

KKK Sponsors Plan Unique Hop

Date's Hair to Decide Price of Dance Tickets

McArthur court will be transformed into the proper setting for the Krazy Kopy Krawl Saturday night by the ingenious paint brushes of members of the two advertising honoraries, Gamma Alpha Chi, and Alpha Delta Sigma.

Hammers and paint brushes, manned by the ad honorary members, were at work this week preparing decorations for the event, which promises to be one of the most unusual all-campus dances to be presented this year.

Phil Dana, co-chairman of the Krazy Kopy Krawl, promises originality in the decorations, which will follow the same pattern as those traditionally used for ad honorary dances.

Ted Hallock's orchestra will be featured and short-silks are in order for the women.

Tickets for red-heads will only be $1.18. Blondes will cost $1.27. Brunettes are high-priced dates; tickets for the dark-haired coeds costing $1.34.

Skiers Buy Tickets

There will be no meeting of the University Ski club tonight, but all members who plan to make the Sunday trip to Hoodoo Bowl this weekend may purchase their tickets tonight at 207 Chapman hall between the hours of 7 and 7:30. The bus will leave on the two hour trip Sunday morning at 6 a.m. and will arrive back on the campus at 8.30 p.m., the same day. Snow conditions are reported as excellent in the Cascade mountain range resort, with a fall of 129 inches.

Orides Initiates Listed

The following University women were initiated into Orides, Independent organization for students living off-campus, recently: Olive Lewis, Mary Eva Hammers, Ruth Wahlgren, Marcelle Mathews, Geraldine Reese, Jessie Becher, Donna Sutton, and Jean Wyckoff.

Their names were omitted from a previous list published in the Emerald.

OSC-Wash. Game Flash

The Beavers from Oregon State downed the University of Washington basketball team 53 to 37 with a powerful scoring attack that left the visitors in a far from challenging role. This win places the Staters in a tie for first place honors in the northern division race with the quintet from Idaho.

Item in an Oregon newspaper: "Five men attending Oregon State College and a man enrolled at the University of Oregon were injured when their car overturned yesterday."

Comment at Eugene: Gee, that's a tough break. Do you think he'll recover?

Jam for Breakfast

Armitage Blurbs

We have received a bit of paper published by Van Armitage, who leads (and evidently moralizes for) a twelve-piece orchestra in the City of Portland, Oregon. The sheet is written as a publicity blurb, evidently by the leader, who must have just emerged from an Underground Balloon squadron or Gresham Elementary school. Designed to be given all prospective buyers, it lists the more enticing qualities of these twelve angel-musicians as: (1) No drinking at any time (excepting those times when home in bed, we imagine); (2) no smoking (this section was heavily censored by Readers' Digest Eds); (3) no passes; (4) no intermission; (5) all ork members in "neat and clean" uniforms (ya, ya, I can just see them standing around like a bunch of Okies in yeller shoes and dirty gaiters); (5) no "sitting in." There are more, but I haven't the heart, really.

The "Contracts" section says: "Yes, we must have a written contract—the reason is a simple one (and get this). Since we make this our living—it is necessary for the sponsor to be sure of his orchestra, etc." In other words, we believe in you, Mary; just wiggle that little finger onct and watch them holes make the splinters fly in this hyar table. The music is probably wonderful anyway.

Notes on Record

Brahms' Melodies

For a genuine thrill, hear the Toscanini interpretation of Brahms' most ingratiating melodies. Toscanini's energetic orchestral climaxes and colorful effects are most enjoyable in this five-record album.

Two old favorites are aired by Mischa Elman in a single—"Cavatina" by Raff, and Schubert's "Serenade." Master of the violinistic technique, Elman brings new enjoyment to these oft-played numbers. Raymond Bauman is at the piano.

Prof: Now that you've had six weeks of Ancient History, name two ancient sports.

Student: That's an easy one—Anthony and Cleopatra.

"For an ex-Marine, Gertrude, I must say your new boyfriend is very shy."

"Well, he belongs to the Reserves."

Then there was the dentist's daughter who ran around with the worst set in town.

King to Be Chosen For Valentine Hop

Songs using the word "Heart" in their titles will be the theme of the traditional Heart Hop, sponsored annually by the YWCA on Valentine's day.

The students will rotate from house to house of the four women's living organizations selected—Alpha Chi Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta.

The climax of the affair will be the crowning of the "King of Hearts," elected from representatives sponsored by men's living organizations on the campus. The finalist selection for this event will be held on Thursday at 4 p.m., and the judges will be past women honored in selections on the campus—to be formally announced tomorrow.

The following candidates have been announced so far: Phi Delta Theta, Marvin Rasmussen; Beta Theta Pi, Jack "Ty" Monroe; Alpha Tau Omega, Frank Bocci; Chi Psi, Terry Metcalf; Phi Gamma Delta, B. G. Cox; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Don Kay; Delta Upsilon, Milt Sparks; Kappa Sigma, Bob Prowell; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Bob Wallace; Sigma Chi, Johnny O'Brien; Delta Tau Delta, Lambert Reed; and Sherry Ross hall, Vic Selman.

Tickets for the Heart Hop will be on sale Thursday, February 7. All living organizations who have not yet turned in their candidate's name and picture are urged to do so immediately, to Joan Williams, Delta Gamma, or Diane Mead, Gamma Phi Beta.

Visiting Dads Honored At Informal Parties

Open house after the basketball game Saturday night and on Sunday afternoon was held for dads at many of the houses on the campus. Refreshments were served, and many houses featured group singing.

Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Delta Delta, and Delta Gamma also planned skits for the dads. The idiosyncrasies of the members' dads were dramatized in the Delta Gamma skit.

Ping pong, pinochle, and dancing were planned by the girls of Alpha Gamma Delta and Delta Zeta.

Dads were also guests for Sunday dinner at most of the houses.

A picture of Dean Theodore Kratt of the University school of music appears in a recent issue of the magazine Musical America, the Register-Guard said last night.

Dean Kratt is pictured with other members of the faculty of the army university at Shrivenham, England, where he had been teaching since last summer.

The accompanying article states that Dean Kratt taught history and appreciation of music at the English university and describes his organization of a symphony orchestra.

Dr. Beck Visits Campus On Leave From Navy

Dr. Lester F. Beck, former associate professor of psychology, arrived here Saturday to spend a week of furlough before going to the 13th Naval District in Seattle. He will be eligible for discharge March 1 and expects to return before the end of winter term. It is expected that he will resume work spring term.
