

By Bob Chapman

Oregon's grid hopes against Idaho suffered a terrific letdown Friday when it was announced that Elliott Wilson, key man in the Webfoot forward wall at the pivot slot, had been declared ineligible for the remainder of the season. This will really hurt the Webfoots because Wilson, the only letterman on the line, was counted upon by head Mentor Tex Oliver to hold the center wall.

Lil Abner played a great game against the Huskies at Seattle Saturday, with only four days of practice, and he was expected to start against the Vandals earlier in the week. Several scribes who saw Wilson play said that the Oregon center was sure of making the all-coast squad.

Anderson Takes Over

Wilson's departure from the lineup will make it tougher for Oregon to come through with a victory today but Bill Anderson, alternate pivot man is expected to fit into the starting lineup because he saw considerable action against the Huskies.

Today's game will be no pushover for the Webfoots and in Friday's light workout Tex Oliver told the boys that the Vandals were tricky as well as fast. Tex seemed to be expecting a close game even though the Vandals lost to Washington State last Saturday by a 43-12 score.

The Vandals failed to put in an appearance Friday afternoon, because of the train wreck in Portland, but the Vandal squad will probably hold a light workout this morning.

Attendants were readying Hayward field for the opener Friday afternoon, lining the field, installing public address systems, painting the associated score board, and preparing the field for the first collegiate gridiron contest in three years.

Frosh, Don't Forget Your Lids

The stage is set and at 2 o'clock this afternoon football will return to the campus, and all frosh are asked by upper classmen to wear their rooters lids. If you don't have one the Co-op will be happy to sell all of the green Webfoots a lid.

Turning away from Oregon it might be interesting to note that Stanford, the only team in the conference refusing to field a grid eleven this season, has more than 1500 men on the campus and if the turnout here is any indication the Indians could have a squad of more than 100 players. Al Masters, athletic manager for Stanford says that a fall practice will be held late in November.

Elliott Wilson Declared Ineligible; Loss Hurts

The University of Oregon football squad plagued by injuries and ineligibility rulings constantly this season, received the payoff yesterday when Dean Orlando Hollis announced All-Conference center Elliott Wilson ineligible for the rest of this season. Wilson, according to Hollis, has played out his four years eligibility plus an extra season in '41. Had he been allowed to keep on playing this would have been his fifth official year of collegiate competition, having registered at Nebraska as a freshman in '37 and withdrawing in the middle of that same term.

Wilson then came to Oregon in '38 and played freshman ball. According to the peace-time transfer rule, a student after registering in one institution must stay out of competition for one year upon going to another school. Evidently big "Abe" did not mention his time spent at Nebraska when he enrolled here in '38 or he could not have played his freshman season.

Four Seasons Completed

What with having to serve one year of ineligibility plus playing in '38, '40, '41, Wilson already has four seasons after his name and is definitely out for the season according to Hollis.

He will really be missed today down on the Oregon line, and Coach Tex Oliver was desperately trying to replace him in the latter part of yesterday's drill. Big Abe was captain of the Duck squad in the Washington scrap and was a bulwark on defense while backing up the line and piling up Husky plays time and time again. He has been replaced by 200 pound Bill Anderson who played a whale of a game himself what time Wilson was on the bench at Seattle. Anderson was to have been first string center until Wilson showed up just before the Washington game. He is a big fast rugged boy who shows plenty of fight and should be able to give Idaho's center a hot afternoon.

The Shackrat

By WINI ROMTVEDT

There are times when the Shack (basement of the journalism building to laymen) approaches an appearance not unlike the reputed pre-war levels. At least they tell us the Shack used to be the most lively place on the campus afternoon and evenings. With a larger male sports staff, a few men on beats and on the copy desk, and more people on the scene at all times, a little of the good old days is returning.

Although a number of vets have returned to take up journalism, the only former Shackrat to pop in and out of his old abode is Ted Bush, who is looking for more members of the journalism honorary, Sigma Delta Chi, so the group can get organized again.

Absent is Marguerite Wittwer, better known as "Beaver," who is expected back this week from her trip to New York to take over her post as managing editor.

