Margery Skordahl Leads Campus Activity Groups

By Barbara Johns

Picture a lively, blue-eyed dream of efficiency and abounding enthusiasm. You have it! Coed of the Week is Margery "Skorchy" Skordahl, new president of the Women's Coordinating council and YWCA cabinet member. Skorchy is also the president of those blue-sweater women, the Phi Thetas, a position which dubs her one of the busiest and most influential women on the Oregon campus.

Giving everyone who walked into the Side that typical Skordahl personality-smile, "Skorchy" proceeded to discuss the WCC, an organization recently formed to help untangle the campus social and activity problems. "Next year the group will probably include all men's activity organizations too," she declared, strictly on the QT, of course. "The WCC is not dictating to students," she claimed, "but has been formed merely to eliminate some of the confusion in activity programs as well as social calendars." No more of this four meetings at 4:00 business!

Phi Theta

Adjusting her attractive harlequin glasses, Skorchy then delved into the realms of Phi Theta, junior honorary society. "It's wonderful to work with such a cooperative and responsible bunch as the Phi Thetas!" she exclaimed. The junior honorary is really out for bigger and better scholarships and plans to give 3 more this year. You can find those winsome ladies-in-navy ushering at all football and basketball games and at the concert series.

Time out. Skordahl just dashed out in pursuit of a candy bar. No luck. Breezing in again, she gave

Campus Clad

By MARY HIBBITT

Hi! again, all you campus clad lasses. It's pretty early this morning to be so cheerful, so down with that last cup of coffee and start absorbing some of the latest comments about your friends, relatives, and room-mates.

It's off to a good start and an 8 o'clock with Donna Rankin in that very smartly tailored gray coat, with a belt across the back and a double row of buttons down the front. Taking a short cut to class was Jean Merrifield wearing the college favorite, a navy, red, and white plaid skirt with a bright red blazer and with that smile she means it's really a good morning. Liz Gully strolled into class in a soft gray suit accentuated with a black cashmere and a ribbon in her hair. Stopping into the Co-op between classes was Peggy Hawver in a darling white, green and brown wool dirndl skirt and green wool-jersey blouse. You will find more and more wool-jersey blouses in the college girls' wardrobe this year; they don't give you that bulky sweater look, but do give you plenty of warmth. Notice the variety of colors, they'll match your brightest plaid or your pale pastel.

Coming out in a yellow Eisenhower jacket and a skirt of tiny yellow and brown checks is Lynn Renick. It's really cute. A girl with some ingenuity of her own is Maxine Kamp in a black and white check skirt with fringe down the side and around the hem. It looks like we're becoming more and more under the influence of Indian costumes. Mary Lou Anderson was seen about the campus in a striking plaid dress of brown, yellow and blue, setting it off with a wide brown leather belt decorated with shining gold studs.

Glancing here and there in the library I noticed Nancy Sabel in a salt and pepper tweed skirt with a kick-pleat in front and back. This type of a skirt can be worn with almost any color sweater. Jo Kennedy was sporting a yummy pink angora sweater—it looks so soft and warm. Showing the latest in streamlined skirts is Selby Frame in an aqua wool skirt with darts down the front that gives her that O so flattering look.

Back from a week-end at home came Alsia Bynon in a very sophisticated black wool suit, featuring dolman sleeves and very square shoulders. Maybe you have seen Margery Fisher in a flame-red, long sleeve wool dress with buttons down the front. It can't help but catch your eye. The latest addition to Jeanne Dodson's wardrobe is a stunning black dress with a flash of blue and sparkling sequins on the front.

Already to step out for a big night are Sally Smith and Leilani Pratt. Sally has on an ice-blue crepe dress with a drape in the skirt and long dolman sleeves coming to a point at the wrist. Leilani has on a smart silhouette black dress, with cap sleeves, and a soft peplum around the waist. Looking more than a little out of this world at a recent house dance were Cathy Cornell and Marge Cowlin. In a saucily cut black dress was Cathy; she accentuated it with gold beads at the neck, subdued but superb. Marge had on the latest color, electric blue. Her dress had a contrasting drape which was definitely flattering.

After a heavy date or was it just a lot of studying? it was off to bed for Joan Preble in a darling flowered flannel nightie. It's certainly the thing for these cold, cold nights.

Now, it's off to school with yourself and I'll be looking for you...

Undertaking matter this week are we of importance grave. That rare isotope of uranium, that U235, that source of explosive, the ATOMIC BOMB. Scientists and militarists on our door step camp, bend on plead knee ad proffer sums vast for us to keep our lip zipped, but our interest being, all for society or society for all, we this information to the masses give. Valedictorian were we at the Nazi school for spies. Graduating cum laude, well trained were we to delve into our nations archives. After intensified research and startling discovery are we able to you offer information vital.

Newspaper let not you know of this occurrence shocking, but give we here to you this event which took its place during the trial demonstration of our bomb. Lady, sitting innocently stringing her beans, away from New Mexico State five thousand miles, suddenly shiveled up, died, and uttered in a gasp, "heavens." Farmer, weeding his beets complacently in Maine, saw acutally worms leap out of the earth, their segments quivering with excitement. In Portland, was reported to us the fact that rain fell at the time of the explosion.

Greatness to Come

Wish we now to cite things of greatness that atomic power brings to us. The State of Oregon will in future starve California of all its tourist trade. Drawn up now are ambitious plans of releasing small explosions under our trees which will shoot them to the height of the Sequoias. Mankind swarming on beaches will be, for atomic energy shall be utilized in heating the ocean to bath water temperature on the Oregon coast. Beds of lava in Oregon eastern disintegrated to make bread for the poor, explosive power to be used on Skinner's Butte to create a new Crater Lake for those unable to secure transportation to the natural hole in the mountain due to bus strikes.

Receiving not all benefits, our Oregon, the economic status of our nation will also great heights reach. Those charged with murders and various other misdemeanors assembled will be on Tuesday morn of each week at which time a charge electrical will pass through each of the forty eight states and our possessions to execute each menace to society. Machinery explosive will be set up to blast the farmer's land into neatly plowed fields and at the same time spreading dead pigeons over the field for fertilizer. J. C. Penney' department stores all over the nation will only have to use one pipe to make change. The dairy industry will employ millions for the delivery of milk before eight o'clock to the men of Mars.

Other Universes

With this close contact with the ether world, we are in danger of disturbing other universes and we may have four suns any day (you too can be brown as a berry in
