

Swill & Quill Clique Plots Foam-Feast

"Our theme will be a Full Nelson," chortled aged SDXer Charles Politz last night as he revealed that approximately a dozen members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, will foregather at Robinson's chapter room this afternoon at 1600 hours. Special guest will be Ens. Roy Paul Nelson, erstwhile managing editor of the Oregana.

This will be the first undergraduate meeting of the fraternity since 1943, when the chapter's funds were signed over to an Olympia, Wash., concern in return for several barrels of specially prepared water. All members who have not received notice of the meeting are urged to attend. Ensign Nelson will lecture on the importance of the hop industry to modern journalism, and Brother Politz, frequent president, will lead a discussion group on migratory waterfowl, particularly geese.

Old Oregon Names New Staff Positions; G. Duncan Wimpres Managing Editor

Gloria Grenfell, Lola Kirbyson appointed To Managing Positions on UO Magazine

Appointment of three new department heads was announced last night for Old Oregon magazine by George Luoma, editor-manager. G. Duncan Wimpres, senior in journalism, was named managing editor. He will be responsible for the monthly magazine's features, news, pictures, makeup and work entailed in expediting publication through editing and proofreading stages of the magazine's work.

Gloria Grenfell sophomore in journalism was named advertising manager. She will be responsible for the magazine's local advertising program including supervision of layout and selling programs, and expediting the advertising phase of press work.

New Office Manager

Lola Kirbyson, sophomore in liberal arts, was named office manager. She will be responsible for all records and correspondence work necessary for efficient functioning of the magazine's office operations.

Additional appointments will be made in news, advertising and office departments within the next week, after department heads have had a chance to talk with members of Old Oregon's fall term student activity staff and new applicants for staff positions.

G. Duncan Wimpres, the new managing editor, takes the place of Anita Young, who is carrying a lighter activity load in order to meet the winter term's academic work and make up fall term studies which were interrupted last year. Wimpres was managing editor of the Emerald in 1942-43 and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism honorary; Sigma Upsilon, creative writing society; Druids, junior men' honorary and Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity.

Army Vet Returns

Wimpres left the University in the spring of '43 to join the army.

He was discharged last October and audited courses on the campus during the remainder of fall term. While in the army, Wimpres was with the 40th tank battalion, 7th armored division, which received the presidential unit citation. The 23-year old managing editor was in five major campaigns, and was awarded several battle decorations.

Gloria Grenfell, the new advertising manager, was advertising manager of the Emerald fall term and has been active in other campus activities. She is a member of Kwamas, sophomore service honorary, and Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Office Organizer

Lola Kirbyson was promoted to her new position of office manager after holding various positions in the office department during fall term and later taking over as acting office manager. Her work of fall term in organizing office procedures and directing a large office staff qualified her for the higher position. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Appointment of the new managing editor and advertising manager were made in consultation with the appointees; Doris Hack, acting alumni secretary and faculty of the journalism school.

Selections will be made next week for additional promotions within the three departments of the monthly magazine. Primary requisites considered in making the selections will be interest, dependability, ability and performance in fall term's activity work.

Carlos Salzedo's Eolian

America devoted to the cause of modern music.

In the same year, 1921, he was influential in launching the International Composers' guide, whose purpose was to introduce new modern music to American audiences. As president of the National Association of Harpists, he organized annual harp festivals in various cities, featuring groups of eighty or ninety harps.

Pan-American Group

The year 1924 saw Salzedo founding and organizing the harp department of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. In 1928, he helped to organize the Pan-American association of composers. His concert tours have been received everywhere with unmatched acclaim.

Miss Allen and Salzedo both play harps that are stream-line in every sense of the word. They are a radical departure from the old fashioned "golden harp" with ornate decorations. There is not a particle of gold on them, and the frames are of maple with a high French finish.

Fraternity Presidents Meet Today at 5 in Side

All fraternity house presidents or representatives will meet with representatives of the Oregana today at 5 o'clock at the Side to arrange for their organization pictures. Those attending should be prepared to sign for pages in the yearbook.

In the event that no representative is able to attend call Roseann Leckie at 3200.
