

Duck Champs Honored at CC Banquet

Oregon's Far Western NCAA basketball champs were honored guests of the Portland chamber of commerce at its weekly forum and luncheon in the Multnomah hotel Monday afternoon.

Coach John Warren and members of the squad who made the special trip to Portland were saluted by the chamber for their highly successful season, which included winning the Northern Division crown, the Far West title, and placing third in the Western NCAA playoffs.

Mac Wilkins, father of Forward Dick Wilkins, arranger of the program, was himself honored unexpectedly when Dick presented his dad with an Oregon "O" for his loyalty in supporting the team and attending most of the games this season.

The award was voted by the members of the Oregon squad.

"The Races of Mankind," a collection of photo-murals, went on display Wednesday in the exhibit room of the art school, Dr. L. S. Cressman, professor of anthropology and director of the University museum of natural history, has announced.

The exhibit will make available to the public scientific information on the nature of races, pointing out that "Democracy and American-ism, which we are fighting so hard to maintain, are not, and never have been a matter of race or ancestry." It will also provide answers to the propaganda that nationalities are races, that the Jews are a race instead of a religion, that the "Nazi ideal Aryan" is superior mentally and physically and that the love of war is inborn.

"Both war and peace have made us all neighbors again," and those who seek to rise above warfare as a means of getting what they want, will find basis for argument against aggression and race prosecution at this exhibition, which was made available by the public affairs committee, Washington, D.C., and distributed through the Chicago civil liberties committee.

Considered of special value to classes at the University, the exhibit comes to Eugene from Portland, where it was on exhibit at the city library. It has been employed as a regular program in presenting social studies to the students in New York schools, and has been on display throughout the United States.

The doors will be open to the public until Monday, April 23, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on weekdays, 9-12 a.m. on Saturday, and 1-5 p.m. on Sunday.

Contest Entries Due May 4, Says Libe

Friday, May 4, is the deadline for entering the annual library contest sponsored by the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University of Oregon library. Entries must be made by 6 p.m. of that day at the circulation desk. Entry blanks and rules may be obtained at the desk.

Students will arrange their books in the space allotted by 10 a.m. May 5, where they will be left on display until 6 p.m. May 6.

Prizes offered are as follows: First prize, $15 worth of books; second prize, $10 worth of books; and third prize, $5 in books.

Oregon Mothers Meet; Will Plan Scholarships

Applicants for the Oregon Mothers' scholarships will be discussed Saturday when the state board of the organization holds a meeting in Portland, Karl Onthank, executive secretary of the group, announced Wednesday. Mrs. R. R. Huestis, Eugene, treasurer of the board, will attend the meeting, as will Mr. Onthank.

Reports on the scholarship applications will be presented to the women at this meeting.

Dames to Play Bridge At Army Wives Meeting

Mrs. J. S. Beardsley has extended a special invitation to a bridge party at 7:30 p.m. Friday at her home at 535 Fifteenth avenue east for those who signified an interest in bridge at the March meeting of the Dames club, army wives' club.

Map Display

On display at the natural history museum is an exhibit of maps which includes examples of the various kinds of maps, what they are used for, and a display showing how a map for Fortune magazine is made. The exhibit was sent to the school through the courtesy of Time and Fortune magazines.
