

Greeks Enter Ed Allen for ASUO

Bloc Presents Solid Front in Politics Race

By MARY MARGARET ELLSWORTH

Ed Allen, Alpha Tau Omega, was elected by representatives of all Greek living organizations Thursday with 12 out of 15 votes to head the Greek ticket as nominee for president of the ASUO. Allen, a junior in pre-law, will run against Jack Craig, Independent candidate. Nominations will be officially made May 17 at the ASUO nominating assembly.

Phyllis Evans, Kappa Alpha Theta, who ran against Allen for the first position was elected to run for vice-president. Other nominees for the office were Marilyn Holden, Chi Omega, and Mary Margaret Ellsworth, Delta Gamma.

Chosen from a list of nine candidates, Anita Young, Pi Beta Phi, will run for senior representative on the ASUO executive council, and Louise Goodwin, Gamma Phi Beta, was elected to head the senior class with Marilyn Holden, Chi Omega, running for vice-president. Other nominees for the position were Esther Quier, Alpha Omicron Pi, Bernice Granquist, Sigma Kappa, and Lois McConkey, Alpha Chi Omega.

Breaking away from precedent, the bloc nominated Bob Davis, independent student, as their candidate for junior representative on

Choruses to Furnish 'Sing' Music Tonight

Choruses of seventeen women's and two men's living organizations will compete tonight in the fifth annual All-Campus Sing, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in McArthur court. Preceding the sing, which is under the chairmanship of D. Lu Simonsen, the entire group of choruses and the audience will rise to sing the "Star Spangled Banner." Bob Moran, freshman in liberal arts, will act as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Background for the stage in the court is a mural painted by Ann Budeselick, junior in art. Under rules set up by the chorus directors, each selection will be sung a capella, and must not exceed three minutes.

Singing Order

Singing order of the choruses is as follows: Gamma hall, "By the Bend of the River"; Alpha Chi Omega, "The Whole World Kongs"; Sigma Kappa, "With a Song in My Heart"; Highland house, "Just Like a Gypsy"; Alpha Gamma Delta, "Spirit Flower"; Delta Delta Delta, "The American Prayer"; Alpha Omicron Pi, "Mardi Gras"; Alpha Phi, "Dreams"; Sherry Ross hall, "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes"; intermission.

Kappa Kappa Gamma, "As Torrents in Summer"; Gamma Phi Beta, "In Autumn"; Alpha Delta Pi, "I Dream of You"; University house, "Steal Away"; Delta Gamma, "In the Still of the Night"; Susan Campbell hall, "Let All My Life Be Music"; Chi Omega, "I

Library to Show Special Exhibits

By DOROTHY FOWLER

The ninth annual Library Day will be observed May 5-6 with numerous displays of book collections, a browsing room concert, and the student library contest. Sponsors of Library Day are the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University of Oregon library.

Students wishing to enter the library contest must hand in their entry blanks at the circulation desk by 6 p.m. today. All information may be obtained at the desk or from Miss Bernice Rise, circulation librarian. Miss Rise urges all students owning book collections to enter. Libraries will be displayed and judged Saturday in the main corridor of the building. Twenty-six student libraries have already been entered.

The recorded concert will be held in the browsing room at the regular time, 4 p.m. Sunday. The concert will feature modern selections.

Book Collections

Displayed in the browsing room during the weekend will be several book collections, including selections from the library of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwering. Other displays will be located in the circulation lobby. Selections from the late Dr. George Rebec's gift to the library will be among these. The Burgess room will be open to visitors.

On the second floor of the building, the map room will feature dis-

Oregana Staff Sees Preview Of New Book

Oregana workers and their guests previewed Editor Edith Newton and her staff's 1944-45 yearbook at the annual Oregana banquet last night.

Highlight of the evening was Miss Newton's presentation of the Oregana plaque to Ruthe Foreman. Similar to the annual Emerald award, each year the name of the outstanding senior who has given four years of service to the Oregana will be placed on the plaque. This is the first year such an award has been given to Oregana workers. The plaque, made of bleached mahogany from the Battleship Oregon, was donated by Holman and Davis, binders of the Oregana, and Miss Newton. Miss Foreman was managing editor of the yearbook this year until ill health forced her to leave school.

