Shop Plant Under Way

A new physical plant shop building, the first new construction on the campus since 1939, is being built on Onyx street just east of the press building.

Total cost of the project will be about $50,000. The contract price is $34,000, and the cost of the utilities, machinery and installation makes up the rest.

The building is paid for by direct appropriation from the state board of higher education and is the first on the new building program recently approved in the special election.

It will be a one-story building of reinforced concrete throughout with steel windows and insulated concrete roof and will be approximately 50 by 230 feet. It will house carpentry, plumbing, heating, electric and painting shops.

Supervising engineer is Dr. Will V. Norris, acting head of the physics department, and Lawrence and Lawrence, Portland architectural firm designed the building.

English Section Adds Two Men

Two new instructors, F. Dean Moore of Portland and Vaughn S. Albertson, have been appointed to the University English department staff. On leave of absence from the staff is Dr. F. H. Trowbridge, associate professor of English, who is in Chicago doing research work prior to taking over duties as visiting associate professor in the English department at the University of Chicago.

Mr. Moore, a 1921 graduate of the University, was a graduate assistant in English here from 1940 to 1942, when he received his master's degree. Since that time he taught at Allan Preparatory school in Portland, Churchill county high school at Fallon, Nevada, and Hillsboro high school. He taught at OSC from 1922 to 1925.

Mr. Albertson received his honorable discharge from the army air forces in January. He received his bachelor's degree at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, and his master's degree at Columbia University in 1930, and taught English at the University of Arkansas and University of Texas.

Two Vacancies In P.E. School

Resignation of Miss Helen M. Petroskey, head of women's physical education, and Miss Dortha E. Moore, instructor in physical education, has left two vacancies in the school of physical education. Dean Ralph Leighton said Monday that he has recommended replacements for the two faculty members.

Miss Petroskey, who has been at Oregon since 1932, is attending the University of Iowa to earn her doctor's degree. Miss Moore, at Oregon since 1913, has been released for special work for the state school superintendent's office in the development of a new physical education system in the state.
