

Oregon Forensic Students Plan Tournament Saturday

Arriving at the University of Oregon Saturday morning will be approximately 150 high school and college students to participate in the Willamette Valley Forensic institute. Representatives from six high schools and five colleges will take part in the one day affair.

This is a practice meet and no prizes are being offered. The meet is being sponsored by the Intercollegiate Forensic Association of Oregon, and its main purpose is to make pre-season practice in speech activities possible.

High schools represented include schools from Eugene, Salem, Roseburg and McMinnville. Colleges and universities participating are Oregon State college, Pacific university, Willamette university, Lewis and Clark college, and Oregon.

Participants will register in Room 12 Friendly hall at 9:15 a.m. Saturday. Starting at 9:30 the meet will include three rounds of debate, two rounds of extemporaneous speaking and two rounds of impromptu speaking.

The subject for the high school debating is resolved: That every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should have one year of full-time military training before attaining age 24. The college proposition is resolved: That the policy of the United States should be directed toward the establishment of free trade among the nations of the world.

Participating in the program for high school forensic directors at 10 a.m. will be Dr. E. L. Johnson, head of the political science department of the University of Oregon, and Dr. C. H. Secoy, assistant professor of chemistry on the campus. Professor K. E. Montgomery, assistant professor of speech and dramatic arts, is general chairman of the meet.
