

Women Induct Three Pledges

Coed Journalists Join Professional Honorary

Anita Young, Winifred Romtvedt, and Marguerite Wittwer, journalism students, were initiated into Theta Sigma Phi, national professional women's journalism fraternity February 24 at the home of Mrs. George Turnbull, adviser of the group.

The honorary is for junior and senior women. Members include Mary Margaret Ellsworth, president, Lois Evans, Margaret McGee, Louise Montag, Jean Laurence Yoder, and Ruth Dozier O'Donnell.

Matrix Table

An outstanding event of spring term is Matrix Table, sponsored by the organization.

In former years two women from each living organization, on or off campus, who were outstanding in art, journalism, English or music were invited to attend the Matrix table formal banquet.

Form Changes

According to Miss Ellsworth, this procedure is to be changed. The deans of the four schools and the members of Theta Sigma Phi will select a group of women who are eligible to attend the gathering.

Guest speakers and women in the state who are outstanding in one of the above-mentioned fields will be invited. Usually more than 100 women outside of the school attend, Miss Ellsworth stated.

Poison Oak Scratches So Goodspeed Relaxes

If the freshman class is looking for its president, Fred Goodspeed, he can be found in the ever familiar campus rest camp. Goodspeed has a beautiful case of "poison oak," which he says he got on a hike Saturday morning. The symptoms apparently did not come out until Sunday, when the poison oak showed itself on his arms and face.

Carolyn Romtvedt, with her broken ankle done up in a plaster of paris cast, will return to classes Wednesday. Suzanne Imrie is back in the infirmary again. The total registration is 11, including Norma McKeegan, Elizabeth Brinton, Jeanne Emmons, Ruth Lee Robertson, Tom Haseltine, Jack Casey, Ronald Reed, and Carl Plant.

Veterans Meet Today

All veterans on the campus are asked to meet Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Alumni hall, Gerlinger.

Odeon Leaders to Meet

There will be an Odeon meeting Thursday, February 28, at 4 in 104 Journalism. All committee chairmen who have not been contacted are requested to attend the meeting as the program for the stage performance will be drawn up.

Spring To Reign At Yeoman Dance

"Spring Fever" will roll into Gerlinger gym Saturday night at 9 p.m., when the Yeomen stage their all-campus dance with the music of Skip Youman and his orchestra. At least a reasonable facsimile of Spring Fever will be present with decorations and cartoons by Russell Sabin, which will bring out the lyrics of the song "It Might as Well Be Spring," taken from the picture "State Fair."

The "Spring Fling" will be a sport dance with suits and sport coats for the men, and short "Spring" silks for the girls. Tickets for the dance, $1.20 a couple, will be on sale at the Co-op at the end of this week.

Refreshments will be on hand for those hardy souls who like soft drinks. A surprise is on hand for all those who attend next Saturday, March 2. Details will remain a secret until that time.

Applications Available For State Scholarships

Students now registered in the University may file application for one of the state fee scholarships for the 1946-47 academic year if their accumulative GPA is 2.50 or above. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic record and financial need.

Application blanks may be secured from the president's office in Johnson hall and must be returned not later than April 1.

Yeomen to Hear Talk

Yeomen and unaffiliated male students will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the faculty room of Friendly hall to hear Dr. Harold Bernard, instructor in education, speak on the current Love and Marriage series.

IDAHO TOPPLES

Wilkins Leads Locals

Dick Wilkins pulled a one-man stunt as he tossed 25 points for the Ducks, most on long shots. Wilkins showered the bucket in the second half by scoring six consecutive long shots in four minutes to cut the wide Cougar lead to 50 to 39.

Then the Cougars took over the attack and with Bishop scoring every other tally, forged the winning combination. Two looping long shots from near the center of the court by Dick Wilkins in the final minutes proved of no avail.

The box score:

A DUCK SEZ

(Continued from page four) that almost would have been a score if he'd just taken time to pick it up off the court when he was tossed unglamorously through the basket.

And for a few personal "nos and yess" about Boss Beckwith—he is also a journalism major and unfortunately this will be his last year at Oregon, as he is graduating. The Emerald was his "baby" before he went into service. He was a "Swab-Jockey" (the navy to you!). I'd better add also that Boss Turnbull was a "Gyrene Letterhead." (Naturally, that means marine!) Since the boys have been back in civilian life the morale of both the navy and marines has dropped two percent. It's a fact—the fellows miss their old standbys.

Have you ever turned on your radio and been almost scared to death by a weird laugh and a throaty chuckle? You have? Ten to one that was the program which starred both Leonard and Beckwith, the campus "voo-doo" champs. Just thought I'd thought I'd give out that information so the Shadow wouldn't be getting all the praise! Seriously, though, both boys have done a great deal on the Campus Highlight Radio Show which is broadcasted by the students, for the students, every two weeks.

If they so wished, both boys could have quite a future in the broadcasting world, but Fate has it that Beckwith is going to end up a circus owner, while Friend Bull is going to invest in a home for the aged. Really though, that seems a waste of time and money because at present he is only twenty-three years old. However, he once made the statement, (though I must be truthful and confess it

Fib Then Scat

With that last lie I'll close this column for today, begging my bosses' pardon, and asking anyone that has a helicopter to help me make my getaway when they should happen to read this feature about themselves.

In conclusion, in case I've omitted it before this point, both Leonard and Fred are strictly "4-0," and for the entire Emerald staff let me say "Goodluck boys, in all you do." The Emerald Sports Staff is so-o-o-o-o-o proud of you!
