

ISA Taps Jack Craig for ASUO

DAILY OREGON EMERALD

VOLUME XLVI UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1945 NUMBER 110

World Organization Jobs Described by V.P. Morris

By KAREN MARTIN

"Peace cannot be maintained by abstractly wishing! Machinery by which the causes of war can be eliminated must be drawn up," declared Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, in the first of a series of lectures concerning the San Francisco conference Wednesday night in the YWCA Bungalow.

Dr. Morris, speaking on "Economics and Peace," said that the San Francisco conference is not designed to deal with the sum total of the economic problems, but merely to set up the machinery for a world organization with representatives from 46 countries, to deal with such problems.

"We cannot expect perfection from the simple pattern for such an organization which will be set up at San Francisco, but it must be developed to meet world problems as they arise," said Dr. Morris.

Three major economic problems which must be met by the world organization are: assuring food and reasonable well being for the

(Please turn to page four)

BA Dean Tells Pacific States Postwar Plans

By DOROTHY CONRAD

"As a group they make an excellent showing," commented V. P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, on discussing the conference of governors and representatives of the 11 western states and Alaska, which he attended at Reno, Nevada, April 21 and 22. Dean Morris is a member of the committee for postwar readjustment and development of Oregon.

Dean Morris stated that the conference was designed to bring together the representatives of the states in order to give them a chance to discuss problems they have in common. The states feel that a cooperative approach to their various postwar problems will bring quicker and better results than individual states working alone, said Dean Morris.

Ten Governors Present

Of particular importance was the presence of 10 governors from the 11 states represented at the conference, declared Dean Morris. An additional representative from each state was also present.

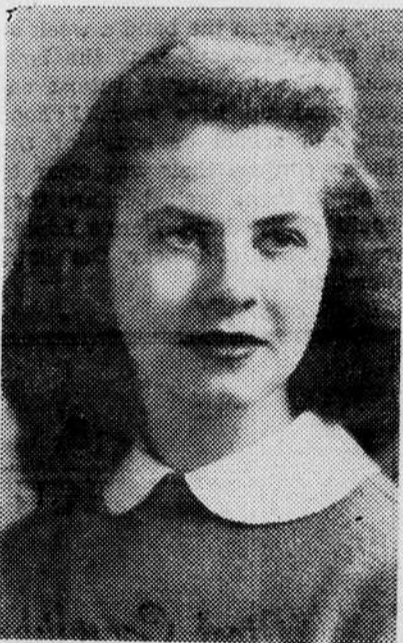

Dean Morris said that it was agreed that the central problem of the years ahead is that of employment. It is the desire of the representatives to maintain the big war-time industries, he remarked.

Resolutions passed by the state

(Please turn to page four)

ALL-DAY BIKE TRIP

An all-day bicycle trip has been scheduled by the Outing club for Saturday. Coeds interested in the ride will meet at 11 a.m. Saturday in front of Gerlinger hall. Nayda Ramp, president of the club, advises that an ample supply of lunch should be taken.

TWO JULIES

Mary Lee Steel (at top) and Phyllis Kiste (below) share the leading feminine role in "Liliom," University theater production opening Friday night.

Phi Beta will meet tonight at Hendricks hall. Pledges are to arrive at 7, and members at 7:30 p.m.

Popenoe Speech Will Highlight Assembly Today

Featured at today's assembly at 11 a.m. in McArthur court will be Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the American Institute of Family Relations, who will discuss "Engagement and Marriage in Wartime."

Dr. Popenoe will also lead an open-forum discussion this afternoon at 4 in Alumni hall, Gerlinger, under the sponsorship of the AWS. Kwamas, Phi Thetas, and the AWS council will serve tea. The questions posed by students will be answered at that time.

Dr. Popenoe, who has been associated with the American Social Hygiene association, the American Genetic society, and the Human Betterment association, has given many lectures on the subjects of love, marriage, and parenthood, and has traveled throughout the United States appearing at high schools, colleges, and before lecture groups.

In addition to his lecturing activities, Dr. Popenoe has written a great many books and articles on social biology, is a lecturer on biology at the University of Southern California, and teaches summer sessions and conducts a counselling seminar.

Freshman Council To Supply Helpers For Organizations

Activity groups have been informed by Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, that the newly formed group known as the Freshman council is to assist any organization on the campus whenever it needs help.

This group is composed of all freshmen interested in activities and good scholarship. The activities in which freshmen can participate have been grouped separately under different classifications such as telephoning, clean-up, drama work, talent and entertainment, stenographic and office work, publications, publicity, (all

(Please turn to page three)

Alice Harter Plugs Unity; Promises Clean Campaign

JACK CRAIG

Confirming two weeks of campus rumors, Jack Craig, Yeomen president, last night was nominated by the ISA for president of the ASUO. Official nomination will be made May 17 at the ASUO nominating assembly.

