

Vespers Feature Dr. Paul Means

Guest speaker at the YWCA vesper service Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be Dr. Paul B. Means, head of the University department of religion.

Recently discharged from the navy, Dr. Means has had experience in Malaya and the Dutch East Indies with the World Student Christian federation, which is sponsoring this world-wide celebration day of prayer throughout some forty-five countries.

Also on the program will be some numbers. Shirley Multhaupt, chairman of the worship committee is in charge of the service, to be held in the YWCA house.

Susan Campbell Fetes Hendricks Hall Women

With Washington's birthday as their theme, members of Susan Campbell hall entertained Hendricks hall women at "Susy's" weekly afternoon tea yesterday at 4 o'clock. Previous teas have been in honor of Coeds from Alpha and Gamma halls, and from Gerlinger.

Pouring were Miss Estelle Armitage, Hendricks' house mother, and Miss Fannie McCamant, Susan Campbell's house mother. Girls assisting with the serving were Beverly James, Charline Bales, Joyce Nidermeyer, Maxine Sinden, Lois Hill, Beverly Crake, and Charlotte Nidermeyer. Background music was furnished by Barbara Hood.

CHORAL UNION

Marine Albert Dunn, freshman in music, will sing the baritone solo from "Drum Taps." The tenor solo from "The Farmer's Son" will be sung by navy veteran Robert Wardwell, freshman in liberal arts. James McMullen, freshman in music, and a veteran of the army signal corps, is also scheduled as a soloist.

The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. The public is invited and no admission will be charged.

Coeds to Leave Dorm; Men Take Over Gamma

The "girls of Gamma hall" will pass out of existence at the end of this term, according to Mrs. Genevieve Tunriple, director of dormitories. Men will return to the hall spring term, leaving Alpha the only part of John Straub still inhabited by women.

As was planned at the end of last term, the "Gamma girls" will move to Gerlinger, which has housing facilities for 36. Those now living at Gerlinger will live in Susan Campbell and Hendricks halls.

K. FALLS SCHOOL

administration: I think it's a good idea if there is no room at state institutions of higher education. The state legislature or principals in charge should do something to alleviate the circumstances as they stand today.

Tommy Wright, sophomore in journalism: I am absolutely against it. I think it is very foolish to spend money on building up a school at Klamath Falls which will not measure up to Oregon standards. It would be much more sensible to spend the money which they would have to put out on improving facilities at Oregon State college and the University of Oregon.

Bill Anderson, freshman in business administration: That is no good from the word go—in my estimation. Rather than incorporate an old marine barracks why don't they get priorities for buildings here?

Hallock's Band To Play at Glee

Frosh Pick 'Temptation' For Decoration Theme

Ted Hallock and his orchestra will play at the Frosh Glee next Saturday night from 9 to 12 o'clock at McArthur court when the class of '49 presents its first social function, an all-campus dance.

In keeping with the mysterious note of the theme, "Temptation," the decoration committee, headed by co-chairmen Kinnaird Gregg and Prudy McCroskey, has announced that how the Igloo will be transformed into a den of temptations will remain a secret until Saturday night.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday at the Co-op and Side. The price is $1.20.

Trudie Chernis, general chairman, in announcing the return of the dance to McArthur court stated, "The executive officers of the freshman class felt that the Frosh Glee should be returned to a pre-war scale, and the committee is working toward a goal of 700 couples."

eral arts: It's a good deal. Klamath Falls is a nice town.

Ted Pilit, graduate student in interior design: Something has to be done to relieve the housing shortage for all universities and colleges throughout the country. Whether the answer is in new schools and junior colleges until students can attend regular or well-established universities at which time housing facilities should be somewhat stable, is the question. Until then, I suppose such temporary arrangements will have to be made.

Bob Wallace, sophomore in journalism: If they can't get in here it would be better than not going to college at all.

Bill Barnum, freshman pre-med: It sounds like a pretty good idea. If they want to go to school that will have to do.

Bill Pickens, freshman in physical education: I think it is a good idea, providing they have adequate educational facilities.

Ralph Powers, freshman pre-med: Considering everything it would be all right. It would be a question of whether people wanted to go to Klamath Falls—I wouldn't.

Bill Cooley, freshman in architecture: If I wanted to come to college and there wasn't room here, I'd think it was a good idea.

STUDENTS FROM

During the war, Vandermeersche ran a courier line by foot over the Pyrenees mountains from France to Spain. He was taken prisoner by the Gestapo in May, 1943, and sentenced to death the following year. The sentence was delayed and he was rescued by American troops in April, 1945.

At the morning meeting the representatives will take part in panel discussions, comparing university life in various parts of the world. The afternoon discussions will deal with exchange scholarships. Closing the festival will be an afternoon tea, with the foreign guests appearing in their national costumes. A special program will be presented.

Long List
Invitations to foreign students, leaders in student Christian associations, and advisers, have been sent to Reed college, Pacific university, Oregon College of Education, Lewis and Clark college, Linfield college, Willamette university, and Oregon State college. More than 20 foreign students from the Oregon campus will also attend.

Co-chairman of the festival are Bjorg Hansen and Fred Goodspeed. Assisting them will be Rex Gunn, publicity; Dale Frederick, invitations; Kay Schneider and Virginia Parr, entertainment; Robbiebur Warrens and Anne Woodworth, luncheon; Dedo Misley and Colleen Mariott, displays; Marian Fong and Alice Robertson, tea; and Virginia Tomkins, decorations.

National Asks

The festival is being held in response to a request from the national student division of the YMCA and YWCA that the regional council delegate three schools to sponsor such an event.

A similar festival, instituted in New York last spring by the American committee on friendly relations among foreign students, was deemed a tremendous success.