Shackrats who take time out for a rugged game of darts between

Correction

A headline which ran in yesterday's Emerald stated that the Wives club, a group including the wives of servicemen and married women who have been in the service, will meet Monday. This is incorrect, as the meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, October 9.

L.S.A. Plans Picnic Sunday At City Park

A Sunday night picnic at Hendricks park has been planned by the Lutheran Students association, it was announced Friday. Lutheran students and any others who would like to go will meet in front of the library at 5 p.m. and from there will go to the park. Students are asked to bring 20 cents for the cost of supper. In case of rain, the group will meet at the YWCA bungalow at the same time.

Following the picnic, a program including games, singing, and a devotional service will be presented. A report on the area Lutheran Student association conference, being held this week-end, will be given also, as the students sit around the campfire.

In charge of the picnic are: Laverne Erickson and Lee Krause, food; Esther Olson, devotions; and Albert Sorg, report on the Colton Bible camp conference.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Aalbue, of Central Lutheran church, will attend the meeting. Other guests will be Miss Marjorie Uronson, parish worker at the Central church, and Miss Betty Gorton, field secretary of the Student Service department of the American Lutheran conference.

Rev. Aalbue is pastoral adviser for the ISA, and Miss Uronson has been delegated by him to the position of active counsellor of the group. Miss Gorton is spending two weeks on the campus to assist the group in planning their year's activity.

Newman Club Will Meet

The Newman club will hold its first meeting of the fall term Sunday evening, 7 p.m., in the YMCA building. All Catholic students are invited to attend, and to help make plans for the coming year.

stories may be interested to know that the dart board was left, perhaps inadvertently, by Anne Craven, 1944-45 Emerald editor, now in Portland with United Press. The board became established in the newsroom following the Shackrat party last spring. The question remains: "How does Miss Craven get along without her dart board?" Answer: "They have one at United Press."

G.T.'s "Best of the Week," is up on the "Hell Box," newsroom bulletin board, and according to Mr. Turnbull, "Both editorial and business staffs are making the difficult adjustments involved in doubling the size of the paper." His choice for best news story of the week was "Fowl Affair," by Laverne Gunderson; and best feature story, Barbara Johns' story on Mick McCandless.

When you see, come even'time, a pair of marine fatigues, a rooter's lid with marine corporal stripes, and a flash of red hair, that is Jeanette Simmonds. Simmie is pretty fond of marines, at least in general, and particularly her dad, Col. E. P. Simmonds, whose picture now adorns the battered wall above the news editor's typewriter.

Drop in today for complete details on the who, what, when, where, why and how of becoming a Shackrat.

And speaking of sarongs, it isn't a girl's waistline that counts—it's her outline.

Passeau Hurls One Hitter to Beat Tigers

By Bob Reed

The Chicago Cubs, behind the superb pitching of Claude Passeau, yesterday defeated the Detroit Tigers 3-1 in the third game of the World Series at Briggs Stadium in Detroit. Passeau gave up only one hit over the entire nine innings and also pitched the second shutout of the series, and the second against the Tigers.

Passeau's brilliant performance yesterday will go down in World Series history. He equaled and in one sense, even bettered the hurling feat of another Cub, one Ed Ruelbach, who pitched a one hit, 7 to 1, victory over the Chicago White Sox in the second game of the 1906 World Series. Yesterday's game marked the first time a World Series team had been shut-out on one hit.

The Cubs reached the two Tiger pitchers, Frank (Stubby) Overmire and Al Benton for 7 hits in downing the Tigers for the second time in the series. The Cubs hold a 2 to 1 edge over the Tigers, with four games left to play.

Fourth, Big Inning

Chicago bumped Overmire for two runs in the top of the fourth. Peanuts Lowrey led off with a double against the left field screen. Phil Cavarretta, Cub first sacker, sacrificed him to third. Andy Pafko drew a walk and Bill Nicholson drilled a single to center to score Lowrey and put Pafko on second. Roy Hughes then dumped a short single into right center and the fleet Pafko scored from second with the Cubs second run of the game. Overmire retired the side by striking.