Of the 11 positions open for discussion, only four—ASUO

ISA senators and candidates will meet promptly at 7:15 tonight in 105 Commerce, Alice Harter, ISA president, announced Wednesday night.

vice president, senior class president, sophomore representative to the executive council and vice president of the junior class—were contested. All others were unanimous.

Despite threats of a third party

(Please turn to page three)

Tennis Ball, Year's First Court Hop, Will be Held in Spite of Spring Rains; Jeans and Cottons Dress of the Day

"Fair weather or foul, the Tennis Ball will go on," said Chairman Marilyn Rakow. "If conditions are such that dancing on the courts is an impossibility, the ball and complete decorations, except for the cement court, will be moved to Gerlinger hall," she said. However it is hoped that such a crisis will be avoided and all eyes are at the moment on the weather man, who prophesies that skies will be clear by 8:30 Friday night.

If the weather man makes good, the first Tennis Ball of the year will be held on the courts behind Commerce. Tickets at 35 cents per person will be on sale by members of the rally squad and social chairmen, co-sponsors of the dance, and must be purchased before Friday night.

Jeans and cottons will be the popular attire for campus eds and coeds at the ball. Dates are not essential for this informal hop.

Committee chairman announced by Miss Rakow are: tickets, Dolly Paladini and Bob Moran; Anita Fernandez, decorations; Rosemary Jones, patrons; Helen Eickenmeyer, cleanup; Evans Sax, music; Sally Mann, refreshments; Hank Kinsell, lights; Phyl Perkins, publicity.

Reading Contests Offer Six Prizes

Two poetry reading contests, one for ballads and one for lyrical poetry, will be held May 14, 15, and 16 under the sponsorship of the speech division. Mrs. W. F. Jewett has offered three prizes for each contest: superior rating, $15; excellent rating, $10; and good rating, $5.

Each contestant will make his own selection, but it must be submitted to Robert D. Clark, assistant professor of speech and dramatic arts, 107-B Friendly hall, for approval. Entries must be made not later than Friday, May 11.

Readings may be made from book or manuscript, and the reader may make necessary and appropriate introductory remarks, and transitional statements if more than one poem is read. These remarks will be included in the reading time of five to ten minutes.

Elimination contests will be held at 4 p.m. May 14, for ballads, and at 4 p.m. May 15, for lyric poetry. The final round will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 16, in the Faculty room, Friendly hall.

Friendly Rivalry is Keynote of 'Julie'

By JEAN LAWRENCE

"There is no jealousy or loss of temper between us," said Mary Lee Steel and Phyllis Kiste, senior in business and freshman in liberal arts, doubly cast in "Liliom's" leading feminine role.

Both have decided that an alter ego is an excellent thing in acting. "We boost each other's morale telling each other how good we are."

Besides building morale, their split role enables them to see each other play the role of Julie. "Julie is the sweet, quiet type," said Miss Steel, but she hastened to explain that Julie is not submissive or weak. "She loves Liliom so much, but he won't show his love for her, so she won't for him," added Miss Kiste, explaining the complexities of Julie's nature.

Box Office Manager

Both leads are Oregonians and have worked for the University theater previously. For the past year Miss Steel has been box office manager, although this is her first performance on stage. Miss Kiste portrayed the character of Helen of Troy in "The Trojan Women" given last term. "Julie and Helen of Troy are entirely Miss Kiste's characters!" laughed Miss Kiste.

Describing their peasant costumes, the girls accented the longer-than-campus length skirts and the long white stockings with black shoes similar to the Mary Janes of fashions past. "Liliom" is a "wonderful" play to them, the scenery superb, the lighting and music very effective, and they agreed that it is wonderful experience to be working with their director, Horace W. Robinson.

Compliment Returned

"We'll return the compliment to the principals," said Miss Kiste enthusiastically. "They are really very good." Both agreed that Louis Vogler, sophomore in music, is well cast in the role of Liliom.

Miss Kiste will open the show this Friday night, April 27, and will play again the following Tuesday, May 1. Miss Steel will appear Saturday night, April 28, and Thursday, May 3.

Today's World

U. S. THIRD ARMY tanks drove to within 15 miles of the German-Austrian border as other American and French forces raced unchecked across southern Germany towards Berchtesgaden.

TWO SOVIET ARMIES completed the encirclement of Berlin and its garrison, while 70 miles to the south the lunge to westward across the Elbe to hasten a junction with American troops.

TROOPS OF THE 24th army corps cracked the Japanese defense in the center of Okinawa to recapture the town of Kakuzu, but have paid for the advances with 6,057 casualties.

THE UNITED NATIONS convened in San Francisco to hear President Truman's warning that their efforts to erect an enduring world security structure must not fail lest another horrible war blot out civilization.