New Editor Introduced

Jean Lawrence, 1945-46 editor, and Roseann Leckie, 1945-46 business manager, were introduced by the outgoing chiefs, Miss Newton and Marge Cowlins, and Oregana certificates were given those who had worked on the book.

Special guests introduced were Acting Educational Activities Director Horace Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, Acting Journalism Dean George Turnbull and Mrs. Turnbull, and Ed Turnbull, from the firm of Shelton, Turnbull and Fuller, printers of the Oregana.

Today's World

HAMBURG SURRENDERED to the British army and Marshal Stalin announced from Moscow the collapse of German resistance in the entire pocket east of Kiel.

BRITISH SOLDIERS smashed into Rangoon in the climactic fight of the Burma campaign and the outstanding development in the Pacific war.

THE AMERICAN DELEGATION announced it is sponsoring amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks charter designed to open the way to peaceful revision of world agreements in the postwar era.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN vetoed legislation to defer large numbers of agricultural workers. He said it would be an injustice to those already inducted or about to be inducted.

Askelpiads Elect Mink

Askelpiads, premedics honorary, Wednesday night elected Harry Lee as their new president. They also chose Morrie Mink as vice president; and Browning E. Allen, secretary-treasurer and reporter. The new officers are sophomores in liberal arts.

ATTENTION: FROSH BOYS

All freshman boys are to meet on the lot behind the music school today at 1:15 p.m. to receive instructions from Bob Hamilton, chairman of traditions. Everyone is asked to cooperate in digging the trench for the tug-of-war contest. The Order of the "O" will call roll.

Only one hour will be required to dig the trench. This will allow the freshman boys two hours before going up to Skinner's butte to paint the "O" which will take place at 4 p.m.

Tropical Island Pageant Setting

Seated on an island of tropical scenery at the edge of the Gerlinger swimming pool, a sailor, Evans Sax, will dream of 22 mermaids, and his dreams will take shape in the pool as the Amphibians go into action in their annual water pageant scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30.

A completely blacked-out room will set off the spotlighted swimmers as they engage in a series of graceful water patterns before a tumultuous waterfall.

Amphibians who will participate in the program are: Ada Anderson, Beverly Bennett, Betty Crabb, Dorothy Currier, Bobbie Edwards, Mary Anne Hansen, Marilyn May, Shirley Multhaupt, Joyce Nidermeyer, Wanda Lu Payne, Suzanne Sadler, Ruth Shipper, Jeanne Simmonds, Janice Thompson, Doris

Dr. Koo Declares Unity Purpose Of Conference

By SHIRLEY PETERS

The main purpose of the San Francisco conference is not to solve particular international problems, but to get together the nations of the world so that they may set up an international organization on the principles of Dumbarton Oaks, declared Dr. T. Z. Koo at the assembly Thursday in McArthur court.

Dr. Koo, who is adviser to the Chinese delegation at the conference, explained that the big question of the conference is: "Will the San Francisco conference produce an organization better than the one after the last war?"

All nations must give up their national sovereignty if any world organization which comes out of the conference is to be successful, he said, and they must give authority to the world organization in the process.

For the world organization to succeed, Dr. Koo declared, the world court must have both advisory and mandatory powers so that a decision made by it will be obligatory to the nations involved in any dispute. The old world court could only tell nations what they should do, but neither force them to bring their disputes before the court, nor to follow the decisions made, he explained.

An important decision resting with the conference is the matter of providing the world organization with some kind of armed force to enforce judgments and to aid any nation whose freedom is infringed upon, Dr. Koo said. Two choices could be made: giving the organization the right to call up the armies of any member nation for duty when necessary, or forming an international army permanently under the power of the organization.

What is to be done with dependent areas and colonies is another point before the conference, Dr. Koo said, expressing the hope that they would be put under an international trusteeship instead of being merely mandated, which, in his opinion, would not accomplish anything.

Speaking of the future world organization, Dr. Koo declared: "No matter what we do, if we cannot write into it the basic human rights then it will be a sorry lesson for the conquered peoples of the world."

Introduced at the assembly were Queen Joann and her court.