Chicago added its last run in the seventh inning off the veteran hurler, Al Benton. Livingston hammered a double up against the right field fence. Hughes sacrificed him to third, and he scored on Passeau's long fly to Cramer in center.

Hack Leads Batters

Stan Hack and Peanuts Lowrey led the Cub attack with 2 hits apiece. Hack is the leading hitter of the series so far, with 6 hits out of 13 times at bat for a percentage of .561.

The series moves to Chicago today for the fourth game of the series. The Tigers will be out to even it up.

OREGON EMERALD

STAFF
Ad Staff

Barbara Borrarck, day manager
Bettie Merriam
Bob Brown

Layout Staff

Prudy McCrokey
Mary Jane Harrison
Ruth Allen
Virginia Parr

Office Staff

Gladys Hale

Reporters This Issue

Chuck de Ganahl
Dorothy Habel
Maryann Theilan
Jack Craig
Jeanette Grant
Audrey Weeks
Bud Bradley
Wilma Foster
Beth Basier
Louis Vogler
Laura Olson
Sylvia Mitchell
Pat Thomas
Maryann Howard
Ralph Riggs.

Night Staff

Bill Anderson, night editor
Maryann Howard
Shirley Peters
Mary Ruth Springer
The Whistle Kids

Wedding Guest: "This is your fourth daughter to get married, isn't it?"

MacTight: "Aye, and our c-fetti's gettin' awful gritty."

Campbell Downs Independent Team

Campbell Co-op opened the 1945 intramural football schedule with a 6-0 win over the Independent Seven yesterday on Howe field.

Campbell club made their touchdown early in the second quarter. A pass from Jerry Mosby to Jim Beyer put the ball on the Seven's nine yard line. On the next play Mosby swept around left end for the touchdown. The inexperienced but faster Independent squad threatened several times, but they lacked the power to score.

The Independent Seven's lineup was composed of J. Stevens, left end; E. Anderson, left guard; W. Webster, center; F. Holms, right guard; L. Mitchell, right end; W. McCullough, quarterback; D. Dion, fullback; and substitutes, D. Schewee and O. Holland. Playing for the Campbell club were J. Beyer, left end; J. Whitlock, left guard; R. Nelson, center; Van Allen, right guard; D. W. Wingate, right end; J. Mosby, quarterback; and D. Slavens, fullback. Substitutions, D. White and W. Nelson.

Monday, the Mill lodgers meet Zeta hall. It will be played at Howe field at 4 o'clock.

College Football

(Continued from page one)

the duck that none of you named—that downy yellow-billed baby, PUDDLES.

"Piggers" will have no place in the Webfoot rooting section, "O, P and Q," for it will be divided into two sections, men sitting in the north portion (left, facing the grandstand), and women, in the south.

At the ticket booths will be members of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, and taking tickets and ushering will be additional members of Phi Theta, assisted by 25 junior and senior women.

Anse Cornell, athletic manager, has asked game-goers to avoid crowding and to take it slow.

According to Cornell, a new problem in seating arrangements has arisen. Veterans returning to the campus prefer to attend games with their wives, and by the next game this will be possible, Cornell said. However, entering on their ASUO cards, they must sit in the prescribed rooting sections.

Lois McConkey, chairman of the rally squad, has announced yells to be led include the Triple O, Locomotive, With an O, Duck Conga, Chant, Team Yell and Mighty O. Leading cheers will be Yell King Mickey Davies, his two yell dukes, Jim McClintock and Bill Gross, and members of the squad, Helen Hicks, Janet Hicks, Steve Gann, JoAnne Bush, Winston Carl, Bernie Layton, Hazel Roake, Adline McNott, Pattie Newton, Lois McConkey, Bob Moran and Sally Mann.

Band to Play

John Stehn's enlarged University band will open the afternoon's program with the national anthem, and will play marches during the games. At the half, the four majorettes, Twins Ada and Eva Anderson, Sylvia Mitchell and Donna Stageberg and Drum Major Bob Wiseman will go into action.

Programs for the game will be sold at 25 cents each by members of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary.