

Ducks to Battle Cougars

Championship Tilts To Set NCAA Team

By WALLY ADAMS

Determined to break out of their championship tie with Washington State, the Webfoots left Thursday for Pullman where they meet the Cougars in the first game of their playoff Saturday night.

John Warren did not give the Ducks any chance to sit back and rest on their laurels this week, but has had the squad working out daily until they left.

Championship Tickets

Tickets for the playoff game between Oregon and Washington State will go on sale Monday, March 12, in the educational activities office in McArthur court. All reserve tickets have been sold but students with athletic cards will have first chance at seats in the rooting section on the bleachers. General admission tickets will sell for $1.20; 75 cents to those students with athletic cards.

Vacation Plans Remain Intact

Early this term students' vacation dreams were shattered when press dispatches said that the office of defense transportation was asking colleges and universities to eliminate spring vacations. At the University of Oregon no such request was received, and Acting President Orlando John Hollis reiterated this week his earlier statement that no change is contemplated in the calendar for the year.

(Please turn to page sixteen)

The team will work out Friday on the Cougar court to accustom themselves to the higher altitude.

The winner of the two out of three playoffs (next Friday and Saturday, if necessary), will be tendered the bid to represent the west coast in the NCAA meet in Kansas City later this month.

Tall Fir Hays

Ken Hays, sophomore center, is troubled with an ankle injury, but will probably be able to see action tomorrow night. He is the only man tall enough on the Oregon squad to stop the high-scoring WSC center, Vince Hansen.

In the four games played this season, Oregon and Washington State split. The Cougars took the first one 43-36, and the Ducks stormed back with a 47-34 second game win. The process was repeated on McArthur court with the Cougars again winning the first game, this time 54-43, and the Oregon quint rolling back for a 64-48 victory.

Lineups

The starting lineups for the two quints will probably be the same as they were in their last tilt, with Cougar Coach Jack Friel using his letterman five: Joslin and Gregg, forwards; Hansen, center; Hamilton and Rennick, guards. There has been no announced change in the Oregon starters: Wilkins, Smith, Hays, Bartelt, and Hamilton.

FIRST FAMILY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Dr. Harry K. Newburn, dean of the college of liberal arts at the State University of Iowa, will take over the desk of the president of this University July 1. He is shown here with his family, left to right: Jackie, Mrs. Wandalee Newburn, Mike, Dr. Newburn, and Bob.

Houses Select New Officers

Nearly all living organizations on the campus have elected new house officers to take over duties spring term. They are as follows:

Alpha Chi Omega, Mary McCandless, president; Mary Duffy, vice-president; Norma Davidson, social chairman; Alpha Delta Pi, Charlotte Wicke, president; Carmen Green, vice-president; Joy Howard, social chairman; Alpha Gamma Delta, Marjorie Earl, president; Marian Saltness, vice-president; Alpha Omicron Pi, Edith Allen, president; Esther Quier, vice-president; Barbara Williams, social chairman; Alpha Chi Omega, Jo Kasmeyer, president; Carolyn Wells, vice-president; Sue Schoenfeldt, social chairman.

Chi Omega, Pat Smith, president; Sarajane Kendricks, vice-president; Phyllis Perkins, social chairman; Delta Delta Delta, Signe Eklund, president; Marge Allingham, vice-president; Dorothy Friedger, social chairman; Delta Gamma, Barbara Lucas, president; Jean McDonald, vice-president; Cay Shea, social chairman; Gamma Phi Beta, Rosalind Terry, president; Jada Fancher, vice-president; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Ann Winkler, president; Barbara Hawkins, vice-president; Betty Carlson, social chairman.

Sororities Elect
Kappa Alpha Theta, Phyllis Evans, president; Nancy Kirkpatrick, vice-president; Rosemary Jones, social chairman; Pi Beta Phi, Anita Young, president; Peggy Skerry, vice-president; Helen Eickmeyer, social chairman; Sigma Kappa, Joy Willard, president; June Rodgers, vice-president; Georgia Liskey and Betty Ditto, social chairmen; Hendricks hall, Harriett Farr, president;

(Please turn to page twenty-one)

Cover Girl Pictures

All cover girl contestants who have not already taken their pictures from the Emerald business office are requested to get them some time next week. The business office is open from 1 to 5 each afternoon.

