

Oregon's tall Kenny Hays flips in a field goal in Saturday evening's Webfoots-Beaver clash at McArthur court while the State quintet looks on. Orangemen in the picture are Bernie McGrath (20), Glen Warren (25), Red Rocha (33), and Erland Anderson (15). Coach "Slat" Gill's Beavers won the game 59 to 45. Courtesy of the Eugene Register-Guard.

EMERALD Sports

A Duck Sez - - Sez He

By Lynn Smith

If anyone should take "time out" from all the many campus activities to introduce the "personality plus" boys here on Oregon's Campus, Bruce Hoffine would be one of the first to be introduced. This 5' 10" forward on the Ducks' basketball team has a way about him that you just can't help liking and admiring. Although one of the youngest players on the team, age 20 to be exact, Bruce is nevertheless quite outstanding.

Oregon Lad

Bruce is a true Oregonian, his birthplace being Coos Bay, Ore. June of 1944 found Bruce one of the happiest boys in his hometown, because it was then that he graduated from high school. He began making his first serious plans to enter college. Being extremely interested in sports, he chose physical education as his college major. He came to the University of Oregon because of its excellent sports division and high collegiate ranking, especially in basketball. Bruce, a sophomore, intends to continue at the University until his graduation. He wants to go on playing ball just as long as his eligibility holds out.

Bruce's love for sports has not been confined to his college days alone, because even in high school he was a senior all-star and president of the Lettermen's Club. He earned letters in tennis, football, track, and basketball, not to mention the trophy won by the school because of his 440 yard dash. Despite all this acclaim, Bruce is entirely unaffected and doesn't in the least way consider himself a hero. He plays for the joy of playing, and like all players thinks his team is best.

Besides sports, Bruce likes the things most every boy likes—girls! Eating and sleeping also rate high on his list of favorites. As for his "dream girl," he said: "Just any cute girl, cute face, cute figure. She's gotta' act like herself though and not like a fool." Bruce says there are no really serious romantic angles in his life, but rumor has it that there's one little blonde down at Willamette!

Perhaps the thing that you'd notice first about Bruce is his laugh. Being neither moody nor temperamental Bruce has many friends and gets along with everyone. He likes especially to pal around with Reedy Berg and Les Wright, his teammates. "Never a dull moment in college," Bruce admits, "and if there ever is, the three of us can always find something interesting to do."

Red Hat Raver

Another special feature about Bruce is his red hat. He's seldom seen without it, and it has become

SKI CLUB MEETING TONIGHT

There will be a very important ski club meeting at 7:30 tonight at 105 Oregon. All members be sure to attend. Anyone who wants to go up next Sunday on the bus will have to be at the meeting. A representative of the National Red Cross will be present to discuss a program of ski safety and first aid.

almost as much a part of him as he is a part of Oregon's team. As for his favorite subjects, economics and speech are about his best. His main "want" right at present is a "bowl of Mom's bread pudding" and to win the conference. After that he wants to dance until he drops.

Dancing, by the way, has long ago become a special feat for Bruce. He waltzes, jitterbugs and is even learning to rumba. He enjoys singing too, and is at his best either in the shower room or in the bathtub, it is reported. "Stardust" is his favorite song, and Benny Goodman his favorite orchestra. Says he can hardly wait though until Dick Wilkins, Reedy Berg and he form their own trio. Reedy on the trumpet, Dick at the drums and Bruce himself doing the vocal honors. That promises to be strictly "solid," to use Bruce's own word for it.

SPORTS STAFF THIS ISSUE:

Co-Sports Editors:

Leonard Turnbull
Fred Beckwith

Staff Writers:

Duke Dennison
Phyllis Litzenger
Lynn Smith
Carl Cluff
Allen Cohen

Don't forget to invite your dad down for Oregon Dads' Day, February 1 and 2.

