ASSEMBLY SPEAKERS

Drafters of Constitution On Program

Ed Allen, who last year was elected president of the University student body on his platform of ASUO governmental reform comprising a program of student representation in a heretofore untried University Congress, will open today's assembly at 11 a.m. in McArthur court.

The purpose of the assembly is to answer inquiries of many students and faculty members as to the actual workings of the new plan of student government as outlined in the revised ASUO constitution published in Tuesday's Emerald.

Over 30 letters from students protesting the present revision of the ASUO constitution chiefly on the grounds of insufficient power invested in the student government were received by Emerald Editor Louise Montag Wednesday.

Examples of these letters appear today on the editorial page.

Open Discussion

Discussion between the audience and members of the committee which drafted the constitution will follow brief explanations of the most debated provisions of the new set-up.

The system of representation proposed in the new plan of the University Congress will be explained by Jack Craig, ASUO vice-president. Craig will show that the present system of class representation on the ASUO executive council is inadequate and that representation according to living organization and specific groups is a more fair and democratic governmental form.

Issues Explained

Marguerite Wittwer, Emerald managing editor, will briefly outline the organization of the Congress as a legislative body.

The duties of ASUO officers will be defined by Anita Young, senior representative on the executive council. (Please turn to page eight)

Dads' Day Luncheon Scheduled, Committee Announces Program

"Eddie" Sammons To Be Guest Speaker; Students To Sing Songs From Operas

The annual Dads' day luncheon, one of the first of the weekend's functions, will be held Saturday noon at the Eugene hotel. Dads, any mothers who come, and sons and daughters are invited to attend.

Gene Vandeneinde, president of the Oregon Dads' association, will preside at the luncheon. Guest speaker for the occasion will be E. C. (Eddie) Sammons, president of the United States National bank in Portland, who will speak on "Where Do We Go From Here?"

Extend Greetings

Greetings from the University and from the students will be extended to the dads by President Harry K. Newburn and ASUO President Ed Allen. Short speeches will be given by a representative from the state board of higher education and Mrs. R. R. Huestis, Oregon Mothers' club president. Rev. George Swift, Salem, will deliver the invocation.

Entertainment planned for the guests will include Iris Duva, business administration senior, who will sing "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from "Samson and Delilah," and James McMullen, singing "The Drinking Song from 'Hamlet.'" Sylvia Killman, sophomore in music, will accompany both singers.

Tickets on Sale

Luncheon tickets are being sold by Mrs. Patricia Cramer in Dean Karl Onthank's office until time for the luncheon. She reports that they are selling "like hotcakes," and less than half the original 400 are left. The tickets sell for one dollar each.

Transportation for the dads arriving on the 11:55 train from Portland will be provided by the transportation committee, headed by Bob Merrifield. Cars meeting the train will drive the dads directly to the luncheon. Afterwards the fathers will be transported to Johnson hall, where the business meeting will be held. Decorated with greetings to the dads, all cars used for this purpose will have been donated by the University students.

Snowball Due To Roll Tonight

Big Rally Will Touch Off Busy Webfoot Weekend

With ear-splitting shouts, shrieks, and yells, students will swing into a busy week-end tonight as they stage an all-campus snowball noise rally in preparation for the Washington - Oregon basketball games here Friday and Saturday nights.

Three Sections

Divided into three sections, the rally squad will begin rolling three separate snowballs, one from Delta Delta Delta, another from Beta Theta Pi, and the third from Sigma Kappa, picking up students as they go, and finally converging on the University street side of McArthur court. Here Dick Savinar,

Girls Lead Dimes Drive; Campaign Closes Today

As the March of Dimes drive goes into the final day, campus chairmen are still "diggin' for Duck dimes" in an attempt to hit the University goal of $1800. According to reports turned in, the women's organizations are now leading the men's in contributions by the wide margin of $236.29 to $43.53.

The individual reports from the men's organizations are Alpha Tau Omega, $13.35; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, $12, Phi Delta Theta, $5.94; Chi Psi, $5.24; and Delta Upsilon, $7.

Men Still Hope

This is not a comprehensive report, according to chairmen Jim Ellison, Charlie Reynolds, and Sam Benveniste, and they announce that they are still hopeful of raising the total contributions of the campus men.

The standing of the women's organizations and their respective chairmen are Highland house, Jean Young, $4; Rebec house, Vivian Miller, $2.29; University house, Lorena Lewis, $8.30; Judson house, Billie McCartney, $23; Orides, Colleen Mariott, $7.50; Alpha Gamma Delta, Beverly Miller, $15; Alpha Omicron Pi, Jeanne Rideout, $17.60; Chi Omega, Ann Bartlett, $9.50; Delta Gamma, Jeanne Herndon, $11.65; Delta Zeta, Sharon Willits, $9.40; Kappa Alpha Theta, Janet Davis, $16; Pi Beta Phi, Beverly Pitman, $48; Sigma Kappa, Pat Mathieson, $15; Alpha Phi, Joyce Strickland, $22; Delta Delta Delta, Audrey Kuhlberg, $8; Gamma Phi Beta, Diane Mead, $6.60; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Shirley Lukins, $12; and Zeta Tau Alpha, Helen Williams, $5.45.

Girls' chairmen Helyn Wohler, Mary Lewis, Dorothy Davies, and Colleen Mariott consider these totals and indication of their ultimate win.

Still Short

The reports that have been recorded show that over $1520 must be raised before the goal is reached. It is estimated that a contribution of 70c per person would be sufficient to complete the quota.

The representatives in each house are reminded to bring the contributions to the cabinet room of the YMCA, Friday, between 1 and 2, when Lionel Domreis will issue receipts and collect funds.

Chi O's, A D Pi's Win Coed Contest

Chi Omega and Alpha Delta Pi sororities tied for first place in the Coed Capers contest of living organizations to first reach 100 per cent in ticket sales. Other houses reaching their quotas were: Sigma Kappa, Alpha Omicron Pi, Gerlinger Girls, Zeta Tau Alpha; Kappa Kappa Gamma and Susan Campbell Hall. This is the first time on record that a woman's living organization as large as Susan Campbell housing 123 women has ever gone 100 per cent.

There are still several living organizations that have not picked up their Capers tickets, and they are asked to contact Bjorg Hansen at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house as soon as possible.

Any representative of a living organization to reach 100 per cent is to be given a free ticket to the capers.