415 BC, 1944, Compared In 'Trojan Women' Drama

By JEAN LAWRENCE

"Would ye be wise ye cities, fly from war!" Cassandra's maddened cry echoes from Troy's crashed walls with a ring of today's world. The 20th century has brought no more respite from wars than Euripides knew when he created "The Trojan Women" in 415 B. C.

The University theater presentation of this Greek tragedy, under the direction of Otilie T. Seybold of the drama division, opened Wednesday night and is continuing tonight and tomorrow night on the Guild hall stage in Johnson hall.

Hecuba, aged queen of fallen Troy, is dramatically portrayed by Marilyn Wherry with a sustained quality of emotional grief needed to realize the greatness of the tragedy. Striking home to every woman, Amdromache's weeping for her murdered child, as played by Kay

(Please turn to page twenty-one)

Chairman, Editor Jobs Open to Upperclassmen

Two paying positions, head of the Oregon federation and editor of the Ore-nter, are open to upperclassmen, it was announced at the Wednesday noon meeting of the ASUO executive council.

The federation chairman maintains headquarters in Eugene, travels throughout the state promoting Oregon to prospective students, and is in charge of the annual summer picnic at Jantzen Beach, Portland.

The Ore-nter editor will be in charge of putting out next year's edition of the freshman handbook and must have writing and make-up ability. Petitions will be due at the end of the first week in spring term.

Iowa Loss, Oregon Gain Press Says of President

By JOAN OVERHOLSER
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

You are going to like your new president.

The Daily Iowan would like to send that report to readers of the Daily Emerald.

Your new president—our dean of liberal arts—is a tall, friendly man with shoulders like a football player. As a matter of fact, he played football and basketball for Western Illinois Teacher's college. His chief athletic interest at present is walking the floor with his son Michael, born in late December.

Before Michael, he was an enthusiastic gardener and fisherman. About his accomplishments in both those lines he is modest. Especially so with fishing. "I understand folks in Oregon really know how to go at it," he said. "I'm just an amateur, so I'll keep quiet about fishing when I get out there, and maybe they'll teach me."

Good Speaker

Dean Newburn is an effective public speaker of the facts-rather-than-flowery type. He likes people, confuses them may even spend too much time on general conversation. He and Mrs. Newburn enjoy plays and music. He is a member of Kiwanis and the SUI faculty club, and has served as Kiwanis program chairman.

He is a good news source when he has a story to give out, because he lays it on the line simply and logically and answers questions frankly and with a jovial, reserved humor. When you interview him about himself, though, he keeps veering to the subject of his family.

The family, in addition to Mrs. Newburn, are Jackie, Bob and little Mike.

Mike (born December 21, 1944) is the most outspoken of the lot. He expresses himself firmly and unmistakably on subjects of current importance to him. That is why the dean gets his exercise walking the floor.

Wife Drama Enthusiast

Pretty Mrs. Newburn has been active in University club work, and served for one year as its president. Until the baby absorbed a

(Please turn to page twenty-one)

Petitions Due March 24 for News Positions

Petitions for the positions of editor and business manager of the Emerald and Oregonian for 1945-46 must be turned in to the educational activities office by March 24, it was decided at the March 5 meeting of the educational activities board.

Applicants will be interviewed during the first two weeks of spring term. The Oregonian editor will be selected April 3, Emerald editor, April 6, and both business managers, April 13. Selection is made by the board subject to the approval of the ASUO executive council.

In general, petitions should include eligibility slips, record of experience, plans, and policy.

The board voted $40 towards next year's Ore-nter which will be published by the ASUO.

Also discussed was the San Francisco ballet troupe to appear on the campus April 10. Students will be admitted for a special reduced price.

Emeraldites Wed

Elizabeth Haugen and Norris Yates, Emerald editorial staff members, were married in Florence, February 24, according to reports received by the office of the dean of women. The entire staff joins in congratulating the couple.