

Car Accident Puts Two in Pill Palace

An auto accident a few miles outside of Corvallis resulted in the only excitement in the pill palace over the weekend. Two Oregon men, Jack Reeves and Dale Tyler, were involved in the crash. Reeves entered the infirmary late Saturday night and was released Monday afternoon, while Dale Tyler was held in a Corvallis Hospital until Sunday afternoon.

Jack Reeves, a transfer from Linfield College, received cuts on his head and minor scratches and bruises. A freshman in journalism, Dale Tyler, had eight stitches taken in his head, and received two fractured ribs.

There are 13 in the hospital again, with six men and seven women. The girls on record are Dorothy McSay, 808 East 13th; Marcelyn "Marcy" Wiggins, Delta Zeta; Beverly Wadsworth, Gamma Hall; Lois McConkey, Alpha Chi Omega; Phyllis Goff, Hendricks Hall; Gloria Mountjoy, Susan Campbell and Nancy Mort, 1770 Alder.

The men on record include two veterans, Dick Prince, Campbell Coop; Art Stilwell, 1709 Patterson; Dick Teel, Marcola, Oregon; Bill Ralston, 1472 Kincaid; Tom Chloupek, 1531 Mill, and John Frick, 2111 Lincoln Street.

One of the veterans, Tom Chlopek, spent four and a half years in the Army Air Force. Formerly a Captain, he entered the armed forces in 1941, and was released in June 1945. Chloupek is a Delta Tau Delta from Northwestern University, where he received his B. A. in English, and is now a graduate student taking pre-med.

Duck: "Well, the car was standing in front of the cemetery and naturally I thought the owner was dead."

Advanced ROTC Course

(Continued from page one) The course will include six weeks training at a summer camp, with the regular pay of a private.

Soft Touch
 During the entire program, the government will pay the regular garrison ration of $19 a month. The government will furnish an officer-type uniform, complete with field coat and shoes. Books will be supplied on a loan basis by the government.

The reestablishment of the programs on various campuses are instigated on the requests of the commanding generals of the service commands, acting for the war department. Major General William E. Shedd, commanding general of the Ninth Service command, under which the University falls, is in charge of this area. Reestablishment of the program must, however, follow sufficient evidence of interest on the part of upperclass students. Inasmuch as most of those qualified will come necessarily from the ranks, it is expected that the ex-servicemen will constitute the majority of the classes.

Students interested are urged to contact Major Averill in the physical education building, as soon as possible.

Pausing briefly on the campus Wednesday afternoon after separation from service was Capt. Moritz Thomsen, '40, veteran of four years with the 8th air force.

Thomsen, who as an undergraduate wrote a highly popular Emerald series called "Terse Tales for Tiny Tots," visited with R. D. Horn of the English department, and with George Turnbull, acting dean of the school of journalism, and Leonard L. Jermain of the journalism faculty.

The visitor missed the absent-in-England W. F. G. Thacher, under whom Thomsen as an undergraduate made a start toward a promising story writing career, which netted prize money several times.

Captain Thomsen was squadron bombardier in his squadron. "I was the only bombardier to miss Berlin by more than six miles," he laughed. He holds, among other decorations, the air medal and the Distinguished Flying Cross with cluster, as well as various other ribbons.

He was on his way to California and way points.
