

Miss Holstad to Reign Over Mardi Gras

OREGON Daily EMERALD

VOLUME XLVI

NUMBER 103

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1945

Courtesy Register-Guard

NEW MEMBERS OF SIGMA XI, (from left) are Donald Dod, Miss Helen Olney, Miss Enid Moor, and Stanley Minshall. These graduate students were recently selected as associate members of the national science honorary because they have shown promise in research work or have had research work published.

Leith F. Abbott To Talk Radio With Writers

Leith F. Abbott, promotion manager of radio station KALE (the Journal), Portland, is coming to the campus Wednesday to discuss with journalism classes the openings in radio for graduates with journalistic training and the background and training required of journalists entering radio work.

In making the foregoing announcement Thursday, George Turnbull, acting dean of the school of journalism, recalled that Mr. Abbott is a former editor of the Emerald who was also, incidentally, a top-ranking half-miler in his college days. He was for many years advertising manager for the Southern Pacific in Portland. He has long been interested in radio, having been frequently on the air with various Portland programs, including some radio dramatics.

"Leith is an exceptionally interesting speaker," said Mr. Turnbull. "He is frequently humorous and always effective. His present commitments call for appearances be-

(Please turn to page four)

Gerlinger to be Locale Of Hash Hounds' Soiree

Gerlinger hall will be the scene of Oregon's first Butler's ball to be held this weekend, Saturday, April 21, according to dance chairman Morrie Mink. Adding to the color of the Butler's ball, the houseboys have planned the event so that men wearing suits and girls in formals but without corsages will be considered correctly attired.

The latest selections for the houseboys' "favorite dish" opened today with the chow hounds of Alpha Gamma Delta picking Virginia Sharp and closed out early with the tapping of Erna Gawehn by the Pi Beta Phi "five."

Ticket Chairman Harry Lee has given word that tickets for the ball will go on sale today and may be purchased for $1.80 from any of the campus' 70 houseboys. Lee said that all money, after expenses are paid, will be divided between the Klamath Falls marine recreation fund and the University's student union fund.

Ted Loud and Gene Cecchini, promotion chairmen, have planned a "dish clearing contest" to be held

(Please turn to page four)

Seniors, Order Now—

Orders for senior commencement announcements are now being taken at the Co-op, Marty Beard, president of the senior class, said Monday. Seniors are urged to place their orders as soon as possible, at least by May 1, in order that the announcements may arrive in time for mailing.

Today's World

PRESIDENT TRUMAN called upon the nation for complete unity in whipping the axis into unconditional surrender and in building a strong united nations organization for peace.

POWERFUL AMERICAN ARMIES entered Nuernberg and began shelling besieged Leipzig. One Allied spearhead was reported to have reached the Czechoslovakian border.

UNITED STATES AND SOVIET troops were so close to a junction in the Leipzig-Dresden corridor some 60 miles south of Berlin that tactical planes of each army made contact at a point 18 miles north of Dresden.

SENATOR ELMER THOMAS expressed alarm over reports that the OPA has a master plan to force eventual government control of the meat packing industry.

FOUR HUNDRED SUPER-FORTRESSES put the torch to Tokyo again before it had a chance to cool off from last Saturday's attack, while carrier and land-based American aircraft made their second successive joint raid on Japan.

ROTC Cadets Prepare For Spring Term Inspection

Such activities as individual camouflage and extended drill order are preparing University men of the ROTC for an inspection which will take place on May 15 and 17. Col. Alva F. Englehart, coast artillery corps, and professor of military science and tactics at the University of California at Berkeley, will inspect the unit. Since its inception in 1918, the U. of C. unit of ROTC has never been rated lower than excellent.

Staff Sgt. D. K. McEachern, D.E.M.L., instructor in military science, recently issued badges to the second platoon, which was judged top-ranking in drilling last term.

Cadet officers appointed for spring term are: Pvt. Gilbert H. Roberts to company commander, Pvt. Milton C. Sparks to first lieutenant, second platoon; Pvt. Robert C. Stiles to first lieutenant, first platoon; and Pvt. Robert G. Pittenger to first lieutenant, third platoon.

Non-commissioned officers appointed were: Pvt. Fred L. Woods to first sergeant; Privates Samuel

(Please turn to page four)

Miss Ellsworth to Head Journalism Honorary

Mary Margaret Ellsworth, junior in journalism, was elected president of the University chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, at their meeting Sunday. The members met at the home of Mrs. George Turnbull, adviser of the group.

Other officers chosen are Lois Evans, vice president; Margaret McGee, secretary, and Louise Montag, treasurer. Miss Ellsworth, Miss Evans, and Jean Taylor were formally initiated at the meeting by Anne Craven, outgoing president.

Council to Meet

The April meeting of the University graduate council postponed from last week will be held Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the graduate office. Olof Larsell, dean of the graduate schools of the state system, will be present. Mrs. Clara Fitch, secretary of the University division, announced Monday.