DU's Trounce Fijis; Bums Down Yeomen

Two close victories were turned in yesterday at the men's gymnasium as the Delta Upsilon "A" shackled the Phi Gamma Delta "A" club 29 to 24 and the Bums rushed the independent Yeomen 28 to 25 during another round of intramural play as the teams are fighting to gain leadership of the casaba league.

The Fijis came within two points of overcoming the DU lead in the latter part of the contest but just couldn't gain the upper hand. Chuck Taylor's 15 point evening was only second best to that of Delta Upsilon's Schmieding who racked up 19 points for the evening. Half time score favored the DU fratmen 17 to 8.

Smoother Bums

The Bums led all the way in their game with the Yeomen though they were hard pressed in the final period to stave off a dangerous threat that rallied the Yeomen within three points of the smooth Bums.

Les Bult canned seven field goals for 14 points to carry the Bums on to victory. Kokko and Callahan registered eight and seven points respectively for the losing Yeomen. Halftime score was 12 to 9 in favor of the victors.

Lineups:

Delta Upsilon "A" (29)	Phi Gamma Delta (24)
Goffard	F. Kunkel
Schmieding (19)	F. Anderson
Rassum (4)	C. (2) Pond
Sparks (4)	G. (15) Taylor
Wiesel (2)	G. Lewis
Dieling	S. Benham
	S. (5) Ralston
	S. (2) Lonigan

Officials: Beyer and Ladd.

Yeomen "A" (25)	Bums "A" (28)
Derrickson	F. (4) Seida
Beier (2)	F. (14) Bult
Gardner	C. Bartholemey
Dennison (4)	G.2 Puffinbarger
Dion (3)	G. (4) Huffman
Kokko (8)	S. Hamm
Callahan (7)	S. Metsker
Clark (1)	S. (4) Johnson

Officials: Beyer and Ladd.

Coed Casaba Tilts Progress

By PHYLLIS LITZENBERGER

Winter term and once again the feminine eye is cast not only in the direction of the 1596 men on the University of Oregon campus but also to the women's sports field. These indoor sports include basketball, badminton, and swimming, beginning with intramural basketball on January 17 and continuing on through winter term.

Suzies Win

Kappa Alpha Theta and Susan Campbell started the women's intramural basketball season off with a bang as they clashed on ye old stompin' ground, Gerlinger, Thursday, January 17. Fighting hard and holding their own, the Thetas were finally defeated by Susan Campbell, the game ending with the score 18 to 5.

On Monday, January 21, Sigma Kappa trounced the Rebels in a fast and furious game in which Sigma Kappa, leading most of the way, emerged the victors to the tune of 25 to 14. Jackie Bogan and Bernice Reese were high point players for the Sigma Kappa team.

Tilts Postponed

Two of the originally scheduled games were postponed and will be played at some future date. They are: Delta Delta Delta—Hilyard house and Delta Gamma—Judson house.

Barbara Wells of Sigma Kappa is the head of this year's W. A. A. basketball.

Come on, girls, don't let the men beat you in contributions to the "March of Dimes" campaign.

Around The Clock With Duke

By DUKE DENNISON

According to the N. B. A., and they are the top fistic council recognized, Willie Pep, the Hartford, Conn., feather has been acclaimed the fighter of the year.

Reasons are many from various and sundry sources why Pep shouldn't be accorded such recognition, but the N. B. A. says he is, and that's where it ends. According to some of the other off-color decisions made by this association is the keeping open of the various crowns for pseudo champs, who have forsaken the fistic world involuntarily, to take up the battle as P. T. instructors, and thereby serve their claim and win added acclaim, if possible.

Army and Navy Vet

Pep has been in the army and the navy, having enlisted in the navy at the outset of the war. He has been discharged for certain questionable ailments, and then drafted by the army, served time, and discharged again, for a similar recurrence of the previous malady.

In between these military efforts, he has been fighting all challengers in his class, and has

(Please turn to page six)