

Picture To Show Gorky's Moscow

Of special interest to French students is the feature "Les Bas-Fonds" (The Lower Depths) to be offered in 207 Chapman hall Wednesday evening by the Educational Activities Board. The characters and theme of Gorky's famous play have been transposed into a brilliant film of our times by Jean Renoir. This is a story of the complex life of the beaten and frustrated peoples of nineteenth-century Moscow.

Vladimir Sokoloff plays the part of the bestial landlord, and his half-tamed beasts include Jean Gabin as a thief, Louis Jouvet as a fallen aristocrat, and Suzy Prim, who knows what she wants.

The film will be shown from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in two continuous showings Wednesday night in 207 Chapman hall. Students, faculty members, and townspeople are invited to attend.

Cat-astrophe Hits Jermain

There was no joy in the Jermain household this weekend.

Gloom descended Sunday when "The Fellas," handsomest, personality-plus, much-spoiled, superlative feline of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jermain, was carried to a local small-animal hospital with a raging fever of 107.6, after having displayed increasing feebleness and diminishing interest in the world about him for the preceding three days.

At the hospital he was pronounced "a very sick cat," and the ailment was diagnosed as cat distemper. Attendants took no stock in a suggestion that "The Fellas" suffered from injured dignity resulting from a tumble Thursday into the fishpond in the J. H. Gilbert backyard.

Meanwhile his various absorbing projects, such as window-watching, battling with the formidable "Oscar," resident of the same building, and 18-hour daily custody of the various feline athletic grounds of the surrounding Alder street area, were in a condition of non-direction for lack of a prime mover. Even the one remaining (of three) catnip mouse was lonesome.

Some indication of the character cat's chances for recovery was expected late Tuesday or early Wednesday.

Veteran's Center Lists Bill Changes

Amendments of the G. I. Bill of Rights affecting veterans have been listed by Emmett F. McGraw, chief of the University Veterans Administration Guidance center.

Eligibility requirements for education or training benefits under title II, public law No. 346 remain in effect with the following exceptions:

1. Interruption of education and age at time of entrance into active service are no longer factors.

2. It is no longer necessary to identify refresher or retraining courses.

3. It is not essential that part time courses be continuous.

4. Entitlement is for a period consisting of one year plus the period of active service, not to exceed a total of four years. Courses in education or training are to be initiated not later than four years after date of discharge or termination of the war, whichever is later, and no course may be afforded beyond nine years after the termination of the war.

5. A person while on terminal leave or a person hospitalized pending final discharge may be afforded education or training (except that no subsistence allowance shall be paid in such case).

6. Eligibility may be established in the case of any person who served in the active military or naval service of any government allied with the United States in World War II.

7. This legislation provides for a short intensive post graduate course of less than 30 weeks.

8. This legislation provides for correspondence course to eligible persons.

Test Drilling To Aid Science Building Plans

Preliminary work has begun on a new science building at 14th avenue and Kincaid street in the form of test excavations to determine the position of the bedrock, according to D. L. Lewis, superintendent of the physical plant. The information secured from these tests will aid the architects in planning the foundation for the new structure.

The building plans are still with the architects in Portland, Lewis reported.

YWCA Coffee Hour, Duck Pond Cancelled

The YWCA announces that the regular Coffee Hour, held from 4 to 5 on Friday afternoons, and the Friday evening Duck Pond will be cancelled this week. This is because of the International Conference "Students in One World," to be held on Saturday.

The candidates for elections to be held from 11 to 1 on Thursday will be announced at the Activators Cabinet meeting, Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Dean Onthank Meets Conference Planners

Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration, attended a committee meeting to arrange for the Northwest Regional conference of various guidance and personnel associations in Portland, Saturday, February 16.

At this meeting the committeemen decided that the conference will be held on April 17 and 18 and certain speakers were recommended. These speakers will be announced later.

Chairman Announces Committees for "Y" Tea

Committees for the week's tea and coffee hour held each Friday at 4 p.m. at the YWCA bungalow have been announced as follows: Krug, Geneva Davis, and Betty hostesses, Virginia Avery, Barbara Newman, and Florence Chivington; refreshments, Ruth Allen, Pat Jean McCurry; cleanup, Joy Ham, Ann Bartlett, Carolyn Jenks, and Shirley Minea; and invitations, Joan Campbell.

All students and faculty members are urged to attend, according to chairman Dedo Misley.

Wait Necessary

Three or four months will be required to transfer and complete the facilities, which are fully equipped, so as to be ready for occupancy, Dr. Byrne said. Seattle officials also gave definite assurance of additional apartment units for each campus. These will be allotted as soon as the present Meade Resolution quotas have been filled.

Meanwhile Governor Earl Snell said Saturday that the board of higher education will consider today the Klamath Falls marine barracks as an extension school for accommodation of returning veterans.

GOOD NEWS

for young women who want to be

UNITED AIR LINES STEWARDESSES

New qualifications—new planes—more flights—increased opportunities

You are a person to be envied when you are a United Air Lines Stewardess. You fly in the finest planes. You wear a smart, attractive uniform. Your work is pleasant and appreciated. You travel over interesting routes. Your schedule calls for only 85 hours in the air per month. You are stationed in such cities as San Francisco, Denver, or Portland.

From now on more young women can become United Air Lines Stewardesses. Applicants can now be 5' 7" tall instead of 5' 6". The minimum height is 5' 2". Young women are now accepted with one year of college and one year of business experience, or two years of college. Registered nurses are eligible without college training. Other requirements are: age 21 to 26; weight—135 pounds or less; unmarried; good health and vision; United States citizen. A new booklet—"How to become a Mainliner Stewardess" is now available.

Successful applicants will be given 4 weeks training at full pay. New classes are being organized now. Apply today, or write
