

Queen Mary Lou Hill Avid Skiing Enthusiast

By VIRGINIA HARRIS

A husky-voiced, gray-eyed blonde who fits her newly-acquired title to perfection is Mary Lou Hill, Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge, who Friday afternoon was chosen as "The Girl You'd Most Like to Come Home To." Introduced at the Homecoming tea dance in Gerlinger hall, by Bob Moran, contest chairman, Mary Lou won the title from the two other finalists, Gay Edwards and Lila Nevin.

Mary Lou, a freshman, is "surprised as well as thrilled."

"Standing before the judges for a full 15 minutes was an awful experience I will never forget, but I guess that it was worth it now!"

Californian

Mary Lou—18 years old and 5' 9"

—comes from San Jose, California, to attend the University of Oregon because "a smaller school is not only more fun, but more individual in its instruction." She hopes to graduate after her four years with a degree in sociology or English. Also interested in music, dramatics, and decorating, she hopes to do something with them soon. "About the only thing I'm doing now is taking choral union."

Her parents will not be in Eugene for Homecoming, partly because she will be home in two weeks, and partly because she has already been home twice, which is a record for California girls who generally get home only once a term. "I went home for Thanksgiving, and also the first of November to help get my sister married."

Ski Fan

She and her sister have always been "close," and so for a while she was homesick, but she is hitting it off now, and expects to stay up here spring term, and maybe go skiing at Mt. Hood." She plans to practice this favorite sport of hers on the slopes of Yosemite during Christmas.

The charming Kappa says that there is no particular man in her life, but would find a combination of "a good sense of humor, a good dancer and particularly an intelligent conversationalist" quite desirable.

The vigorous influx of grads and service alums thronging the campus this weekend forecasts the winter term return of more than a handful of Webfoot males who can fulfill Mary Lou's qualifications.
