Cinder Squad Prepares For Track Meet

Driving hard at the training track meet held annually in Spokane during Thanksgiving holidays, eight members of Coach Bill Hayward's Webfoot crew yesterday rounded into the third week of workouts with development of endurance the main theme.

Experienced long-winded runners are at a premium on the squad. Walter McLure, son of the famed miler who stepped off with first place in the 1912 Olympic games held in Sweden, has natural ability combined with finer points taught by his dad to place him as a threat for the Spokane hill-and-dale event.

The Spokane Round Table Athletic Association annually sponsors the four mile race open to all western colleges. Around 12 schools are expected to enter six-men teams this year.

"Anybody can challenge the sixth man on the selected team until the day of the race," Coach Hayward said. "It isn't too late for new men to come out for the team," he added, "because the fellows are laying foundation at present in developing endurance for the race."

First year men on the squad roster included, Paul Smith, Bill Jeunemann, Hugh Stapelton, Harold Wright, Bob Chapman, Evans Cantrell and Bob Bell, all out for initial taste of cinder-spiking competition.

Rejuvenated Eleven Scores 26-13 Upset

With spirit and unity, surpassed by no other pig-skin squad in the country, a rejuvenated Webfoot eleven charged onto Hayward field last Saturday to upset the favored Washington State Cougars by a decided and overwhelming score of 26 to 13, much to the satisfaction of 6500 deliriously-happy fans. Yes, with full recovery from the humiliating defeat handed them by their civil war rivals, one week before, they de-clawed and de-fanged the hopeless Cougars at every turn and without a doubt caused the greatest upset of the day as far as the Pacific Coast Conference is concerned.

Ducks Take Early Lead

Wasting no time in showing their ability, the Ducks after three consecutive first downs by Leicht, Donovan, and Reynolds, crossed over into pay-dirt with scarcely six minutes of play gone by. Thanks to Coach Tex Oliver's variation of the "T" formation, with Jake Leicht shifted to left halfback, and Bobby Reynolds at quarter, the twice-beaten Webfoots ran up a remarkable score of 20 to 0 before being stopped by the half-time gun.

Line Improved

An outstanding factor aside from definite spark in the offense was the magnificent manner in which our forward wall halted the justifiably touted Cougar backs. 175 pound Bill Lippincott, speedster, and Jack Perrault, the big quarterback, tried again and again to find some kind of an opening in the seemingly stone wall but to no avail. In fact, it wasn't 'til the fourth and final period that the boys from up north were able to do anything important as far as yardage was concerned.

Perrault's kick taken by Leicht on his own 45 and returned to the Washington 47 gave the Yellow and Green first possession of the leather. Here the Duck machine started to move. Reynold's pass to Leicht netted 11 yards and a first down. On the next play, right halfback Walt Donovan, who played a terrific game all afternoon barreled his own right guard for another first down to the Washington 26. Not satisfied, two plays later he swerved around left end behind dynamic blocking into the end zone. Leicht failed to convert.

In the second quarter, the Webfoots scored again when Reynolds recovered Lippincott's fumble on the Cougar 24 and five plays later tossed a shovel pass to Leicht that scored with ease.

Webfoots Increase Score

Discontented with a 13 point margin, Reynolds, Leicht, and Donovan started another drive on the Washington State 48, with less than a minute left in the first half, Reynolds went for 7 yards followed by Donovan who skirted 25 yards to the 17 and at this point Leicht, who had been removed, after the previous touchdown came back onto the field to take a short pass from Reynolds, and on the next play shot a 17 yard aerial that Bob Anderson, right end embraced in the end zone. John Kauffman, left guard, booted the extra point.

In the third period, Reynolds again started things rolling for the Ducks by intercepting Perrault's pass on the visitor's 47, and, after making 2 yards at right tackle, scampered 23 yards to the Cougar 21. Here the Webfoots suffered a 15 yard penalty, but even this couldn't stop the mighty eleven. Reynolds promptly ripped off 17 yards, and then whipped a pass to

One of the Webfoot's rugged ends, Abe Hathaway getting set for the charging Cougar backfield last Saturday on Hayward Field.

Bill Abbey, sub-quarterback in the end zone for the fourth and final touchdown. Abbey's kick was wide, but the score was 26 to 0, and the Ducks were "in" and then some.

Cougars Score

Washington State, now hopelessly behind, managed to cross the Webfoot goal line twice, with Bill Lippincott and Dean Eggers doing most of the ball carrying against the Duck's second and third teams.

Best yard gainer for the Oregon Webfoots was Sophomore Walt Donovan, with a total of 70 net yards. Next in line was Reynolds, who picked up 49, and Leicht with 28.
