

OSC Entrants Win First Places In State Forensic Contests

Coed Says Education Needed for Marriage; Man Views Russian Territorial Acquisitions

Virginia Robinson and Dean Bailey, both of Oregon State College were named the winners in their respective divisions in the State Extempore speaking contest held in 105 Journalism building last night. The contest included representatives from six Oregon colleges and universities

The women had the general topic of National Delinquencies. Miss Robinson spoke on "Education for Marriage." She pointed out that one out of every five marriages in the United States ends in divorce each year, chiefly through lack of education.

Petitions Open For University Veteran Group

Dean of Men Sponsors Campus Organization

Petitions are now posted in the Co-op and the Side to obtain permission for the first meeting of the proposed male veterans organization on this campus. Assistant Dean of Men George Hall announced today.

All male veterans interested in a social organization are invited to sign the petitions. Name, branch of service and University class are the only information requested.

Earl to Arrange

Petitions will be presented to Dean of Men Virgil D. Earl, who will arrange for a time and a place for the initial meeting.

Membership in this group will not jeopardize affiliations with any other campus organization. The aim will be to help the veteran help himself and in the main to develop a better understanding between veteran and non-veteran students.

Ways and means of setting up
(Please turn to page eight)

No Preparation
"Millions of dollars are spent annually on liberal education," Miss Robinson asserted, "but this education does not include a preparation for the most important occupation of an individual's life—marriage."

She proposed that the education for marriage should include instruction on banking and budgeting the family income, on the responsibility of marriage, and on child care. Miss Robinson urged the cooperation of all in the instituting of such a program.

Others receiving prizes in the women's division were Helen Siner, Pacific university, speaking on "Juvenile Delinquency Begins with the Parents," second prize; and Jean Evans, Willamette university, whose topic was "A Post-War Crime Wave," third prize. Others participating were Estella Mae Allen, University of Oregon; Genevieve Belz, Pacific college; and Carolyn Andrews, Linfield college. The girls were introduced by Jean Swift, freshman in liberal arts.

Dean Bailey spoke on "America's Attitude Toward Russian Territorial Expansion," under the general men's division topic, USSR-USA Relations.

"Russia cannot how to
(Please turn to page seven)

Co-Chairmen to Edit Piggers Guide Addition

Barbara Wells and Virginia Harris, both sophomores in journalism, were appointed co-chairmen of the committee to arrange and edit a supplement to the present student directory, it was announced Thursday by the Emerald editorial staff.

Information about new students will be published in the Emerald as soon as these co-chairmen and their committee can complete arrangements. This is a service project sponsored by the Emerald.

Dorothy Habel and Mary Slinger, both sophomores in liberal arts, will assist the co-chairmen in organizing the project.

Matheson Selected Dads' Day Chairman

Executive Council to Submit Revised Constitution to Students

Bob Matheson, sophomore and returned veteran, was selected as chairman of Dads' Day yesterday by the ASUO executive council. He will be in charge of general plans and will appoint committees to work with him on activities for that weekend, February 2 and 3.

Matheson attended the University three years ago, before entering the army air corps. He served as set technician for the musical production "Of Thee I Sing" and worked on Junior Weekend and Dads' Day committees. He was also social chairman of his fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega.

The only other petitioner for the general chairmanship was Dorothy Habel, sophomore.

Submitting petitions for committee work were: Barbara Wells, Betty Lou Cochran, Beverly Miller, Inez Richardson, Gertrude Chernis, Pat Mathiesen, Margaret Raush, Beryl Howard, and Ramona Iverson.

Although Matheson did not outline any detailed plans for the weekend's activities, he suggested that guides conduct tours of various campus buildings and that the Dads' Day luncheon be followed by some sort of organized entertainment.

He will announce the program for the weekend after discussing the matter with committee members and faculty and administration officials.

A revised constitution for the ASUO will be submitted to students for consideration and discussion very soon, the council decided.

The proposed new constitution has been drawn up by the members of the Student Congress committee and incorporates plans for the congress.

Emerald to Print

After several minor changes have been made in the present draft, it will be published in the Emerald. The executive council has not approved the plan yet, but is waiting until student criticisms and suggestions can be considered.

The council also decided that the nominating assembly of the freshman class should be held Thursday, January 24, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in McArthur court.

Eight UO Delegates Named To Student Conference; Weekend Docket Released

University representatives at the conference of the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders which takes place on the campus this weekend were announced by Ed Allen, ASUO president and secretary-treasurer of the OFCL, Thursday. The UO delegates include Jack Craig, ASUO vice-president; Louise Montag, Emerald editor; Warren Michael, president of the federation; Gil Roberts and Joe Grimm, members of the ASUO executive council; Marjorie Skordahl, president of the Women's Coordinating council, and Jean Watson, in charge of arrangements for the conference.

