Casaba Hoop Stars Drill for Road Trip

The Oregon hoopsters are letting little time slip by without using it to good advantage in preparation for the games December 3rd and 4th to be played here at McArthur court and the much talked about eastern trip opening December 12th in Chicago.

As far as the eastern trip is concerned, an unfortunate incident has occurred that makes part of the trip east by air an impossibility. Because the Army has priority on 70 percent of all plane travel, the team will be forced to travel part of the way by train. This too will mean that the boys leaving on the trip will either miss some of their final exams or take them several days early due to their date of debarkation from the campus being set for December 9th.

Coach "Hobby" Hobson has been drilling the hoopsters in long hard scrimmages in order to build up the defensive ability that proved such a lacking factor in the games played thus far against Vancouver B.C. and the Klamath Falls Marines.

This year's Pacific Coast conference should prove a close and hard fought affair and the Webfoot Casaba varsity is none too confident that they will sweep the conference as they did last year even though they have the support of ten returning lettermen and valuable strength offered by many returning veterans. The teams being turned out by the Cougars and Huskies will be no push over and not forgetting age old rivals, the Oregon State Beavers, who always show up with a promising ball club, and this year is no exception.

Webfoot rooters will have plenty to cheer about when it comes to the conference games because with as much strength and promise shown by the Duck hoopsters, they will prove a tough contender for the conference championship.

No Tall Tale; Taller Team

The Oregon hoop squad has been warned to be prepared for probably the greatest basketball team in the West, the Marine Fliers from Camp Miramar, San Diego, California.

The Fliers play the Webfoots December 4th in McArthur court. The team has a height average of 6-foot-4 per man. For a height average, it may sound like a tall story, but it's just a tall team. That's only the beginning, they won 62 games out of 68 during the 1944-45 season. Winners of 27 straight games this year and sporting a 54-point average per game.
