. The winner will cinch at least a co-tie with Washington State, providing that the Cougars beat Idaho.

Oregon won the first tilt over the Beavers 51-44, but the Orangemen came back to squeeze through the last two games with 55-51, and 45-43 victories. The Ducks had a seemingly safe Northern division lead until their defeats at the hands of the Beavers.

Winner 'Set'

The winner will either have a clear championship, or else the aforesaid co-tie, which will necessitate a playoff. The championship team, or the winner of the playoff, will be tendered a bid to the NCAA national playoffs in Kansas City the latter part of the month.

University Theater Begins New Production Series

In offering "The Trojan Women," opening Wednesday, March 7, at Guild hall, the University theater begins its long announced "four year plan" to acquaint University audiences with the great dramas of the past.

The box office in Johnson hall will be open Monday and Tuesday, March 5 and 6, from 10 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. On performance days the box office will remain open until 9 p.m., according to Marjory Allingham, theater business manager.

"The Trojan Women," was written by Euripides, ancient Greek tragedian. The scene is laid between the citadel of Troy and the water's edge where the Grecian ships are being made ready for the victorious return to Greece.

In the four major roles are Marilyn Wherry, Hecuba; Kay Korn, Andromache; Marjory Allingham, Cassandra; and Phyllis Kiste, Helen.

Figuring in the distribution of captives is Talthybius, a Greek herald who will be portrayed by Earl Thompson, sophomore in business administration.

Cast as the infant Astyanax, is Gerry Williams, two and a half year old son of Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Dick Williams.

Menelaus will be played alternately by Don White, freshman in liberal arts, and Edward Lyons.

A prologue, depicting the attitude of the gods toward the children of the earth, will be played by

Mayflower to Show Latin Film Monday

"Tierra de las Pasiones," a Mexican-produced film combining action and music with the color of a rural community "south of the border" will be shown for students and townspeople Monday, March 5, at the Mayflower, as announced by Dr. L. O. Wright, head of the Spanish department.

The film, sponsored by the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish honorary, and by the Eugene high school Spanish club, will be shown twice, Dr. Wright said. Presentation will be at 7 and at 9 Monday evening, with tickets priced at 50 cents.

HUBBA HUBBA

A hike to Old Homestead is being planned by the Outing club this afternoon and all students are invited to join the parade. The group will meet at 12 noon today in front of Gerlinger hall. All hikers must bring a sack lunch.

Orchestra to Play Sunday

Modern and classical music will be combined in the annual winter concert program of the University symphony orchestra Sunday at 4 p.m. in the music building. The orchestra is under the direction of Rex Underwood, professor of violin and symphony conductor.

"Leonore Overture No. 3" by Beethoven, considered the greatest overture in musical literature, symphony in B minor (unfinished) by Schubert, and "Concerto Grosso," Op. 6, No. 10, by Handel will open the program.

Prokofieff's "Overture on Jewish Themes" will feature a double string quartet with the addition of piano and clarinet.

Concluding the performance will be two dances, "Dance of the Clowns" from "Snegourotchka," by Rimsky-Korsakow, and "Dance of the Camorristas" from "Jewels of the Madonna," by Wolf-Ferrari.

The program is free to the public.

A piano recital by Mrs. Aurora Underwood, associate professor of music, will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday; and Phi Beta will present their musical program under the direction of Dr. Arnold Elston, associate professor of music, at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

YWCA activators will hold nomination of officers at 4 p.m. Thursday, March 8. All freshmen and sophomores are urged to attend.