Fifty students from 14 institutions of higher education in Oregon are expected to attend sessions today and Saturday to discuss problems pertaining to student government, politics, housing, veterans, and faculties.

Off-campus delegates will be housed at the following living organizations: Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Delta Zeta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Pi, Sigma Kappa, Highland house, Hilyard house, Rebec house, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Campbell co-op.

The program of events scheduled for delegates follows:

Friday

9-11 a.m.—General session, Alumni hall, Gerlinger.

10-12 noon—Discussion groups:

1. Finances — Gerlinger hall. Harold Malde, Willamette university, presiding.

2. Procurement and retention of adequate faculty—YWCA, Ed Allen, UO, presiding.

12:15-1:30 p.m.— Luncheon, Del
(Please turn to page seven)

Houses Must Pick Dream Girls Today

Deadline for Dream Girl contestants for the Coed Capers to be held February 8 is today at 5 p.m. Dream Girl candidates are to be elected from each living organization and a picture, preferably 5" by 7", is to be turned in to Florence Hintzen at the Delta Delta house or Jean Watson at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

The contestant must be a freshman. Girls will be judged on appearance, poise, and personality. Pictures of all house candidates will be placed on exhibition in the Co-op next week. From among these girls five finalists will be chosen by a group of faculty judges, as yet unnamed.

Final voting will be open to all girls attending the Capers. The award for the Dream Girl will be a silver cup which the winner keeps permanently. The freshman claiming the title will also have her picture in the Portland papers.

Art Group to Publish Campus Manuscripts

Odeon Urges Creative Writers to Submit Work to New University Literary Review

The founding, past history, and purpose of Odeon, annual student creative art show, were briefly discussed and plans were made for this year's preparation, at a meeting of committee heads.

A new wrinkle this year will be the publication of a magazine containing the program, selected poetry, and other writings that could not be included in the regular program because of length.

Student writers are urged by the chairmen of Odeon to submit poetry, essays, short-stories, and other work for publication. Pieces submitted should not be over one-thousand words in length (four typewritten pages, double spaced, equal about one-thousands words).

Odeon is not a contest and no prizes of any kind except the showing and possible publication of creative work are given. However all students who are interested in bringing their work before the public, and wish to enter Odeon, should contact one of the committee heads of the department in which they are interested.

Committee heads are: co-chairman of Odeon as a whole, Robert MacGill and Pat Smith; architecture, James Cameron; dance, Pearl Peterson; painting, Joane Johnson. Verse should be submitted to Mrs. Rudolph Ernst, and prose to Dr. Robert Horn of the English department as chairmen for these committees have not yet been appointed.

The deadline for submitting work of any kind is the last week of winter term. Odeon will be held Sunday, April 28, at 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served after the program in Gerlinger hall, where the art exhibit will be located.

Salzedo Group Recites Experiences on Trips; Cellist Recommends Idaho Potatoes for Tone

By LAURA OLSON

Tiny in stature, but possessing an enormous amount of musical ability and versatility, the Salzedo concert ensemble group is as commanding off stage as on. Amid the hubub of pre-concert time the group was found rehearsing in McArthur court Thursday afternoon.

Headed by Carlos Salzedo, the ensemble arrived in Eugene Wednesday evening from Aberdeen, Washington. Thursday morning found them delighted by the Oregon weather (they had not heard of the flood) and preparing for the events of the evening.

Misses Game

Miss Mimi Allen, harpist and first to be queried, was quite dismayed that she would not be able to see the Oregon-Oregon State basketball game Saturday night.

"My uncle owns a hotel in Corvallis," she said, as her dimples jumped mischievously. "I'm afraid to think whom I'd have to root for."

Standing a mere five feet tall, she is the only unmarried member of the group. Perhaps male Webfoots could have forgiven her had she had the chance to cheer for the Beavers—had she put her dimples to work.

Future Bright

Tuning his harp a few feet away stood Mr. Salzedo, originator of the group.

"We have toured together for five years," he stated, "and the future holds much in store."

Salzedo believes that the future of the harp is unlimited. "Their tone is improving each year," he asserted, "and, too, the musical public is learning the value of the harp as a solo instrument as well as one of a group of instruments." Mr. Salzedo is recognized as one of the foremost harpists in the world.

Practicing on her flute nearby was Mrs. Ruth Freeman. She is the tiniest of the four, just barely 4'10" in stocking feet. Mrs. Freeman's handmade silver flute has led a life of adventure. Stolen from her in New York City, it was found by the police—finally—in a Harlem pawn shop where the thief left it for seven dollars.

"I was mad clear through," declared the flutist, "Not only did they steal it, but they were stupid enough to get only that small amount for it. Hmmmmp!" She guards the flute zealously now.

Gotta Spud, Bud?

Mrs. Hill's method of taking care
(Please turn to page eight)