Junior Weekend Queen To be Crowned May 5

Hail Queen Joann!
Joann Holstad, Kappa Alpha Theta, will reign over the 55th annual Junior Weekend festivities, it was announced Monday night when the ballots were all counted. Her royal court will be composed of Princesses Janet Roberts, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Louise Goodwin, Gamma Phi Beta; Signe Eklund, Delta Delta Delta, and Lois McConkey, Alpha Chi Omega. The queen and her court will be crowned at the Junior Weekend Mardi Gras May 4, 5, and 6.

Students Unite In Memory Of Roosevelt

Pausing with a nation filled with mourners for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, coeds in summer cottons, men students, and a sprinkling of uniformed men attended a short memorial service at 1 p.m. Saturday on the grassy lawn of the women's quadrangle.

Voices of the vesper choir, led by Helen Luvaas, broke the stillness of the clear spring air when they sang "Bless the Lord, Oh My Soul," and "My God and I." Audrey Holliday, ASUO president, spoke briefly, basing most of her talk on an editorial written by Peggy Overland. After Barbara Bentley had led the assembled group in singing the "Star Spangled Banner," they quietly filed from the sunny, peaceful scene of the services.

"The mourning which the death of Mr. Roosevelt has cast upon this world is not that of a nation nor even of a race, for we can rightly say that he belonged to no one country nor to a people," Miss Holliday said.

Roosevelt Belongs to Ages

"Mr. Roosevelt holds the peculiar and singular position of now belonging not only to the ages, but also to the peoples of the entire world, for in the present struggle he has made of himself a force among the Allied nations not lightly to be forgotten or replaced . . ."

Quoting further from Miss Overland's editorial, Miss Holliday said:

(Please turn to page four)

Queen Holstad and the princesses were elected by the student body from a group of eight finalists which also included: Mary Margaret Ellsworth, Delta Gamma; Anita Young, Pi Beta Phi, and Margaret Murphy, Alpha Delta Pi. Voting took place Monday in the Co-op. Bevely Ayer, chairman of the queen selection committee, was in charge of the voting arrangements. Representatives from various living organizations were in charge of the polls; and the ballots were counted by the Junior Weekend committee chairmen.

The exact date on which the royal court will be presented to the student body remains a secret, but according to co-chairmen Ed Allen and Jean Kirkwood it probably will be at one of the coming assemblies.

The queen and her four princesses will be fitted for their gowns this week. The design of their dresses will carry out the theme of the Mardi Gras festivities.

Last year's court was ruled over by Anita Fernandez and her court composed of Frances Colton, Phyllis Horstman, Pegge Klepper, and Elaine Wilson.

Dates Must Be Set

All campus events for the spring social calendar must be filed in the dean of women's office by Saturday noon. The calendar will be published in the Emerald on Tuesday, April 24. Any event planned after the announced deadline must be approved by the student affairs committee, Mrs. Golda Wickham, acting dean of women, has announced.

Varied Openings for Seniors In Many Fields Announced

Opportunities for numerous scholarships, fellowships, and professional jobs for college graduates or near graduates are open for interested students, Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, announced Thursday. Many openings in various fields have been disclosed, and seniors in nearly every department should see Dean Onthank for further information, the dean said.

The Danforth foundation is offering positions in the field of religious education. A $1000 fellowship, offering the recipient a choice of schools, is being offered. Other openings in religious fields include jobs for YWCA and pastor's secretaries and assistants.

Program Features Seven Musicians

A duo-piano program featuring seven music school students will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock in the music school auditorium.

The program will include: "Sheep May Safely Graze," by Bach-Howe, Wilma Jeanne Wilson and Margaret Graham; "Rococo," by Schutt, Robbieburr Warrens and Wilma Jeanne Wilson; Mozart's "Concerto in D minor," Frankie Werst; Milhaud's "Scraramouche," Edna Fisher and Johnette King; "Dancer in the Patio," by Repper, Margaret Graham and Robbieburr Warrens; "Rumbacardi," by Elmerco, Johnette King and Maxine Cady. The final number will be Gershwin's "Concerto in F," presented by Maxine Cady.

Orchestral accompaniment for the concerto numbers will be played on a second piano by George Hopkins, professor of piano.

Costume Designing

The Jantzen Kitting mills have an opening for two graduates in costume designing.

University graduates in personnel administration will have an opportunity for a fellowship offered by Radcliffe college, according to a recent bulletin. This fellowship was held by a UO graduate, Aida Brun Hillway, a few years ago.

The Western Personnel service is new extending opportunities in the field of personnel work. Two graduates of the University filled these positions in years past.

The Merit System council of the state of Oregon has written of many openings—mainly in the statistical and personnel and placement departments.

(Please turn to page four)